The BYU-Hawaii Online Catalog (catalog.byuh.edu) reflects current academic policies, procedures, degree offerings, course descriptions, and other information pertinent to undergraduate study. This digital version of the catalog is now the official catalog of the University. The printed catalog is no longer the official catalog of the University, and in the case of any difference between the printed catalog and the online catalog, university officials will be guided by the online catalog.

Once a particular set of requirements for a major, minor, or certificate are no longer active then students may no longer declare that option. If majors, minors, or certificates are discontinued, or if changes in the requirements are made, the university will endeavor to allow students who have declared a major to finish their degree with the previous set of requirements by providing options for substitution.

Students who leave the University for any term other than summer should refer to the online Catalog for information regarding University and general education requirements when they return. Students should refer to the online Catalog and relevant Major Requirement Sheet that is current at the time they declare their major for information regarding their major requirements. In all cases the University reserves the right to make necessary changes in policies, curriculum, graduation requirements, individual courses, instructors, tuition, fees, and calendars contained in its catalog at any time without prior written notice.

Semester System

Courses of study at BYU-Hawaii are offered, and credit for satisfactory completion is granted, on a semester basis. The calendar starts in September and goes through June. It features 15-week fall and winter semesters (full-time is 12 credits) and a compressed 9-week spring semester in which students will take 8 credits to be full-time. With the 2017 academic calendar model, students will be on a four-year graduation plan.
Overview of BYU-Hawaii
A Message from the President

Aloha! Welcome to Brigham Young University–Hawaii. BYU–Hawaii was founded by a prophet of God, President David O. McKay. He envisioned a college of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Laie that would prepare students from around the world to become learners, leaders, and builders. He foresaw students who would “study and treasure the things of education in all fields” as deeply engaged learners. They would be leaders of high moral character—“genuine gold”—“not only on this island but everywhere.” And they would be builders “whose influence will be felt for good toward the establishment of peace internationally.” I invite you to embrace this prophetic vision.

President McKay deliberately located BYU–Hawaii next to an historic temple of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. To take full advantage of your educational opportunities here, it will be necessary for you to keep your covenants as well as your promise to live the Honor Code. You will find faculty and staff here dedicated to helping you learn “by study and by faith.” You will also interact daily with people from many countries in “a living laboratory in which individuals who share the teachings of the Master Teacher have an opportunity to develop appreciation, tolerance, and esteem for one another” (Marion G. Romney, 1973).

This is your holokai, your educational journey. It is your chance to sail in the direction of your dreams. If you strive with all your might to fulfill your dreams and the dreams of prophets for you, in time you will discover the truth of what the American writer Henry David Thoreau said:

“I learned this . . . that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours.”

Aloha,

John S. Tanner

Aloha and Welcome

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY–HAWAII is the preeminent international center of learning in the Pacific. Its small campus is a unique laboratory of intercultural leadership development, where a diverse population of 3,000 students representing over 70 countries live, study, and work together. Small classes taught by expert faculty empower students to master challenging and relevant curriculum, while affordable tuition, financial aid, and online study options make this valuable education more accessible than ever. Operated by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, a total BYU–Hawaii education involves not only intellectual learning and career preparation, but also moral, ethical, and spiritual enrichment. All the while, students enjoy living and learning in one of the most beautiful places on earth. Graduates go forth to serve, prepared to promote peace and prosperity as leaders worldwide.

BYU–Hawaii Mission and Vision

Mission

The mission of Brigham Young University–Hawaii is to integrate both spiritual and secular learning, and to prepare students with character and integrity who can provide leadership in their families, their communities, their chosen fields, and in building the kingdom of God.

Learn - Integrate spiritual and secular learning to provide a foundation for a lifetime of learning.

Lead - Assist young men and young women in developing character and integrity so they can provide leadership in all aspects of their lives.

Build - Provide a significant group of faithful and committed church leaders who will assist in building the kingdom, particularly in the Pacific and Asia.

Vision

Brigham Young University–Hawaii, founded by prophets and operated by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, exists to assist individuals in their quest for perfection and eternal life and in their efforts to influence the establishment of peace internationally.

We seek to accomplish this by:

1. Educating the minds and spirits of students within an intercultural, gospel-centered environment and curriculum that increases faith in God and the restored gospel, is intellectually enlarging, is character building, and leads to a life of learning and service.
2. Preparing men and women with the intercultural and leadership skills necessary to promote world peace and international brotherhood, to address world problems, and to be a righteous influence in families, professions, civic responsibilities, social affiliations, and in the Church.
3. Extending the blessings of learning to members of the Church, particularly in Asia and the Pacific.
4. Developing friends for the university and the Church.
5. Maintaining a commitment to operational efficiency and continuous improvement.
Institutional Learning Outcomes
A set of institutional learning outcomes was developed to assess acquisition of the necessary academic characteristics necessary to fulfill this mission and vision. Accordingly, a BYU–Hawaii graduate’s preparation for a lifetime of service is demonstrated by:

- Breadth and depth of knowledge
- The thinking skills and character of a servant-leader, which are the
- Ability to
  - Inquire
  - Analyze
  - Communicate
- Disposition to act with
  - Integrity
  - Stewardship
  - Service

University Accreditation
Brigham Young University—Hawaii was established as the Church College of Hawaii in 1955. An accreditation visit from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) resulted in the Church College of Hawaii obtaining full accreditation as a two-year college in October 1959 and then full accreditation as a four-year institution in February 1961. Further reaccreditations were received in January 1964, May 1968, and June 1972.

WASC is located at 985 Atlantic Avenue, Suite 100 Alameda, CA 94501 (phone: (510) 748-9001 or url: https://www.wscuc.org)

Historical Sketch
BYU–Hawaii’s unique history combines solid moral roots with legacies of academic excellence and multi-cultural harmony.

On July 2, 1954, David O. McKay, President of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, announced that the church would establish a college in Hawaii. This simple declaration marked the fulfillment of what the prophet had envisioned 33 years earlier while serving as an Apostle. He had witnessed a flag raising ceremony by children of the Church sponsored elementary school in La‘ie and foresaw an institution of higher learning in this small community. A decorative mosaic above the main entrance of the David O. McKay Building commemorates that historic occasion.

President McKay presided at a groundbreaking ceremony attended by more than 1,000 Church members and guests on February 12, 1955. That event marked the beginning of what is today Brigham Young University–Hawaii.

Dr. Reuben D. Law, the first president of the college, played a key role in selecting a suitable site for the campus and designing the curriculum. Under his leadership, in August 1955, the Church College of Hawaii opened its doors as a junior college with an enrollment of 153 students. Classes met in temporary war surplus buildings and in the La‘ie Ward Chapel near the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Temple. At the opening assembly on September 26, 1955, President Law shared with the faculty and students a special message and charge from President McKay. The following two guiding principles in that charge have provided the basis upon which the university has developed:

“Always bear in mind these two things as you proceed with this college: First, the students must be imbued with the fact and be led to feel that the most important thing in the world is the Gospel (of Jesus Christ) and that the observance of its principles in their lives brings happiness and joy in this life and further progress and exaltation in the life hereafter; and, secondly, the college must be fully creditable in all its instruction and activities.”

Dr. Law served as President until 1959. During his tenure the first commencement ceremonies were conducted in June, 1956, with 10 students receiving associate degrees. Permanent facilities of the present campus were built by Church labor missionaries called from the Pacific area, under the leadership of Joseph E. Wilson and supervisors from the U.S. mainland. President McKay dedicated the new facilities on December 17, 1958.

Dr. Richard T. Wootton, a member of the original faculty and acting president for the 1958-59 school year, was appointed as the second president of the college in 1959. He was instrumental in getting the school accredited as a four-year liberal arts and teacher training institution on February 23, 1961. Beginning in 1962, a fifth year in education was added to qualify students for the State of Hawaii Professional Certificate in Education.

Dr. Owen J. Cook, executive secretary of the Church’s Pacific Board of Education, assumed leadership of the university when Dr. Wootton left in 1964 and was officially named president on August 1, 1965. President Cook increased enrollment to more than 1,200 students representing every major island group in the Pacific and many Asian-rim countries. He also initiated a work/study sponsorship program in cooperation with the Polynesian Cultural Center to help Pacific and Asian students finance their education.

Dr. Stephen L. Brower, a former professor of sociology at Utah State University, succeeded Dr. Cook as president in July 1971. Less than two years later, the student Aloha Center was completed and dedicated by President Marion G. Romney, a counselor in the Church’s First Presidency. Also under President Cook’s leadership, the school’s mission statement and goals were more clearly defined and formalized. This led to significant changes in the curriculum and an announcement by the Church Board of Education on April 13, 1974, that, beginning September 1, 1974, Church College of Hawaii would become Brigham Young University–Hawaii Campus.

Dr. Dan W. Andersen, Academic Vice President to President Brower, became the University’s first president under its new name. As president of BYU–Hawaii, President Anderson reported to Dallin H. Oaks, President of Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. President Andersen helped to refine changes initiated by President Brower. Several major buildings, including a campus library, were planned and completed under his direction. He placed strong emphasis on programs to prepare students for living and working in the Pacific and Asia. Under President Andersen’s leadership the University prepared for and, in 1976, received full ten-year accreditation by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

Dr. J. Elliot Cameron, Vice President for Student Life at Brigham Young University, became the sixth president of the Hawaii campus on August 1, 1980. President Cameron guided the University toward a dramatic facelift and beautification, including completion and dedication of the 4,500-seat Cannon Activities Center and the Lorenzo Snow Administration Building — both conceptualized during President Andersen’s tenure. In cooperation with the Polynesian Cultural Center, the university also extended its outreach to China by establishing internships and a faculty exchange relationship with Jilin University.

Dr. Alton L. Wade became president on May 8, 1986, after J. Elliot Cameron’s appointment as Commissioner of Education for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. During President Wade’s administration, the academic program was reorganized into the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business, and the School of Education. Some majors were discontinued or modified, and new majors were introduced in special education, psychology, and computer science. Many campus facilities were renovated. A new 24-office faculty building was also added to the campus in 1994. President Wade left BYU–Hawaii in 1994 to become the Vice President of Student Life at Brigham Young University.

Dr. Eric B. Shumway, Vice President for Academics to Presidents Cameron and Wade, became the eighth president of BYU–Hawaii on November 18, 1994. President Shumway is a Professor of English and was a member of the BYU–Hawaii faculty since 1966. From 1986 to 1989, he served as President of the Tongan Mission for the Church. President Shumway’s leadership was significant to the University. Under his direction, BYU–Hawaii launched the Jonathan Nāpela Center for Hawaiian Language and Cultural Studies in 1998 and the School of Computing in 2002. His leadership strengthened the School of Business and its Center for Entrepreneurship programs in Teaching English as a Second Language and English as an International Language; and other academic efforts. He also established formal programs that helped students return to their home countries and make a difference in their careers, communities, the Church and their families. Perhaps most importantly, he helped the University strengthen its harmonious multicultural learning environment as the percentage of international students increased to almost one-half, one of the highest in the United States. President and Sister Shumway were named as the President and Matron of the Nuku’alofa Tonga Temple upon his retirement in 2007 after serving at the University for over 40 years.

Dr. Steven C. Wheelwright, the Edsel Bryant Ford Professor of Business Administration, Emeritus at Harvard Business School, became the ninth president of Brigham Young University–Hawaii on June 23, 2007. He earned his MBA and Ph.D. degrees from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business, taught one year at the European Institute of Management in France, and then joined the business faculty at Harvard for the next nine years. He later taught for several more years at Stanford before returning to Harvard Business School where he served as the Senior Associate Dean responsible for the M.B.A. program. More recently, he interrupted his educational career to serve as president of the London England Mission from 2000-2003.

Returning to Harvard, Dr. Wheelwright was a Baker Foundation professor and senior associate dean and director of the school’s publication activities. He also oversaw major on-campus construction projects.

Upon his appointment at BYU–Hawaii, President Wheelwright commented, “We’re excited because we believe in the mission of BYU–Hawaii. BYU–Hawaii has as the center part of its mission the combining of an education in secular knowledge with an equally outstanding education in spiritual knowledge. This is an environment that I look forward very much to being a part of.”

BYU–Hawaii’s University Environment

BYU–Hawaii’s unique environment is divided into three different aspects: (1) Religious, (2) Student Services (academic and nonacademic), and (3) Cultural and Recreational. The services provided under each of these categories allow BYU–Hawaii to meet the needs of various students coming from the diverse areas of the world.

Religious Aspect

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints sponsors BYU–Hawaii to provide a university education in an atmosphere that nurtures spiritual growth and a strong testimony of the divinity of Jesus Christ. Church programs are closely correlated at all levels with the activities of the university, and students will find many opportunities to grow spiritually.

BYU–Hawaii Stakes and Wards – https://wards.byuh.edu

The BYU–Hawaii campus is divided into three stakes – two for single students and one for married students. These Stakes provide opportunities for students to learn and grow in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Devotionals and CES Firesides - https://devotional.byuh.edu

Every Tuesday morning at 11 AM, BYU–Hawaii students gather to listen and learn from General Authorities and other select speakers. These devotionals provide an opportunity for students to learn and grow spiritually. Various firesides are also held throughout each month on campus.

Religion Classes - https://catalog.byuh.edu/content/religious-education

As a part of their university studies, all students participate in at least 14 credit hours of religion courses offered on campus.

Student Services

Academic Advisement – https://advisors.byuh.edu/

BYU–Hawaii’s team of academic advisors provide assistance to students in setting and achieving both short and long term academic goals.
Career Services – CAF 180, (808) 675-3533 - https://career.byuh.edu/

Career Services helps students prepare for life after graduation. Services include career development, graduate school preparation, and employment search and placement assistance.

Center for Academic Success – JFS 134, (808) 675-4543

The Center for Academic Success aims to help all students who want to improve academically. The staff at the Center offer programs in areas such as time management, academic goal setting, and paper editing. A customized plan is developed by the staff for each student who comes to the Center. The staff also helps connect students to other areas of the campus which may best assist the student’s needs.

Counseling and Disability Services – MCK 181, (808) 675-3518 – https://counseling.byuh.edu

Counseling Services provide several services to help students to succeed. These services include Services for Special Need Student, licensed mental health professionals, and other services.

Dean of Students – ACR 159, (808) 675-4586 – https://deandofstudents.byuh.edu/

The Dean of Students supports and assists students in their successful journey at BYU-Hawaii. Students need guidance or mentoring in any capacity that affects their life as a student may reach out to the Dean of Students. The Dean of Students is available for consultation and advisement to individual students and student groups.

International Student Services – LSB 104, (808) 673-3516 – https://iss.byuh.edu

International Student Services is an essential tool for all international students attending BYU-Hawaii. These services include help with legal documentation, assistance in understanding and complying with federal regulations, and counseling to help international students adjust to life on campus.

Internships – CAF 180, (808) 675-3533 - https://career.byuh.edu/students/internships

Career Services provides several excellent opportunities to apply learning via internships.

Language Center – MCK 156, (808) 675-3638 - https://academics.byuh.edu/language_speech

The Language Center at BYU-Hawaii serves all students seeking to learn a second language through various audio, video, and computer based instruction as well as tutors.

Media Scheduling Services – JFS Library, (808) 675-3855 – https://oit.byuh.edu/mediarec

Media Services provides a variety of computing, digital, and electronic equipment for use in various academic purposes.

The Office of Honor oversees the Ecclesiastical Endorsement Requirement of all students at BYU-Hawaii and conducts investigations of violations of the BYU-Hawaii Honor Code. The Office of Honor serves in a collaborative role in educating and supporting Honor Code compliance at BYU-Hawaii.

Reading & Writing Center – MCK 103, (808) 675-3629 – https://readingwritingcenter.byuh.edu/

The Reading & Writing Center offers assistance to all students with tutors providing assistance with a variety of academic and professional work.

Testing Center – MCK 115, (808) 675-3536 - https://testing.byuh.edu

BYU-Hawaii’s testing center serves students as the location for course-related tests, interest and personality inventories, and national examinations.

Cultural and Recreational Aspect

Students can immerse themselves in the diverse cultural atmosphere of BYU-Hawaii, which has one of the most diverse student populations with 48 percent of the student body representing nearly 70 countries.

Athletic Facilities – https://sports.byuh.edu/facilities

BYU-Hawaii maintains multiple athletic facilities including a swimming pool, fitness center, tennis courts, and the multi-purpose Cannon Activities Center.

Intramural Activities – https://intramurals.byuh.edu

The campus intramural program consists of several activities throughout the year involving many participants in both men’s and women’s activities.

Museum of Natural History – MCK 125, (808) 675-3816 - https://nhmuseum.byuh.edu

BYU-Hawaii’s Natural History Museum hosts a collection of vertebrates and invertebrates from the Pacific and elsewhere.

Student Associations – MCK 131, (808) 675-3532 – https://student.byuh.edu/content/student-associations

Students are able to enjoy the diversity of BYU-Hawaii as they participate in the various cultural clubs on campus as well as campus-wide cultural activities such as Culture Night, Songfest, and Foodfest. A variety of special interest clubs also give students the opportunity to expand their interests.

The HUB – ACR 123, (808) 675-3549 – http://student.byuh.edu/thehub

BYU-Hawaii’s game center provides a place to relax with activities such as bowling, table tennis, and video games.
Policies & Procedures

Academic Freedom Statement

POLICY

1. PURPOSE

At Brigham Young University—Hawaii, faculty and students are enjoined to “seek learning...by study and also by faith” (D&C 88:118). This integration of truth lies at the heart of BYU-H’s institutional mission. As a religiously distinctive university, BYU-H opens up a space in the academic world which its faculty and students can pursue knowledge in light of the restored gospel as taught by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. For those who have embraced the gospel, BYU-H offers an especially rich and full kind of academic freedom. To seek knowledge in the light of revealed truth is, for believers, to be free indeed.

The BYU-H community embraces traditional freedoms of study, inquiry, and debate, together with the special responsibilities implicit in the University’s religious mission. These include the duty to exemplify charity and virtue, to nurture faith, and to endeavor to teach all subjects with the Spirit of the Lord.

This document articulates in clear, but general terms how BYU-H’s unique religious mission relates to principles of academic freedom. BYU-H regards the following approach not as NARROWING the scope of freedom, but ENABLING greater (or at least different) and much prized freedoms.

2. INDIVIDUAL AND INSTITUTIONAL ACADEMIC FREEDOM AT BYU-HAWAII

The concept of academic freedom at BYU-H is grounded in a distinction, often blurred but vital and historically based, between INDIVIDUAL and INSTITUTIONAL academic freedom. (See Michael W. McConnell, “Academic Freedom in Religious Colleges and Universities,” LAW AND CONTEMPORARY PROBLEMS 53.3 [1990]: 303-24; David M. Rabban, “A Functional Analysis of ‘Individual’ and ‘Institutional’ Academic Freedom under the First Amendment,” LAW AND CONTEMPORARY PROBLEMS 53.3 [1990]: 227-301.) These two facets of academic freedom have been described as “the freedom of the individual scholar to teach and research without interference” and “the freedom of the academic institution from outside control.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 305.) Both individual and institutional academic freedom are necessary to maintain the unique intellectual climate of BYU-H. What follows is an attempt to define why both individual and institutional academic freedom are valuable at BYUH and how they must be protected.

2.1 Individual Freedom

Individual freedom lies at the core of both religious and academic life. Freedom of thought, belief, inquiry, and expression are crucial no less to the sacred than to the secular quest for truth. Historically in fact, freedom of conscience and freedom of intellect form a common root, from which grow both religious and academic freedom. It is no wonder then that both then Church and the academy affirm the need for individual freedom – the Church through the doctrine of individual “agency”, the academy through the concept of individual academic freedom.

2.2 Individual Agency

The Church teaches that “moral agency” (which encompasses freedom and accountability) is basic to the nature and purpose of mortality (see 2 Ne 2:26, D&C 93:30-31; D&C 101:77-78). In the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints theology, individual freedom is essential to intellectual and spiritual growth. Every Latter-day Saint is enjoined to know truth for himself or herself. We claim it as our privilege to seek wisdom. Teachers and institutions play a crucial role in making truth available and discoverable. But neither testimony, nor righteousness, nor genuine understanding is possible unless it is freely discovered and voluntarily embraced.

2.3 Individual Academic Freedom

Perhaps no condition is as important to creating a university as is the freedom of the individual faculty member “to teach and research without interference” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 305), to ask hard questions, to subject answers to rigorous examination, and to engage in scholarship and creative work. The academy depends on untrammeled inquiry to discover, test, and transmit knowledge. This includes the traditional right to publish or present the results of original research in the reputable scholarly literature and professional conferences of one’s academic discipline. Although all universities place some restraints on individual academic freedom, every institution that qualifies for the title of university allows ample room for genuine exploration of diverse ideas.

2.4 Integration of Individual Agency and Academic Freedom

Latter-day Saint scholars are thus doubly engaged to learn truth for themselves because both the Church and the academy bid them to undertake a personal quest for knowledge. BYU-H aspires to be a host for this integrated search for truth by offering a unique enclave of inquiry, where teachers and students may seek learning “by study and also by faith” (D&C 88:118; cf. “The Mission of Brigham Young University—Hawaii”).

2.5 Scope of Integration

Because the gospel encompasses all truth and affirms the full range of human modes of knowing, the scope of integration for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints scholars is, in principle, as wide as truth itself. Brigham Young eloquently articulated this gospel-based aspiration, proclaiming it is our duty and calling...to reject every error...to gather up all the truths in the world pertaining to life and salvation, to the gospel we preach...to the sciences, and to philosophy, wherever it may be found in every nation, kindred, tongue, and people. (JOURNAL OF DISCOURSES, [Liverpool: Amasa Lyman, 1860], 7:283-84.)

Similarly, modern revelation instructs Latter-day Saints to learn:

Of things both in heaven and in the earth, and under the earth; things which have been, things which are, things which must shortly come to pass; things which are at home, things which are abroad; the wars and perplexities of the nations, and the judgments which are on the land; and a knowledge also of countries and of kingdoms. (D&C 88:79)

Further, Latter-day Saints believe, as an article of faith, “all that God has revealed, all that He does now reveal, and...that He will yet reveal many great and important things” (9th Article of Faith), and they are encouraged to use all their faculties – including heart, mind, and spirit – in their quest for truth (cf. D&C 4:2; 9:7-9).

2.6 Summary

At BYU-H, individual academic freedom is based not only on a belief (shared by all universities) in the value of free inquiry, but also on the gospel principle that humans are moral agents who should seek knowledge in the sacred as well as in the secular, by the heart and spirit as well as by the mind, and in continuing revelation as well as in the written word of God. BYU-H students and their parents are entitled to expect an educational experience that reflects this aspiration.

3. INSTITUTIONAL ACADEMIC FREEDOM

3.1 BYU-H’s Mission

- BYU-H has always defined itself as an openly and distinctively a university of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.
- BYU-H is wholly owned by the Church, which provides the University’s principal source of funding from the tithing funds paid to the Church by its members.
- BYU-H draws its faculty and students principally from Church members. Everyone who works and studies at BYU-H subscribes to an Honor Code in order that the University may provide a university education in an atmosphere consistent with the ideals and principles of the Church.
- New faculty are interviewed by Church General Authorities as a condition of employment, and Church members are subsequently expected, as part of their university citizenship, to live lives of loyalty to the restored gospel.
- Faculty of other faiths agree to respect The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints nature of the University and its mission, while the University in turn respects their religious convictions. Thus, BYU-H defines itself as having a unique religious mission and as pursuing knowledge in a climate of belief. This model of education differs clearly and consciously from public university models that embody a separation of church and state.
- It is not expected that the faculty will agree on every point of doctrine, much less on the issues in the academic disciplines that divide faculties in any university.
- It is expected, however, that a spirit of Christian charity and common faith in the gospel will unite even those with wide differences and that questions will be raised in ways that seek to strengthen rather than undermine faith.
- It is also expected that faculty members will be sensitive to the difference between matters that are appropriate for public discussion and those that are better discussed in private.
- In short, BYU-H defines itself as an intellectual community of faithful members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and those sympathetic to their convictions, who pursue knowledge from the baseline of religious belief.

3.2 Definition of Institutional Academic Freedom

BYU-H claims the right to maintain this identity by the appropriate exercise of its institutional academic freedom. “Institutional academic freedom” is the term used to express the privilege of universities to pursue their distinctive missions. It is implicit in principles and practices of other church-related universities. (For example, the Catholic church’s major statement on academic freedom in Catholic universities, EX CORDE ECCLESIAE, affirms, among other things, that “every Catholic university, without ceasing to be a university, has a relationship to the church that is essential to its institutional identity” [John Paul II, “Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities (EX CORDE ECCLESIAE),” paragraph 27 (1990)].) BYU-H likewise affirms that its relationship to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is essential to its unique institutional identity. (For a discussion of “The Greater Institutional Academic Freedom of Private Universities,” see Rabban, “A Functional Analysis,” 266-71.)

4. BENEFITS OF INSTITUTIONAL FREEDOM

The religious university constitutes an endangered species in today’s academic ecosystem. (See, for example, several articles appearing in FIRST THINGS: James Nuechterlein, “The Death of Religious Higher Education” [January 1991]: 7-8; George M. Marsden, “The Soul of the American University” [January 1991]: 34-47; James Tunstead Burtchaell, “The Decline and Fall of the Christian College” [April 1991]: 16-29 and [May 1991]: 30-38; David W. Lutz, “Can Notre Dame Be Saved” [January 1992]: 35-45.) To force religious institutions to comply with narrowly secular definitions of academic freedom is to further imperil the survival of these distinctive intellectual communities.

There are at least three reasons why the institutional academic freedom of religious institutions should be protected:

- To maintain institutional pluralism;
- To be consistent with the anti-dogmatic principles of academic freedom;
- To safeguard religious freedom. (See McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 311-18.) Each argument is sufficiently important to bear brief summary.

4.1 Pluralism

Religious colleges and universities contribute to our diverse “ethical, cultural, and intellectual life.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 312.) Few enough to pose no threat to sectarian domination, religious institutions provide important alternatives to prevailing secular modes of thought. This “makes them better able to resist the popular currents of majoritarian culture and thus to preserve the seeds of dissent and alternative understandings that may later be welcomed by the wider society.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 312.)

Furthermore, to impose a definition of academic freedom that disallows creedal and philosophical considerations “is to randomize every faculty with respect to creed and philosophy. This increases diversity within each faculty, but it eliminates the diversity among faculties.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 313.) Similarly, Rabban argues that private universities may be granted greater latitude to establish educational policies than state institutions because “The resulting pluralism within the academic world . . . may provide more tolerance for diverse and unpopular views than a rule that would subject all universities to the commitment to diversity of thought that the first amendment imposes on public ones” (“A Functional Analysis,” 268-69).
4.2 Anti-dogmatism

Academic freedom is grounded in the Enlightenment’s opposition to dogmatism; it presupposes that truth is discovered not through revelation but rationally, through the “clash of competitive ideas.” “But this idea, too, must be subject to testing.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 313.) Historically, the most thorough challenge to narrowly rationalist methodologies has come from religion. Religion offers venerable alternative theories of knowledge by presupposing that truth is eternal, that it is only partly knowable through reason alone, and that human reason must be tested against divine revelation. President J. Reuben Clark, Jr., stated that one “cannot rationalize the things of the spirit, because first, the things of the spirit are not sufficiently known and comprehended, and secondly, because finite mind and reason cannot comprehend nor explain infinite wisdom and ultimate truth.” (J. Reuben Clark, Jr., “The Charted Course of the Church in Education,” in MESSAGES OF THE FIRST PRESIDENCY, ed. James R. Clark [Salt Lake City: Bookcraft, 1975], 6:49.) It is simply inconsistent with the anti-dogmatic principles of academic freedom not to permit its own premises about knowledge to be tested against such claims as these. “It is important that a principle born of opposition to dogmatism not itself become dogmatic and authoritarian.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 314.)

4.3 Religious Freedom

Religiously distinctive colleges and universities are “an important means by which religious faiths can preserve and transmit their teachings from one generation to the next, particularly nonmainstream religions whose differences from the predominant academic culture are so substantial that they risk annihilation if they cannot retain a degree of separation.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 316.) This right to religious freedom should “override whatever exiguous benefit to society might be achieved by forcing religiously distinctive institutions to conform to secular academic freedom.” (McConnell, “Academic Freedom,” 316.)

5. ABUSES OF INSTITUTIONAL FREEDOM

Institutional academic freedom, important for ANY college or university, is indispensable for institutions with distinct religious missions. Nevertheless, institutional freedom is a prerogative that, if regarded as absolute, would invite abuse. Therefore, academic freedom must include not only the institution’s freedom to claim a religious identity but also the individual’s freedom to ask genuine, even difficult questions. Learning can be unsettling. There is no such thing as risk-free genuine education, just as according to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints theology there is no risk-free earthly experience. At any religious university, including at BYU-H, there always will be the possibility of friction between individual and institutional academic freedom.

There is no way to eliminate these tensions altogether, except by eliminating the claims of one kind of freedom or the other. But to do so would result in a net loss to the Church, the University, and to the family of universities to which BYU-H belongs. To eliminate BYU-H’s right to define and preserve its institutional identity would threaten to transform BYU-H into a university like any other. At the same time, to override the very concept of individual academic freedom would threaten the vitality of BYU-H as a university. Either move would lessen the value of BYU-H to its faculty and students, to the Church, and to the academic community at large. Therefore, the task is to establish principles and procedures that help minimize conflict and that guide the Board of Trustees, faculty, and administration though differences that may arise.

6. RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN INDIVIDUAL AND INSTITUTIONAL ACADEMIC FREEDOM

6.1 Neither Freedom is Unlimited

Neither individual nor institutional academic freedom can be unlimited. The reasons for this have been suggested already. To elaborate:

6.2 Limits on Individual Academic Freedom

There can be no unlimited individual academic freedom. Were there no constraints on individual academic freedom, religious universities could converge toward a secular model and lose their distinctive character, thus diminishing pluralism in academia. Furthermore, absolute individual freedom would place the individual faculty member effectively in charge of defining institutional purpose, thereby infringing on prerogatives that traditionally belong to boards, administrations, and faculty councils. Such arrogation of authority is particularly intolerable when the disagreement concerns Church doctrine, on which BYU-H’s Board of Trustees claims the right to convey prophetic counsel. Yet even secular universities, whose boards claim no special religious authority, do not empower individual faculty members with absolute individual freedom relative to the University mission. For example, universities have censured professors for racist, anti-Semitic, or otherwise offensive expression. In addition, state universities have prohibited the advocacy of religious values to protect a separation of church and state. Every university places some limitations on individual academic freedom. (As George S. Worgul, Jr., states in the “Editor’s Preface” to ISSUES IN ACADEMIC FREEDOM [Pittsburgh: Duquesne Unit Press, 1992]: “academic freedom’ at any university—whether public, private, church-related or church-sponsored – is never unlimited or absolute. Every university has an identity and mission to which it must adhere… Freedom is always a situated freedom and a responsible freedom” [viii-ix].)

6.3 Limits on Institutional Academic Freedom

Neither can there be unlimited institutional academic freedom. If institutional freedom were limitless, BYU-H could cease to be a genuine university, devoid of the exploratory environment vital to intellectual endeavor and with little room for disagreement and questioning. At BYU-H, the Church enjoys a special, deeply appreciated relation to the University, but its relation is not simply that of employer to employee – for a university faculty constitutes a special kind of employee. While each faculty member is fully accountable to the University, he or she also works in a space that is open to inquiry, discovery, and discussion. Any limitations in this space must be narrowly drawn so as not to impede the robust interchange of ideas, because the Board and administration wish to set policy for an institution that legitimately may be called a university.

6.4 Reasonable Limitations

It follows that the exercise of individual and institutional academic freedom must be a matter of reasonable limitations. In general, at BYU-
H a limitation is reasonable when the faculty behavior or expression SERIOUSLY AND ADVERSELY affects the University mission or the Church. (This document does not address policies, common to all universities that govern the orderly maintenance of the institution, the disruption of classes, or the university endorsement of personal actions. This document speaks only to limitations arising from BYU-H’s mission.) Examples would include expression with students or in public that:

- Contradicts or opposes, rather than analyzes or discusses, fundamental Church doctrine or policy;
- Deliberately attacks or derides the Church or its general leaders; or
- Violates the Honor Code because the expression is dishonest, illegal, unchaste, profane, or unduly disrespectful of others.

Reasonable limits are based on careful consideration of what lies at the heart of the interests of the Church and the mission of the University. A faculty member shall not be found in violation of BYU-H’s institutional intervention if the faculty behavior or expression does not adversely affect the University mission or the Church. By H’s mission, the Board and administration reserve the right to designate, in exceptional cases, restrictions upon expression and behavior that, in their judgment, seriously and adversely affect BYU-H’s mission or the Church.

6.6 Individual Academic Freedom is Presumptive, while Institutional Interventional Intervention is Exceptional

Individual freedom of expression is broad, presumptive, and essentially unrestrained except for matters that seriously and adversely affect the University mission or the Church. By contrast, institutional intervention is exceptional and limited to cases the University’s governing bodies deem to offer compelling threats to BYU-H’s mission or the Church. The Board and administration most effectively exercise their freedom to preserve BYU-H’s institutional identity by setting general policies.

6.7 University Posture is One of Trust

The faculty is entrusted with broad individual academic freedom to pursue truth according to the methodologies and assumptions that characterize scholarship in various disciplines. This trust necessarily encompasses the freedom to discuss and advocate controversial and unpopular ideas. However, the Board and administration reserve the right to designate, in exceptional cases, restrictions upon expression and behavior that, in their judgment, seriously and adversely affect BYU-H’s mission or the Church.

6.8 Faculty Posture is One of Loyalty

Faculty members, for their part, agree to be loyal university citizens. It is expected that the faculty will strive to contribute to the unique mission of BYU-H. This expectation, which aims at the fulfillment of University aspirations rather than merely at the absence of serious harm, properly figures in advancement and continuing status decisions.

6.9 Tone of the BYU-H Community is Charitable

The faculty, administration, and the Board should work together in a spirit of love, trust, and goodwill. The faculty rightly assumes its work is presumptively free from restraint, but at the same time it assumes an obligation of dealing with sensitive issues sensitively and with a civility that becomes believers. BYU-H rightly expects the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints faculty to be faithful to, and other faculty to be respectful of, the Church and BYU-H’s mission. Thus both the University’s governing bodies and the faculty obligate themselves to use their respective academic freedom responsibly, within the context of a commitment to the gospel. As Elder B. H. Roberts said, “In essentials let there be unity; in non-essentials, liberty; and in all things, charity.” (Conference Reports, Oct. 1912, 30. The source of Roberts’s citation is the Latin maxim, “IN NECESSARIIS UNITAS, IN NON-NECESSARIIS [or, DUBIIS] LIBERTAS, IN UTRISQUE [or, OMNIBUS] CARITAS” [see Philip Schaff, HISTORY OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, 2nd ed. (New York: Scribner’s, 1891), 6:58-59].)

CONCLUSION

It is the intent of Brigham Young University–Hawaii to reaffirm hereby its identity as a unique kind of university – the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints university. BYU-H intends to nourish a community of believing scholars, where students and teachers, guided by the gospel, freely join together to seek truth in charity and virtue. For those who embrace the gospel, BYU-H offers a far richer and more complete kind of academic freedom than is possible in secular universities because to seek knowledge in the light of revealed truth is, for believers, to be free indeed.

Applicability: This policy applies to all university faculty.

Responsible University Officer: Academic Vice President.

Responsible University Office: Associate Academic Vice President, Faculty.
Admissions

Admissions Office, LSB 1st Floor, (808) 675-3738, admissions@byuh.edu, https://admissions.byuh.edu

All Applicants

Application Methods

BYU–Hawaii exists to provide an education consistent with the religious and family values taught by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The Admissions Office gives preference to members of the Church in good standing but will not unlawfully discriminate against applicants based upon gender, race, creed, religion, national origin, age, or disability who meet the requirements, who agree to abide by the Honor Code and Dress and Grooming Standards, and who are otherwise qualified based upon available space. High standards of honor, integrity, and morality, graciousness in personal behavior, application of Christian ideals in everyday living, and abstinence from tobacco, alcohol, and harmful drugs are required of every student.

An applicant who is currently excommunicated or disfellowshipped from, on probation with, or voluntarily disaffiliated from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is generally inadmissible until reinstated to full fellowship. Students, who withdrew on Grade Warning or Probation more than five years prior to reapplying, may be admitted at the discretion of the Admissions Exceptions Committee. Students on academic status who have been away for five years or less are generally admitted on the same status provided they have received a clear ecclesiastical endorsement.

Important Notice: When admission has been offered to the maximum number of students to achieve approved enrollment goals, the Admissions Office will only consider applications for the next possible semester or term. The President and the Admissions Exceptions Committee reserve the right to make exceptions to admission policy and guidelines as deemed appropriate.

Second Degree

In keeping with its mission to educate as many students as possible, BYU–Hawaii does not admit students for a second bachelor’s degree.

Enriched Environment Statement

“The Mission of BYU-Hawaii - founded, supported, and guided by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints – is to assist individuals in their quest for perfection and eternal life. That assistance should provide a period of intensive learning in a stimulating setting where a commitment to excellence is expected and the full realization of human potential is pursued.”

To this end, the university seeks qualified students of various geographic, educational, cultural, ethnic, and racial backgrounds and talents, who relate together in such a manner that they are “no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God.” It is the university’s judgment that providing educational opportunities for a mix of students who share values based on the gospel of Jesus Christ and come from a variety of backgrounds and experiences is an important educational asset to BYU-Hawaii.

Entrance Exam

See Required Tests Section.

Other Considerations for Admission

The Admissions Committee also considers applicants with special talent, exceptional creativity, or other unusual preparation for university study not otherwise revealed in standard admission data. In evaluating these criteria, the Admissions Committee relies on scholarship recommendations from a BYU–Hawaii department as a demonstration of the required talent, creativity, or unusual preparation. The Admissions Committee also uses Parts 6 and 7 (activities and essays) and Part 4 (seminary/institute recommendation) of the application in making an evaluation. The committee may also consider such factors as mission, military service, career choices, and personal circumstances.

Full Disclosure

Failure to disclose and submit all documents required for admission, including transcripts from each institution in which the applicant has or is currently enrolled, or any falsification of information required for admission consideration may result in disallowance of transfer credits, immediate suspension and/or loss of all credit earned at BYU–Hawaii.

Priority and International Student Deadline

All application materials must be received by the CES Admissions Office on or before the deadline for the semester for which the applicant is seeking admission. Applicants who submit any portion of their application after the deadline for the semester for which they are applying, may be considered, however your application will be marked “Late.”

Notification of Admissions Decision

All applicants will receive official written notification from the BYU–Hawaii Admissions Office or from the Church Educational System (apply.churchofjesuschrist.org) website. Any other notification, either verbal or written, will not be considered valid. A letter of acceptance is valid only for the semester indicated. Admitted students wishing to be considered for a later enrollment period must notify the Admissions Office to cancel their admittance, and reapply for a later semester or term. Detailed instructions on how to reapply are available at apply.churchofjesuschrist.org.
The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Seminary

Prospective students are expected to participate in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Seminary during each year of high school. BYU-Hawaii is committed to the concept that thoughtful and consistent study of the scriptures is vital to the preparation of those desiring to enter the university. Graduation from seminary (released time, early morning or home study) is an expectation and gives priority in the admission process. Exceptions will be considered in unusual circumstances such as for a recent convert who joined the Church during his or her high school career.

U.S. Applicants

High School Preparation

Students are encouraged to complete high school courses from the following list of college-preparation courses. Of particular importance are English and Mathematics. Writing and math skills are basic for critical thinking. Completing courses on the list may assist in preparing students for university study.

- Four years of English
- Three years of mathematics (two or three years beyond algebra 1)
- Three years of science
- Four years of social studies
- Two or more years of foreign language (advanced skill in one language is preferred)

Courses such as computer science, the arts (music, drama, painting, etc.), and other worthwhile choices may prove beneficial for students. Students should consider taking classes with substantial content that challenge them. In today’s world computer skills are valuable assets. These skills should be learned in high school or independently. BYU-Hawaii offers courses online to help students who do not meet admissions standards.

High School Graduation

Applicants should be graduates of fully accredited high schools. Those who complete their secondary education through the General Education Development Test (GED), home study, home school, or other programs will be reviewed individually by the Admissions Committee to determine admissibility.

GED

The GED in most states consists of five sections: Language Arts-Writing, Language Arts-Reading, Social Studies, Science and Mathematics. The possible scores on each individual exam range from 200 (lowest) to 800 (highest). In most states, including Hawaii, students need a total minimum score of 2010 with an average score of 450 points on all 5 tests. No score on any one test can be less than 410 points.

For admissions consideration, a GED from a U.S student must also be accompanied with an ACT or SAT test score. BYU-Hawaii generally requires an ACT score of 24+ for domestic students.

Early Admit

High school students who would like to be considered for admission to BYU-Hawaii before receiving a high school diploma must:

- Have a cumulative high school grade point average of 3.6 (B+) or higher on all work to date.
- Submit a letter of unconditional recommendation for early admission from their high school counselor or principal. The counselor or principal must also state that the student is academically prepared and has the emotional and social maturity to benefit from attendance at BYU-Hawaii.
- Submit a letter of unconditional recommendation for early admission from the applicant’s parent or guardian.
- Complete all application requirements (see application procedures for freshman applicants), including fee of $35.
- ACT score of 24 or SAT of 1090 or higher.

Application deadline dates for early admission are the same as for new freshman applicants.

Home School Applicants

Applicants who have been home schooled in lieu of attending a high school environment must receive a composite ACT score of 24 or higher, or SAT of 1090 or higher to be competitive for admission consideration. These individuals must also complete all other application requirements for freshman applicants.

Advanced Placement (AP) Credits or International Baccalaureate (IB) Test Scores

Students who completed Advanced Placement courses in high school and scored a composite grade of 3, 4 or 5 on any subject test may receive up to eight semester hours of credit in each subject. Likewise, students who complete International Baccalaureate tests may receive college credit for their work, following the matrix available on the Admissions website. Because both examinations test knowledge gained in High School, be aware that if students have both an AP and an IB examination for the same subject that they will be awarded the highest credit possible of the different measures, but they will not receive college credit for both test scores.

Concurrent Enrollment at BYU-Hawaii

High school students who would like to be considered for admission to BYU-Hawaii as part-time students while still enrolled in high school must:

- Have a cumulative high school grade point average of 3.6 or higher on all work to date.
- Submit a BYU-Hawaii concurrent enrollment voucher signed by the applicant, the parent, and a high school counselor.
- Have completed at least the junior year of high school.
- Complete parts 1, 2, and 3 of the admission application.
- Pay the non-refundable application fee of $35.
 Concurrent Credit Transfer Policy

Many students are now receiving enriched academic experiences by enrolling concurrently in college courses while completing their high school curricula. BYU–Hawaii will consider these students for freshman admission and scholarships provided they complete no more than 29 semester/44 quarter hours of concurrent work before enrollment at BYU–Hawaii.

Students admitted to BYU–Hawaii who, before enrollment, complete 30 semester/45 quarter hours of concurrent course work or who enroll at a college or university other than BYU–Hawaii following high school graduation will be designated as transfer students. Their admission and scholarship status will be evaluated based on BYU–Hawaii’s transfer student criteria. Such evaluation may result in the withdrawal of a previously awarded freshman scholarship.

College credit received for successfully completed AP examinations, IB examinations, or concurrent work taken at BYU–Hawaii is excluded from the 29 semester/44 quarter hours limit. Because the examinations test knowledge gained in High School, be aware that if students have an AP and an IB examination for the same subject that they will be awarded the highest credit possible of the different measures, but they will not receive college credit for both test scores.

International Applicants

BYU–Hawaii encourages international students to begin the application process well in advance of the deadlines. Once admitted, the required $500 International Processing Fee must be received before the I-20/DS-2019 will be issued. Transfer students are strongly encouraged to apply. Applicants should submit detailed written descriptions in English for all course work completed prior to attending BYU–Hawaii with their application. This information, in addition to official college or university transcripts, will help BYU–Hawaii staff to determine the number of credits transferred and the length of the course of study at the university. Official transcripts not in English should be accompanied by certified English translations. International students may transfer to BYU–Hawaii from a U.S. college or university if they hold a valid F-1 visa and have maintained their student status during their prior enrollment.

VISA Policies

BYU–Hawaii is a sponsoring institution for both the Student Visa (F visa) and the Exchange Visitor Visa (J visa). New admitted self-funding international students are sent the (Form I-20) to obtain a F-1 or F-2 visa. New admitted sponsored international students are sent the (Form DS-2019) to obtain a J-1 or J-2 visa. Students make an appointment with the nearest US Embassy or Consulate and pay a fee to obtain their visa. Upon arrival in the US, students present the (Form I-20) or (Form DS-2019) along with a valid passport and valid visa to an immigration officer with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP). Once in the US, students must maintain their visa status by adhering to the strict regulations governing their visa program. Questions concerning non-immigrant student and exchange visitor visas should be referred to International Student Services.

Transfer Students

Information pertaining to transfer students can be found at https://admissions.byuh.edu/transfer_evaluation.

Veterans Support

Veterans Support is located in the Registrar’s Office and certifies the enrollment of eligible veterans or their dependents for educational benefits from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). Information and help in applying for these benefits are available from this office.

Aid or assistance that is not designated for the sole purpose of reducing a student’s tuition and fee should not be excluded from the net in-state charges reported to VA.

Required Tests

American College Test (ACT) or Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) Scores

Applicants from Canada, American Samoa, Guam, the Federated States of Micronesia and U.S.-patterned international schools must submit either ACT or SAT results.

All new freshman applicants and transfer students who have completed fewer than 24 semester (36 quarter) hours of college credit at the time of application are required to take the ACT or SAT, a national standardized entrance exams. Students are encouraged to take the test during the last semester of their junior year in high school. The test should be taken early enough for the results to be received by the Admissions Office before the deadline for the semester in which a student intends to enroll. Test results arrive at the university approximately four weeks after the test is given.

English Proficiency Test

Applicants from any non-U.S.-patterned international schools must have their results from the TOEFL or IELTS reach the Admissions Office before the application deadline. The TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) and IELTS (International English Language Testing System) are the preferred tests of English language proficiency. For more information about these tests contact: TOEFL@collegeboard.com or visit www.IELTS.org. In some cases, the TOEFL or IELTS may be substituted by the Michigan, EIKEN, SLEP or Pearson Exam, which is available only in selected countries. For more information on English proficiency exam requirements please visit the admissions website http://admissions.byuh.edu/English_requirement.

IWORK Program

The International Work Opportunity Returnability Kuleana (IWORK) program is available to our target area applicants who reside in the South Pacific and Far East Asia areas. More information, including an application for IWORK, is available online at the BYU–Hawaii Financial Aid website at http://financialaid.byuh.edu/IWORK. Applications are also available from the Financial Aid Office. International students applying to transfer from another institution in the United States will not be eligible for the IWORK program.
Church Education System
Honor Code

Honor Code Office. ACR 166, (808) 675-3493

Brigham Young University, Brigham Young University–Hawaii, Brigham Young University–Idaho, and LDS Business College (LDSBC) exist to provide an education in an atmosphere consistent with the ideals and principles of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. That atmosphere is created and preserved through commitment to conduct that reflects those ideals and principles. Members of the faculty, administration, staff, and student body at BYU, BYU-H, BYU-I, and LDSBC are selected and retained from among those who voluntarily live the principles of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Observance of such is a specific condition of employment and admission.

These individuals who are not members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are also expected to maintain the same standards of conduct, except church attendance. All who represent BYU, BYU-H, BYU-I, and LDSBC are to maintain the highest standards of honor, integrity, morality, and consideration of others in personal behavior. By accepting appointment on the faculty, continuing in employment, or continuing class enrollment, individuals evidence their commitment to observe the Honor Code standards approved by the Board of Trustees “at all times and ... in all places” (Mosiah 18:9).

Honor Code Statement

“We believe in being honest, true, chaste, benevolent, virtuous, and in doing good to all men. .................... If there is anything virtuous, lovely, or of good report or praiseworthy, we seek after these things.” (Thirteenth Article of Faith)

As a matter of personal commitment, faculty, administration, staff, and students of Brigham Young University, Brigham Young University–Hawaii, Brigham Young University–Idaho, and LDS Business College seek to demonstrate in daily living on and off campus those moral virtues encompassed in the gospel of Jesus Christ, and will:

- Be honest
- Live a chaste and virtuous life
- Obey the law and all campus policies
- Use clean language
- Respect others
- Abstain from alcoholic beverages, tobacco, tea, coffee, and substance abuse
- Participate regularly in church services
- Observe the Dress and Grooming Standards
- Encourage others in their commitment to comply with the Honor Code

Specific policies embodied in the Honor Code include the BYU-Hawaii Academic Honesty Policy, (2) Dress and Grooming Standards, (3) Residential Living Standards, and (4) Continuing Student Ecclesiastical Endorsement. You can also learn more about the BYU-Hawaii Honor Code Statement at https://honorcode.byuh.edu/.

Academic Honesty Policy

The first injunction of the BYU-Hawaii Honor Code is the call to “be honest.” Students come to the university not only to improve their minds, gain knowledge, and develop skills that will assist them in their life’s work, but also to build character. “President David O. McKay taught that character is the highest aim of education” (The Aims of a BYU-Hawaii Education, p. 6). It is the purpose of the BYU-Hawaii Academic Honesty Policy to assist in fulfilling that aim.

BYU-Hawaii students should seek to be totally honest in their dealings with others. They should complete their own work and be evaluated based upon that work. They should avoid academic dishonesty and misconduct in all its forms, including but not limited to plagiarism, fabrication or falsification, cheating, and other academic misconduct.

Dress and Grooming Standards

The dress and grooming of both men and women should always be modest, neat, and clean, and consistent with the dignity adherent to representing The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and any of its institutions of higher education.

Modesty and cleanliness are important values that reflect personal dignity and integrity, through which students, staff, and faculty represent the principles and standards of the Church. Members of the BYU, BYU-H, BYU-I, and LDSBC communities commit themselves to observe these standards, which reflect the direction given by the Board of Trustees and in the Church publication, “For the Strength of Youth.” These guiding principles apply at all CES institutions of higher education. The application of these principles may vary slightly at the various institutions in accordance with local conditions and circumstances.

Residential Living Standards

BYU-Hawaii is committed to providing a learning atmosphere consistent with the principles of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Members of the BYU–Hawaii community should likewise commit themselves to creating such an atmosphere for students residing in approved student housing on campus and BYU-Hawaii off-campus contract housing. To achieve this distinctive ambiance, BYU-Hawaii has established living standards to help students learn some of the high ideals and principles of behavior expected at the university. These standards limit visiting privileges and hours and encourage clean, orderly, respectful, moral, and dignified conduct.

Learn more at https://honorcode.byuh.edu/content/living-standard.

Non-academic Discipline

Students who are found guilty of violating university standards, policies, and/or rules and regulations will be subject to nonacademic discipline. This may include one or more of the following: fines, community service, loss of privileges, nonacademic probation for a specified period of time, being counseled out (voluntary withdrawal), suspension (involuntary withdrawal for a specified period of time), or dismissal (permanent, involuntary withdrawal).

Students who are counseled out, suspended, or leave the university with unresolved non-academic problems will be encumbered and notices of the encumbrances sent to all the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints church schools. They will be required to obtain clearance from the BYU-Hawaii University Office of Honor before they can be considered for readmission. Expelled students will have the expulsion noted on their permanent record files and notices of their expulsion sent to all the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints church schools.

Students placed in one of the above categories have the right for an Honor Code Administrative Review. (For more details go to http://honorcode.byuh.edu/) Generally, the university will follow procedures outlined in the Administrative Review policy. However, any departure from these procedures will not act to invalidate the decisions made by the university, provided the procedures followed were fundamentally fair, given the facts and circumstances of the case.

The Administrative Review Process is under the direction of the Student Life Vice-President. The Office of General Counsel may advise university personnel involved in the Administrative Review anytime during the process as to matters of university policy and procedure relevant to the deliberations. No review decision contrary to, or as an exception to, university policy will be implemented without the written approval of the Student Life Vice-President.

The student applying for an Honor Code Administrative Review will not be restricted in or excluded from class attendance or participation in any university functions and activities during the review process unless the university determines that such attendance and/or participation is likely to be disruptive or pose a substantial threat to the well-being or personal safety of the student or others. In those cases, the Dean of Students Office will advise the student of any restrictions and/or exclusions, pending the outcome of the review.

A student may, at any time during the review process, request permission to voluntarily withdraw from the university. Generally, such a request can be granted if there has been no violation of the law and such action would not compromise the integrity of the university. If the Dean of Students approves the request, he or she will discontinue the review process and allow the student to withdraw without any official action being taken or noted on the student’s official university records.

Requesting a Review

The student may request a review of the Office of Honor or university decision if the student (1) claims innocence, (2) claims the decision was unreasonable based upon substantiated facts, (3) claims that mitigating facts and circumstances were not fairly considered in making the decision, and/or (4) claims the university did not follow its procedures and as a result reached an unfair decision.

In order for students who have been on academic or non-academic suspension to be readmitted, they must follow the steps listed under admissions for returning students. BYU-Hawaii complies with and fully supports the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989.

Continuing Student Ecclesiastical Endorsement

All enrolled, continuing students are required each year to obtain a Continuing Student Ecclesiastical Endorsement from their winter semester ecclesiastical leader of their assigned ward. To assure they are regularly attending meetings and doing their duty in the Church, LDS students must be endorsed by the bishops of their wards of residence during winter semester. A bishop should not endorse students who do not reside in their ward winter semester. Non-LDS students can obtain their Continuing Student Ecclesiastical Endorsements from their local ecclesiastical leaders or the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints bishop within whose wards they reside during winter semester. The endorsement form can now be downloaded at the Honor Code website at http://honorcode.byuh.edu/content/endorsement.

Students wanting to pre-register for fall semester must be endorsed by their bishop during winter semester before March 1 (priority deadline).

Registration

Registration Office, LSB 1st Floor, (808) 675-3736
http://registrar.byuh.edu/

Eligibility

All incoming students who have received a letter of acceptance from the admissions office and students who were enrolled as regular or part-time students during the previous semester have the ability to process their registration online through the BYU-Hawaii website (See academic calendar in this catalog or on the website). Prior to registration, students must be free from any registration restrictions.

Credit Hour Definition

BYU-Hawaii defines a credit hour as fifteen hours of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of 30 hours out-of-class student work each semester, or the equivalent amount of work over a different length of time.

At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution including laboratory work, internships, practical, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.

Classification of Students

Students are classified for registration in degree-granting programs and for other academic purposes as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit hours earned</th>
<th>Classification</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0-29</td>
<td>Freshman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>30-59</td>
<td>Sophomore</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60-89</td>
<td>Junior</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>90 and over</td>
<td>Senior</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Registration Procedure

Registration is based on a priority system that allows students to begin registration according to their class standing or number of completed hours. Priority begins with seniors who have applied to graduate, then seniors and EIL students, then juniors, then sophomores, and then freshmen. Those students who are enrolled in Educational Outreach may register 30 days prior to the beginning of the semester. Students may go to their Student Center to check for their assigned enrollment date.

Attendance in classes without official registration is not permitted and will result in forfeiture of any right or credit in that class by later examination. A student is not considered registered unless all phases of admissions and registration involved have been satisfactorily accomplished.

Every student attending classes at BYU-Hawaii must register and pay tuition. Students will register within their Student Center under the Academics and then Enroll tabs. For more information on how to register go to https://advisors.byuh.edu/sites/advisors.byuh.edu/files/How%20To%20Register%20Online%20June%202018.pdf. Upon registration online, students may print a listing of their class schedule and tuition charge. Registration is finalized by payment of tuition. New international non-native English speakers will be registered by Academic Advisors on campus after completion of placement testing. Students must finalize all loans, scholarships, awards, etc., at the Financial Aid Office. MMR/Health Restrictions must be cleared prior to registration.

Changes in Registration (Add/Drop)

Changes in registration may be made without charge through the first three school days. To minimize changes in registration, students should exercise great care in planning their schedules and should register early for classes.

When a change in registration becomes necessary, students may continue to use the computer registration system to drop classes and to add classes that are not closed through the third day of classes without instructor’s or academic advisor’s signatures.

The only way to add a closed class during the Add/Drop period is for a student to obtain the instructor’s permission, indicated by a signature on the add/drop form and submit it to their academic advisor or the Registrar’s Office for processing by the third day of the semester.

After the computer add/drop system closes the Add/Drop period is over. During the one week Exceptions Period (the 7 days after the Add/Drop period is over), classes may be added by permission of the faculty as indicated on the add/drop form which should be turned into the academic advisor or the Registrar’s Office. Classes may be dropped until the Withdrawal period begins. A $10 fee will be charged for each class dropped after the first three days of school, including second session (block) classes. Adding a class after the Exceptions Period requires an appeal to the Academic Exceptions Committee. It is the student’s responsibility to drop a class, withdraw from a class after the drop period is finished, or discontinue from the university to avoid receiving an F on his/her academic record for not completing the class requirements. Classes will not be dropped for lack of payment. Students should be sure to discontinue if they do not attend to avoid receiving an F for a class that they did not attend.

Registering for Courses with P and NP Grades

P is used to indicate the successful completion of a course taken on the pass/not-pass option. This option is available to students at the university as a means of encouraging study outside the chosen major and is limited to one course per semester. An elective course, a course for which credit is received by examination, and any course specifically designated may utilize the pass/not-pass option. Classes in the student’s major (with some exceptions), religion, general education core, or EIL classes may not be taken with this option. Students electing this option will be given the P grade if their work in the course is rated as equivalent to C or better. If the work is not rated at this level, NP will appear on the permanent record. The P and NP are not included in the computation of the grade point average. Students who desire to register for courses with the Pass/Not Pass option may do so by submitting a request on an add form with the proper approval to the Registrar’s Office. Some courses do not allow P/NP and will, therefore not accept a P/NP designation. Pass/Not Pass option is available up to the third day of the semester. Courses taken as Pass/Not Pass are not included in the computation of grade point average for Honor Roll distinction.

Course Numbering System

Courses are numbered according to the following system:

- Below 100: Pre-college level courses
- 100 and 200: Courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores
- 300 and 400: Courses primarily for juniors and seniors

Students will be best served if they closely follow this schedule.

Modes of Instruction

BYUH has the following modes of instruction:

In Person (Sec. 1, 2, 3) Classes with a scheduled time and classroom
Hybrid (Sec. 100) Classes with blended in-class and online instruction
On-campus online (Sec. 200) Classes without a classroom and time, but with an on-campus component, like tests in the Testing Center
Online-only Classes without any on-campus component

Please note that section numbers of a given course may also contain additional information. For example,

- Section 0-99 indicate a face-to-face on-campus instruction mode
- Section 100-199 indicates a hybrid mode of instruction, meaning a combination of face-to-face and online instruction
- Section 200-299 indicates an on-campus online (all courses would have a required on-campus component)
- Section 300-399 indicates online-only instruction

Withdrawal from a Class

Any student withdrawing from individual classes after the drop period and during the withdrawal period (see the academic calendar for deadlines) must contact the instructor of the class with the appropriate form and complete the withdrawal procedure. No withdrawals are permitted after the established deadline. Based on the student’s academic performance to that date, the professor will assign either a W (passing at the time of withdrawal) or WF (failing at the time of withdrawal). A student who does not withdraw properly will receive an F grade. The WF is also calculated as a failing grade and may affect a student’s academic standing.

Repeated Classes

BYU-Hawaii Classes: Students may repeat as many classes as they choose as long as they are able to complete all graduation requirements within the allotted time. It is important to recognize that the most recent grade will replace the previous grade, whether it is higher or lower.

Transfer Credit: In order for a transfer grade to be replaced, the student must repeat that course at the institution where the original course was taken and then transfer the credit to BYU-Hawaii.

A course repeated at an institution other than the one at which it was taken originally and other than at BYU-Hawaii will not be counted as a repeat. When a class has been repeated, the most recent grade and credit hours will be used in computing the grade point average.

If a class taken at a different institution is repeated at BYU-Hawaii the transfer record of the previous class will be adjusted to show it as an elective class. This will allow the student to receive credit for the previous class, but avoid problems with the calculations of repeated classes. If a class taken from BYU-Hawaii Distance Learning is repeated once the student is matriculated at BYU-H then the class will be treated as a repeat of a BYU-Hawaii class and the most recent grade will replace the previous grade, whether it is higher or lower.

Classes Taken by Audit

Students who wish to audit a class (take a course without receiving any credit for it) may register or add the class on the first day of the semester by submitting an add/drop form signed by the instructor to the registrar’s office. The add/drop form must indicate the student’s desire to take it as an audit. These classes will appear as a “V” on the student’s transcript and do not affect a student’s grade point average. Students must be officially enrolled to be eligible to attend classes. (The charge for auditing classes is the same as for credit classes.)

Final Exam Schedule

Final exams are to be offered on the specific day and time as determined by the official final exam schedule. Students must plan travel, family visits, etc., in a way that will not interfere with their final exams. Less expensive air fares, more convenient travel arrangements, family events or activities, and any other non-emergency reasons are not considered justification for early or late final exams.

Exceptions to this policy should be submitted in writing to the Dean of the faculty as soon as possible.

Semester Credit Overload Policy

An undergraduate student in good academic standing may register for as many as 18 hours of credit in fall or winter semester or 12 hours in spring semester by following the regular registration procedure. Credit hours taken in excess of 18 for fall and winter or 12 for spring are considered credit overload. All credit overloads require the permission and signature (on an add/drop form) of the student’s major program Dean.

Course Fees

See Tuition and Fees section

Discontinue from the University (Complete Withdrawal)

Discontinuing from the university consists of withdrawing from ALL classes in a semester. It is recommended that students counsel with instructors, academic advisors, financial aid counselors, international student counselors (for international students), or members of the Counseling Center before making the decision to discontinue. Students discontinuing their entire registration at the university are able to apply for discontinuance through the Request Discontinuance page in Student Self Service in the mybyuh application. Prior to requesting a discontinuance, students must check with the housing office regarding contractual obligations and the consequences that may occur by submitting a discontinuance.

Students with no registration who leave school without notification to the university will automatically be discontinued that semester. Any student discontinued will be required to reapply for admission. All students leaving for an extended period, no matter the reason, should discontinue enrollment and then reapply for admission.

For financial information, please see the sections under Discontinuance—Tuition Charge/Refund under the Tuition and Fees page.

Leave Semester

Eligibility

To be eligible for requesting a leave semester, all students must have attended at least two consecutive full-time semesters. In addition, international students must meet with the Dean of Students before requesting a leave of absence to see if they are eligible to continue with the process.

Procedure

Continuing students who wish to take a semester off but not discontinue may apply for a leave semester. Those who will be leaving for more than a semester should discontinue and reapply. The exception to this is domestic students leaving to serve a mission. They may indicate their release date and be granted a Leave of Absence that will allow them to return the semester after their mission is completed. International students leaving on a mission must discontinue and reapply to meet Federal immigration requirements.

Students on a leave semester may not live in on-campus housing or have health benefits from BYU-Hawaii. If you have signed a housing contract for the semester in which you want to take a leave, you should check with housing regarding the obligations and consequences that may arise.

Those who will be gone for just one semester will not need to reapply to take classes the semester following the Leave. Students will be term activated for the following semester and are expected to register for on-campus classes. Failure to do so will result in discontinuance.

Additional Rules Specific to International Students

without renewing their visa. See International Student Services Office for more information.

International students who stay in the U.S. during a leave semester may not live on campus and must have proof of insurance that covers them during this time in order to be in the U.S. legally. Additionally, they may not work in the U.S. except on campus (BYU-H or PCC) without being in an academic work program such as a university approved internship.

Double-Dipping Rules

- There are no double-dipping credit limits (Premise - if you have done the coursework to earn a program, then it is awarded.
- You may not major and minor in the same subject. In addition, if a minor is completely embedded within a major, this is not allowed.
- Double-dipping between the same major/minor and certificates is allowed.

Allotment of Time in Residence

BYU-Hawaii has a year-round Academic Calendar with fall, winter, and spring semesters. Students are expected to attend all three semesters and graduate within four years. Students may be permitted to complete their degree beyond four years if the relevant requirements are completed away from campus. (i.e., online courses at the end of their studies). Furthermore, the four-year limit may be extended to accommodate an internship for credit if the internship site is located off-island in the student’s home country or elsewhere in the non-U.S. Asia-Pacific region. All other internships must be completed within the four years.

Within this allotment of four years, students must make progress towards a degree in order to maintain their eligibility to graduate in their desired major. Students who fail to make progress because of repeated failures will still need to finish within four years, but they may need to graduate with a different major or with an Associate’s Degree.

Although students may elect to take elective courses or programs beyond those required to complete the Holokai requirements, participation in these additional courses or programs does not grant a student any additional allotment of residency.

For students who test into intermediate-level English as an International Language (EIL) classes, the four-year allotment does not commence until the student completes two semesters of EIL or when the student begins Academic I Level coursework (whichever comes first).

Students enrolled in EIL courses who are not engaging in their studies by attending class and doing their assignments or who cannot make progress after repeating EIL core courses may be suspended for lack of progress.

BYU-Hawaii students are expected to attend classes during all three semesters each year. Requests for a leave of absence (LOA) during one of the semesters must be approved by the university by the Dean of Students. Note that special rules may apply for international students because of immigration laws.

The time allotment for students with previous college credit will be prorated based on the principle of a four-year total following evaluation of credits accepted.

To ensure that students make the most of their time at BYU-Hawaii, internal deadlines are established to ensure that appropriate progress towards graduation is being made. Again, students who fail to make progress because of repeated failures will still need to finish within the given allotment of semesters, but they may need to graduate with a different major or with an Associate’s degree. All students should have a Major Academic Plan (MAP) by the time they reach 30 hours of credit. By the time they reach 60 hours, if a student is not able to graduate within the remaining semesters in their current major, they will need to choose another major.

Internship Policy

1. PURPOSE
The purpose of internships is to increase students’ employability and make it more feasible to return and serve in their home countries. Additionally, an internship opportunity should advance program outcomes.

2. POLICY
Internships prior to the end of the student’s studies at the university must fit within the student’s enrollment time allotment. An internship at the end of the student’s studies may extend beyond the time allotment if the following criteria are all met:

   1. The internship is registered as part-time (fewer than 12 credits fall or winter or fewer than 8 credits spring).
   2. The internship is not classified as a reduced course load.
   3. All other graduation requirements have been completed or will be completed away from campus.
   4. For international students, the internship is completed outside the United States of America (U.S.).

3. IMPLEMENTATION

   3.1 Eligibility
Students must have completed at least 60 credits total, as well as at least 8 credits within the field of study. Individual programs may apply additional requirements. In addition, the student must be in good academic, financial, Title IX, and honor code standing while preparing for, immediately upon leaving, and during the full internship period. It is also expected that students will attend an internship preparation workshop to prepare to represent the university.

   3.2 Credits
Internship credit is awarded based on the normal academic standard of 45 hours/credit/semester. These hours may include preparation, training, reflection, writing, completion of the internship, and final presentation. Internship credit awarded will reflect the actual work completed. This will be pre-determined by the faculty coordinator and outlined in the internship agreement between student and faculty.

All international students are required by law to be full-time students during internship semesters completed during the students’ allotment. This full-time status can be achieved completely with internship hours or with a combination of internship and other classes. If online classes are used to reach full time status, at least 9 credits must be face-to-face classes (including the internship) during fall or winter semesters, and at least 6 credits must be face-to-face for spring semester.

Domestic students are not required by law to be registered full-time during internship semesters, although they must understand that the normal student benefits associated with full-time status will not be available if they register for fewer than 12 total credits during fall or winter semesters or 8 total credits during spring semester.

If an internship falls in the last semester within the student’s allotment, they can qualify for a reduced course load by meeting with their Academic Advisor. However, a reduced course load will not be granted for any internship semesters allowed beyond the student’s allotment (see above).

3.3 Tuition
Internship credits are charged at a one-half tuition rate. Any other courses enrolled in during the same semester are charged the full tuition rate.

3.4 Registration
Students will register within the semester in which the internship begins. If the internship spans multiple semesters, it will be registered in both semesters with credits awarded proportional to the amount of work associated with each semester. Summer internships will be registered for the following fall semester for continuing students. Those graduating at the end of a summer internship will be registered in the previous spring semester. International students may not do a U.S.-based summer internship at the end of their studies due to immigration laws.

3.5 Employment and Benefits
For the details of employment rules and university benefits connected with full-time registration, students should check with the relevant department.

3.6 Application and Approval
Students apply for an internship through the Handshake system (see the Ho’okele Office).

Approval is a three or four-step process involving the following entities. Students should not assume approval until all of the following steps are completed:

1. Academic appropriateness of the internship relative to the student’s field of study is evaluated by the relevant program internship coordinator, and the internship agreement is created.
2. Financial, Title IX, and Honor Code standing is evaluated by the Office of the Dean of Students.
3. International students must also receive approval from International Student Services. Students should be aware that additional eligibility requirements may exist depending on the type of visa held.
4. Approval of academic, financial, and policy eligibility is granted by the Ho’okele Office.

3.7 Funding
See the Ho’okele Office (Career and Alumni Services) for possible funding opportunities.

Academic Standards

Academic Standing

The purpose of this policy is to detect early challenges that students might be facing in regards to their grades and progress towards graduation. By identifying students who are struggling, early interventions can be identified and advice can be given that can help the student be successful.

Grade Probation:

A student will be placed on grade probation if they fall into any of the following categories:

- Student has attempted at least 24 credits and the Cumulative GPA is below 2.0
- Student semester GPA is below 1.5 regardless of Cumulative GPA or attempted credits

Students on Grade Probation are subject to the following consequences and corrective processes:

- Students are required to meet with the Center for Academic Success to develop an academic plan and determine which section of STDEV 101R course to take. Successful completion of STDEV 101R is expected from all academic probation students.
- Students who fail to meet with the Center will have a hold placed on their registration.

The intent of this policy is to ensure that the student has the support needed to improve their academic performance and to make progress related to raising the Cumulative GPA and/or semester GPA above 2.0. Working with the Center for Academic Success is required. Failure to progress will result in grade suspension the following semester.

Role of Faculty Member

Due to the short number of days between semesters, it is critical for faculty to submit grades within the established time frame to give the Registrar’s office twenty-four hours to notify students of grade probation status.

Grade Suspension (Any Subsequent Semester):

When a student has been placed on grade probation for one semester and their grade GPA for the next semester and their cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 they will be placed on Grade Suspension. Rather than appealing to be able to return to school, a student is placed on grade suspension in abeyance and are given one more semester in which they can prove they can be successful. A student who is granted grade suspension in abeyance must obtain a 2.0 GPA for each semester that they attend or they will have to go home. There are no longer any appeals for suspended students. A suspended student cannot register for any classes on campus for twelve continuous months. This includes but is not limited to registering for Continuing Education classes, taking classes at a reduced load or for audit and taking classes as a part-time or non-degree seeking student.

A student will remain on grade suspension in abeyance until their cumulative GPA gets above 2.0 and the committee feels they have earned the right to remain in school.

D Grade Policy

Purpose:
The purpose of this policy is to clarify the university’s stand on D grades.

Policy:
There is no D grade restriction for the university.
University academic standing and graduation standards are based on GPA (2.0).
There is no D grade limit for completing minors or certificates.
Rules regarding D grades in the majors are determined by the faculty units housing the major and approved by the University Curriculum Council.

Grading and Records

The following letter grades are given at the university. The grade point average may be computed by using the numeric values indicated.

Other marks are given as follows: I (Incomplete), NS (Grade Not Submitted), P (Passing), NP (Not Passing), T (Course Work in Progress), W (Withdrawn), and V (Audit).

The I Grade

The letter grade I (Incomplete) is to indicate that the required work for a class has not been completed. Students do not reregister for a class for which they have an Incomplete. An I is given only when extenuating circumstances beyond the control of the student make it impossible to complete the required work within the prescribed time. Arrangements must be made between the instructor and the student prior to the end of the semester.

An I Grade Form specifying the work to be completed and the deadline for completion (up to a maximum of one year), prepared by the instructor and approved by the appropriate dean of the faculty, must be turned in to the Registrar’s Office no later than one week after grades are due. The I is never given when a student is failing or has failed a course.

A Grade Change Authorization form must be processed through the Registrar’s Office on completion of the course work. The I is not computed in the grade point average until one year has elapsed, at which time it will be computed as an F (failing grade) if the course requirements have not been completed.

The NS Grade

When a faculty member does not submit a final grade by the specified deadline, the grade of “NS” will be posted by the Registrar’s office on the student’s official record. NS means “grade was not submitted.” An NS grade will not affect a student’s final grade or the grade point average. However, the student will not earn any credit for the course as long as the NS grade remains. The NS grade may affect scholarships, financial aid, housing, graduation status and transcripts. Faculty members have the responsibility to change the NS designation to the proper final grade.

P and NP Grades

P is used to indicate the successful completion of a course taken on the pass/not pass option. This option is available to students at the university as a means of encouraging study outside the chosen major and is limited to one course per semester or term. An elective course, a course for which credit is received by examination, and any course specifically designated may utilize the pass/not pass option. Classes in the student’s major (with some exceptions), religion, general education, or EIL classes may not be taken with this option. Students electing this option will be given the P grade if their work in the course is rated as equivalent to C or better. If the work is not rated at this level, NP will appear on the permanent record. The P and NP are not included in the computation of the grade point average.

The T Grade

A grade of T indicates course work in progress and is only used in 399R and other internship courses in which work may extend beyond the semester. The T grade may be changed to A, B, C, D, F, or P, depending on the grade rule for the course, when the work is completed. A T grade does not affect a student’s GPA until one year has elapsed, at which time it is computed as an F (failing grade) if the course requirements have not been completed.

W and WF

Students discontinuing a class officially during the add and drop period will have no listing of the class entered on their permanent record. Students withdrawing from a class during the 2nd to 5th week for fall and winter and 2nd to 3rd week for spring, will not have a grade of W appear on their permanent record. From the 6th week through the 9th week for fall and winter and 4th through 5th week for spring, the instructor is asked to give a report of the grade status (passing or failing) at the time of the withdrawal. A grade of W will be entered on the record of a student who is passing at the time of withdrawal and a WF for those who are failing. The W is not used in computing the student’s grade point average. The WF is counted as 0.00 grade points.
Be aware that for the purposes of calculating full-time status for international students and for federal financial aid, a W or a WF in a class will not count towards the total number of required credits. International students may not withdraw from a class if it will put them below 12 credits (full time) because they will be out of status. For Federal Aid purposes W/ WF grades do not count toward minimum enrollment for eligibility but do count toward the percentage of credits completed for Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements.

International students who fail to maintain full time status (i.e. maintaining registration in at least 12 credit hours per semester) are considered out of status by the federal government and are subject to removal (deportation) immediately. In certain situations international students who are approved for Reduced Course Load, may drop below 12 credit hours per semester and still maintain full time status.

Grade Reports

Grades are available to students via the Internet at the end of each semester.

Dean’s List

The Dean’s List is composed of the top 5% of full-time students who complete at least 15 credit hours during fall or winter semester or 9 during spring semester (excluding precollege level courses). Those students who qualify for the Dean’s List receive a certificate in recognition of their achievement from the Vice President of Academics.

Student Records Policy

Student educational records at BYU–Hawaii are generally accessible to eligible students according to the provisions of The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). BYU–Hawaii has adopted an Access to Student Records Policy which explains in detail student rights relating to their educational records. A copy of the policy is available at the Registrar’s Office.

Please refer to the FERPA Guidelines in this catalog for a summary notice of student rights to their educational records at BYU–Hawaii.

Credit Recognized by BYU–Hawaii

In addition to enrolling in courses at BYU–Hawaii, a student may earn credit that will be recognized by the university in the following ways:

1.) Transfer credit from an accredited Independent Study program. These programs include, but are not limited to, BYU Provo’s Independent Study program.

2.) Transfer credit from courses taken through BYU-Hawaii Distance Learning. Courses taken through BYU-Hawaii Distance Learning online program (DL) will be transferred over. These classes are not part of the normal BYU-Hawaii curriculum and must be transferred in order to become part of the student’s academic record. Starting in summer 2014, all grades transferred from DL classes will become part of the student’s cumulative GPA as a UG student at BYU-Hawaii. These classes will not count towards residency for graduation or Religion residency hours, but may count for content requirements for Religion. Note: Undergraduate online-only classes (section 300) taken through the regular registration process are identical to regular in-class course offerings and are distinct from DL classes.

3.) Transfer credit by BYU-Hawaii for courses completed at an institution accredited by one of the following regional associations or is an institution sponsored by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.
   - Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (MSA-CHE)
   - North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA-HLC)
   - New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC-CIHE)
   - Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges (NWCCU)
   - Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS)
   - Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC-ACSCU)
   - Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC-ACCJC)

Credit from international schools must be submitted for evaluation to the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University.

All college transcripts will be evaluated to determine admissibility of an applicant even if all or any of that credit is not accepted for transfer.

4.) Pass a special examination for credit in certain courses offered by the University. (Religion courses and classes requiring a laboratory or a portfolio are not among those that can be challenged.) Such credit will be given only to currently enrolled students with the joint consent of the dean of the faculty in which the student is registered and the dean of the faculty in which the class is offered. A fee of $10.00 is charged prior to taking each special examination, and, if passed, an additional $5.00 per credit hour. If a student challenges a course and fails the exam, he/she must wait one full semester before he/she can re-challenge that course and receive credit by examination. Test credit does not count towards semester enrollment.

5.) Complete the Advanced Placement (AP) examinations, with satisfactory scores. AP scores will be evaluated as transfer credit in the Registrar’s Office (refer to Advanced Placement in the index).

6.) Complete the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) in approved courses. BYU–Hawaii will grant credit in some sub areas (specific subject matter courses) in which the student scores sufficiently high and three hours of non-graded credit in those general areas in which sufficiently high scores are received. Transcripts are reviewed and credit is granted on a case by case basis as approved by the university.

7.) Serve in the armed forces. A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services, published by the American Council on Education, has been adopted by BYU–Hawaii as a basis for evaluating college-level training and experiences in the armed forces. Students must submit an official copy of their DD214 form to the School Certifying Official in Admissions for evaluation prior to completion of 24 credits or 2 semesters.

Transfer Credit

Application of transfer credit will be determined on a course by course equivalency basis. All transfer courses with a C- grade or better will be accepted by BYU–Hawaii as credit. Credit for courses of a remedial nature (usually numbered 99 and below) will not be transferable. Vocational credit may be considered on a case-by-case basis. BYU–Hawaii does not transfer Grade Point Averages (GPA) when transferring credits from other institutions.

Students who transfer with an Associate degree from an accredited college or university, not including Associate of Applied Science, will be required to complete:

- A major
- The four CORE Religion courses and residency
- Religion requirements
- Advanced Writing - English 315

Students with an Associate of Applied Science must complete the full Holokai program. Students should see an advisor for any possible transfer equivalencies.

Ordering Transcripts

Registrar’s Office, LSB 1st Floor, (808) 675-3732
https://registrar.byuh.edu/registrar/transcripts

Transcripts can be ordered by the following:

All transcript requests are now submitted through the National Student Clearinghouse. This can be accessed through your mybyuh account and selecting Transcript Ordering Services OR

If you have forgotten/don’t have a CESnet ID you may go to www.getmytranscript.org and select Brigham Young University Hawaii on the school dropdown menu to start the process of ordering a transcript.

Call (808) 675-3732 with any questions.

Transcript Record Holds

No student’s transcript or other record at the university will be released to the student or to any other person or institution until all the student’s outstanding obligations to the university are paid or until satisfactory arrangements have been made. These obligations include, but are not limited to, fees outstanding, university standards violations, international students who become illegal aliens, etc.

Grievances

Student Academic Grievance Policy

On occasion, a student may feel that his or her work has been evaluated unfairly or inadequately by an instructor. In such an instance, the student is encouraged to pursue the matter informally, involving discussion between the student and faculty member regarding the issue. The scripture in D&C 42:88 is applicable and hopefully will serve as a guide: “And if thy brother or sister offend thee, thou shalt take him or her between him or her and thee alone; and if he or she confess thou shalt be reconciled.”

When the matter is such that a more formal process is needed, the following policy provides the means by which resolution of such grievances can be obtained.

Body of Policy

1. The student first brings the grievance to the attention of the instructor involved. The resolution of grievances is best accomplished between student and instructor directly. The student must initiate the grievance within four months from the last day of the examination period of the semester in which the alleged unfair or inadequate evaluation took place. A grievance related to restrictions limiting participation in university academic programs must be initiated within 30 days of the decision in question. Where military service or the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints mission makes it difficult to bring the grievance to the attention of the instructor or college/school, a later consideration may be permitted.

2. If the student brings the grievance to the attention of the instructor and it is not resolved to the student’s satisfaction, or if the student feels strongly that the instructor will not deal with the grievance fairly, or if the instructor is no longer available on campus, the student can choose to take the matter to the dean of the instructor’s faculty. The grievance must be submitted to the dean in writing. The dean will 1) consider the grievance, 2) review the written grievance with the instructor and the student, and 3) notify the student and instructor of the decision, in writing, within 30 days after the original grievance was filed. The dean will also communicate the decision to the Vice President for Academics.

3. In the event the student is dissatisfied with the decision by the faculty dean, the student can make an appeal to the Vice President for Academics. The appeal should be made in writing no later than 30 days after the date of the dean’s letter of decision. The written appeal should give the details of the grievance. The instructor will also be asked to submit a written statement.

4. The Vice President for Academics will give the student the choice to have the grievance resolved directly by the Vice President or by a special three-member committee. If the student chooses the committee method, the Vice President will appoint a full-time member of the faculty as its chair. The other two members of the committee will be appointed by the student and the instructor, respectively. Each of these members must be either a full-time student or a full-time faculty member.

5. During the grievance hearing, both the student and the instructor will be free to call witnesses. The witnesses may be questioned by the Vice President or committee members. The number of witnesses involved and the conduct of the hearing will be determined by the Vice President or the committee chair.

In reviewing the grievance, the review panel, the affected student, and the affected faculty member are responsible to identify or provide relevant sources of information. The review is intended to be collegial and not adversarial. Accordingly, legal counsel is not allowed to attend nor advocate in the review process. Presentation of the issues should be concise and relevant. The chair of the review panel shall be responsible to conduct the review and establish applicable procedures if such are not available from the dean. Any formal presentation should be limited to pertinent issues, and panel members should be allowed sufficient time to ask questions. Following presentation and discussion of the grievance, the review panel will deliberate in closed session and submit its recommendation to the Vice President.

6. The decision of the Vice President or the committee (its majority vote) will be made within 10 days and will be final and not subject to appeal. The student and instructor will be notified of the decision in writing within 30 days of the date of the hearing.

7. The student should realize that the same process of appeal is available to the instructor. In other words, if the instructor is not satisfied with a faculty dean’s decision, appeal to the Vice President for Academics (including the committee option) is possible.

Other Grievances

The Hawaii Post-Secondary Education Authorization Program (HPEAP) is administered by Hawaii’s Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs (DCCA) and provides oversight of certain post-secondary educational institutions, including BYU-Hawaii (see Hawaii Revised Statutes § 305). Under HPEAP, any BYU-Hawaii student or former student having a complaint involving the university may file the complaint with the DCCA provided that: (i) complaints not involving violations of criminal law should be first submitted to BYU-Hawaii for appropriate resolution; and (ii) complaints from former students must generally be filed within two years of termination of enrollment. The DCCA has jurisdiction to investigate complaints based on violations of criminal law and to investigate other grievances, including alleged violations of HPEAP, if the student or former student has already exhausted with the university all administrative remedies available for those grievances. The DCCA will not investigate under HPEAP complaints that infringe on the academic or religious freedom of, or that question the curriculum content of, BYU-Hawaii. Complaints under HPEAP may also be filed with the University’s accrediting agency, the WASC Senior College and University Commission.

For any grievances related to sexual misconduct or Title IX, please see the link at the bottom of the BYU-Hawaii homepage or go to http://titleix.byu.edu/report

For any other grievances, feel free to directly contact the university administration through the “Contact Us” link at the bottom of the BYU-Hawaii homepage or go to http://about.byu.edu/reportaconcern.

After exhausting all institutional processes, you may seek recourse by contacting the Hawaii Post-Secondary Education Authorization Program (HPEAP). HPEAP may investigate complaints based on possible violations of the Hawaii authorization statutes or rules.

FERPA Guidelines

FERPA stands for Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

View FERPA Powerpoint here: https://catalog.byuh.edu/sites/catalog.byuh.edu/files/Ferpa-2.pdf

Eligible students, admitted and enrolled at BYU-Hawaii, generally have the right to:

1. Inspect and review their educational records within a reasonable period of time upon submitting to the appropriate department managing their educational records a written request, with proof of identification, specifying the records to be inspected. The department will notify the student of the time and place that the records may be inspected.

2. Petition BYU-Hawaii to amend or correct any part of the education record believed to be inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of their privacy rights. Students may submit a written request to the department holding the record, clearly identifying the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the department decides not to amend the record as requested, the department will notify the student of the decision and advise them of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures as outlined in university policy will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. Consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s educational record, except as otherwise authorized by law. Examples of exceptions to consent of disclosure include:

   - Access of educational records by university officials and agents having a legitimate educational interest in the records: This category generally includes any BYU-Hawaii official or agents who accesses student educational records for the purpose of performing a task or responsibility relating to his or her employment or professional responsibility at the university. These individuals may include faculty, administration, staff and other persons who manage student educational record information including, but not limited to, student education, discipline, and financial aid.
   - Parents who establish the student’s dependency for federal income tax purposes.
   - Upon request, BYU-Hawaii will disclose educational records without consent to officials of another college or university to which the student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. File a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning failures by BYU-Hawaii to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605.

BYU-Hawaii has designated the following student information as directory information that it may disclose to the public without the consent of the student:

Discontinuance
See Registration

Graduation

Formal graduation ceremonies are held at the end of each semester at BYU-Hawaii. These will usually be in December, April, and June. Please see the Academic Dates (https://academics.byuh.edu/academicdates) page for the exact date for your graduation.

Application for Graduation

Students who expect to qualify for a degree must apply for graduation. The University recommends that students apply for candidacy the year before they plan to graduate. The application form is available at the Registrar’s Office. The deadline for the completed application form to be submitted to the Registrar’s Office is the semester prior to your final semester.

The Registrar’s Office will notify students in writing of the requirements to be completed for a degree from BYU-Hawaii. If the student does not graduate on the date indicated on the application, the evaluation will be held for a future graduation date without charge. Student should notify Registrar’s office when outstanding requirements are completed.

Attendance at Commencement

The Graduation Exercise at which people march and are formally recognized is called Commencement. Candidates will indicate on their graduation application if they intend to march at graduation. Those who do not march will receive their degree in absentia.

Diplomas

Diplomas will be mailed to students after all final grades are in, all graduation requirements have been certified complete, and all restrictions have been cleared.

Change in Graduation Requirements

The University reserves the right to change the requirements for graduation at any time, and candidates may be required to comply with all changes pertaining to the incomplete portions of their requirements.

Exceptions to the Graduation Requirements

Waivers of published graduation requirements are granted only in exceptional cases. Application for a waiver in the major/minor/certificate is made to the Dean over the major. Substitutions in the graduation requirements are granted by the dean over the major/minor/certificate program.

Scholastic Recognition

University Honors

Detailed explanations of the Honors Program are available in the Dean’s office for the College of Arts and Humanities and in the Honors section of this catalog.

Summa, Magna, Cum Laude Recognition

There are three categories of academic recognition awarded to graduating students at commencement who have earned a minimum of 45 semester hours of credit at BYU-Hawaii. These are: summa cum laude (GPA 3.85–4.00), magna cum laude (GPA 3.70–3.84) and cum laude (GPA 3.50–3.69).

Graduation Requirements

A student may be awarded the bachelor’s degree upon completion of the requirements listed below:

Credits

Grade Point Average

The student’s record must show a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 (C or higher) in all work presented in fulfillment of requirements. Students may not graduate in a semester in which they are on academic probation. Transfer students must show at least a 2.00 GPA for their residence credit at BYU–Hawaii.
Major Requirement

A student must complete a major program with at least 15 hours of credit in the major program earned at BYU–Hawaii. A student’s graduation date will not be extended for a minor or second major. Due to changes which occur from time to time in major and minor requirements, it is the responsibility of the dean of the college offering the major or minor to certify that requirements are properly fulfilled.

Double Majors and Double Minors

It is expected that students will graduate after four calendar years at BYU–Hawaii (minimum 120 semester hours of earned credit). Students with transfer credit should graduate in a shorter time period and will not be allotted the full four years to complete their graduation requirements. Students who wish to enhance their educational experience at BYU–Hawaii by adding additional minors, certificates, or majors are welcome to do so with the understanding that these must also be completed within the four-year allotment. Given the generous tuition subsidy paid by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Church, a double major would not be approved unless it can be earned within four years.

Certificates

BYU-Hawaii awards certificates as part of a degree program. Students may not have an academic plan that consists solely of receiving a certificate. When a degree is awarded, any certificate earned within the coursework taken as an undergraduate is listed on the transcript and a physical certificate will be issued by the Registrar’s Office along with the diploma.

Baccalaureate Degree Requirements

The Baccalaureate degree at BYU–Hawaii is awarded for the equivalent of, typically, eight semesters of dedicated university study. At BYU–Hawaii this includes not just the discipline of a major, but the foundation of religious education. A student may have more than one major, but there is only one baccalaureate degree. The degree granted (BA, BS, etc.) is associated with the primary major and is declared when application for graduation is made.

Other University Course Requirements

The student must complete the religious education and English proficiency requirements.

Residence Requirements

At least 15 semester hours of credit taken in residence at BYU–Hawaii (15 of which must be in the major) are required for the bachelor’s degree. A maximum of 10 semester hours earned through Educational Outreach may be applied toward this requirement. A student must register on campus for two semesters, not necessarily consecutive, to satisfy the residence requirement. This requirement may be waived for certain programs completed through Educational Outreach if approval is given by the dean of the college sponsoring the program and the director of Educational Outreach. A maximum of 36 semester hours of correspondence credit may be applied toward the total requirement of 120 semester hours. There is a deadline for filing of transfer and correspondence credit and for the removal of incomplete (I) grades from the student’s record. All credit transactions must be complete, except for filing of final grades, two weeks prior to the date of commencement.

Students not currently in residence at BYU–Hawaii who desire to transfer credits to the University and take their degree from BYU–Hawaii will be able to do so provided they left school in “good standing” and filed their graduation application.

Graduating Student Survey

The Graduating Student Survey is required of all students the semester they graduate. The purpose of this survey is to aid the University in evaluating its instructional programs and to provide data for University research. Diplomas and transcripts will not be available until a student has completed the survey.

Adherence to University Standards

A student’s graduation may be delayed or denied if he or she is found in violation of the BYU–Hawaii Honor Code.

Note: Any hold, warning, or probation by the Honor Code Office must be properly cleared well before graduation.

Finance & Housing

Tuition and Fees

Cashier’s Office, LSB 1st Floor, (808) 675-3718

Tuition and class fees are due the third Wednesday from when classes begin each semester. (See the current Academic Calendar for dates.) Students who fail to pay tuition by this day will jeopardize their eligibility to enroll in subsequent semesters.

Students who decide not to return should contact the Registrar’s Office to drop all classes. Discontinuance must be completed prior to the first day of classes to avoid a withdrawal fee. Tuition will be charged from the first day of classes to the date the discontinuance office receives the official discontinuance notification at the percentage rate listed under the Refund Schedule that follows on the next page. Those who do not drop their classes will retain them on their records and will be charged tuition. Once students register for classes, they are officially enrolled and committed to attend.

Students may add or drop classes online through the first three days of school. Students cannot drop all their classes on the Web if they decide not to attend. Instead, they must file for discontinuance. Students who anticipate receiving financial aid will be held responsible to pay tuition charges by the deadline date whether financial aid is available or not. Questions regarding tuition and fee assessment should be addressed to the BYUH Financial Services Office (Administration Building). The university reserves the right to change tuition and fees without notice. The charge for noncredit courses or for auditing courses is the same as for credit courses. Full-time status (for tuition assessment) for all undergraduate students is registration for 12 or more credit hours per semester (or 8 or more credit hours for Spring semester.)
Part-time status (for tuition assessment) for all undergraduate students is registration for less than 12 credit hours per semester (or less than 8 credit hours for Spring semester). The tuition paid as a part-time undergraduate student does not entitle the student to health service, student activity privileges, or physical education suit and facility privileges.

Refunds

The refund schedule listed below. Any unpaid charges or encumbrances will be deducted from any refund to a student due to a tuition adjustment. Refund checks will be available to students based on the current refund policy, a copy of which is available on the BYUH Financial Services website.

Discontinuance-Tuition Charge/Refund

In the event of withdrawal, discontinuation or drop by a student, tuition will be adjusted on the following basis:

- Fall/Winter Semesters
  - Adjustment %
    - 100% up to 15 days after classes start
    - 90% up to 25 days after classes start
    - 50% up to 35 days after classes start
    - 25% up to 50 days after classes start
  - Time of Discontinuance or drop

- Spring Semesters
  - Adjustment %
    - 100% up to 15 days after classes start
    - 50% up to 20 days after classes start
    - 25% up to 25 days after classes start

The tuition adjustment will be calculated based on the day that the withdrawal form is submitted to the Registrar’s Office with clearance signatures. A withdrawal fee of $10 will be charged for students who discontinue. No refund of scholarships or awards will be granted to a student. Class fees are also adjusted on a pro-rata basis using the schedule above unless the fees are for materials provided at the beginning of class in which case no refund will be provided to students who received such materials.

For more information, see http://financialaid.byuh.edu/?q=cost_of_attendance

A significant portion of the cost of operating the university is paid from the tithes of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Therefore, students and families of students who are tithe-paying members of the Church have already made a contribution on the operation of the university. Because others will not have made this contribution, they are charged a higher tuition, a practice similar in principle to that of state subsidized universities charging higher tuition to nonresidents.

Dishonored Checks

Any student whose check is dishonored by his or her bank will be charged a handling fee of $20. Check-cashing privileges may be terminated at the discretion of the Director of Financial Services.
regulations may require the school to return a portion to the appropriate lending institution or Pell Grant Account. This may entail collecting back from the student any refunds already disbursed. Any unpaid charges or encumbrances will be deducted from the refund amount due any student who withdraws. Any refund due a student because of withdrawal from school will be made approximately four weeks from the date on which the withdrawal was reported by the Registrar’s Office.

Class Fees
Class fees change from time to time. Please contact the Registrar’s Office at (808) 675-3736 for current information.

Student Medical Benefit
Student Medical Benefit office, ACR 102, (808) 675-3512, https://healthcenter.byuh.edu/smb

Effective First Term 2010, all full-time students registered for at least 12 credits with one face-to-face class will automatically be enrolled in the BYU-Hawaii Student Health Plan with no additional charge. If students wish to add dependents to their Student Medical Benefit, they may enroll them to the family SMB by going to the SMB office to fill out the dependent forms. This needs to be completed during the first week of their first semester at BYUH. There is minimal cost to adding a dependent to the family SMB.

International students are required to add all their dependent(s) to the BYU-H Student Medical Benefits.

If a student drops below the full-time credit requirement without an approved reduced load, the student and their dependent(s) are automatically terminated from the Student Medical Benefit (SMB). Please click on the following link to see 3rd party insurance coverage options. Go to https://healthcenter.byuh.edu/note/151.html

Domestic students have the option to add their dependent(s) to the BYU-H Student Medical Benefits.

If a student drops below the full-time credit requirement without an approved reduced load, the student and their dependent(s) are automatically terminated from the Student Medical Benefit (SMB) and will not be eligible to enroll in the school’s plan until the next open enrollment in the following Fall semester.

To enroll dependents to the BYU-H Student Medical Benefit, come to the Student Medical Benefit Office located at Aloha Center Room 102 to complete the enrollment form. Dependent rates are as follows:

Registration Deadline: Students need to register for at least 12 credits with one face-to-face class for Fall/Winter (8 credits for Spring) before the registration deadline; otherwise, a penalty charge of $75.00 will be posted in the student’s account.

Registration Deadlines are as follows:
- Fall Semester - June 15
- Winter Semester - November 1
- Spring Semester - March 1

For more information, you can visit the Student Medical Benefit office, Aloha Center Room 102 or contact us at (808) 675-3512, Fax number (808) 675-4601 or e-mail us at beth.martin@byuh.edu.

Financial Policies
The University has established the following financial policies relating to the collection of tuition, fees, housing and other charges from students.

Financial Statements
An email will be sent to each student at their preferred email address once statements are available to view online.

These statements will show the status of the student’s account, including charges, payments received, and past due amounts. These statements do not relieve the student from making required payments by the deadlines listed in this catalog.
Payment Method

All payments must be paid in U.S. currency and be received by BYU-Hawaii by the deadline dates listed in the Academic Calendar in this catalog. They may be paid online or to the BYU-Hawaii Cashier’s Office either in person or by mail but must be received on or before the deadline dates.

If paying by mail, allow enough time for the mail to get to BYU-Hawaii. Send a check or money order. Do not send cash by mail. Payments can also be made by bank credit card online, in person at the Cashiers Office, or over the phone. Credit cards accepted: Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express.

Delinquent Accounts

If an unsatisfactory financial relationship occurs because of unpaid fees, fines, housing, returned checks, loss of property or breakage, the following recourse may be taken by the University:

1. The student will not be allowed to advance register for future semesters/terms if he/she has past due balances.
2. Withholding of academic credit. No transcript of credits, recommendation, registration or readmission to the University will be allowed until the obligation is cleared.
3. In the event students become delinquent in the payment of their financial obligations BYU-Hawaii may assess (a) a financial charge in the amount of 1% per month against all unpaid debts over thirty days old, (b) all late charges, and (c) all costs of collection incurred by BYU-Hawaii including reasonable costs, expenses and attorney’s fees incurred in collecting the debt. BYU-Hawaii may elect to turn student account balances over to an outside collection agency if we are unable to make satisfactory arrangements for payment with the student.

The above steps may be taken by the Director of Financial Services without further notice if a satisfactory arrangement is not made after the student has once been notified regarding his or her financial responsibility.

Financial Aid and Scholarships

Financial Aid Office, LSB 1st Floor, (808) 675-3316

The Financial Aid Office provides the following services:

1. Federal Financial Aid (Pell Grants, Teach Grant, Stafford Loans, PLUS loans)
2. Scholarships and Awards
3. International Work Opportunity Returnability Kuleana Program (IWORK)
4. Hukilau Program
5. Financial Aid Counseling
6. BYU-Hawaii Deferred Payment Plan
7. BYU-Hawaii Book Loans

A list of financial resources available to BYU-Hawaii students is available at http://financialaid.byuh.edu/

Over the past decade the cost of obtaining an excellent university education has increased considerably. As a result, many students and their families have found it difficult to obtain the funds to pursue an education. The university is sensitive to this situation and to those students who are hard-pressed to finance their studies. We strive to assist those who need additional resources to further their studies find alternatives where possible.

Financial aid available at BYU-Hawaii comes from various federal, state, and university programs in the form of loans, scholarships, and grants. The Financial Aid Office staff coordinates these financial aid programs and assists students in identifying financial resources for which they might qualify. Because financial need usually exceeds the amount of financial aid available through university and federal programs, the distribution of financial aid at BYU-Hawaii is generally based on a combination of the student’s unmet need, academic performance, and other pertinent factors.

The process of determining a student’s eligibility for financial aid is called need analysis. During the need analysis process, income and asset information from both the student and parents is examined to determine the family’s ability to contribute toward educational costs. This figure, called the expected family contribution (EFC), is subtracted from the cost of attendance, to determine the unmet financial need.

For U.S. citizens and Legal Permanent Residents, BYU-Hawaii uses the standard government need analysis form called the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), in determining how much the student and family is able to contribute toward the cost of the student’s education. For International students, BYU-Hawaii uses the International Student Aid Application (ISAA).

All students applying for financial aid must complete the FAFSA or ISAA. For students who are selected for verification, this includes completing and submitting verification documents.

Even though a standard formula is used to analyze a student’s financial situation, the staff of the Financial Aid Office carefully considers the individual circumstances of each student applying for aid.

Applying for financial aid is complicated and time consuming. Considerable delays and frustrations can arise from filling out forms incorrectly or failing to submit the proper documents in a timely manner. Students and their parents are encouraged to read instructions carefully and to complete all forms and documents correctly.

To learn more details about these programs, email financialaid@byuh.edu.

Federal Aid

Federal Aid, BYU-Hawaii Financial Aid, (808) 675-3316

Federal aid available at BYU-Hawaii includes Pell Grants, Teach Grants, Stafford Loans, and PLUS loans. U.S. citizens, permanent residents, and eligible non-citizens may qualify for Federal Student Aid. The Financial Aid website listed above has links to the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) http://www.fafsa.ed.gov, as well as a link to obtain a FSA ID http://www.fafsa.ed.gov (needed by students and parents of dependent students to electronically sign and submit the FAFSA Application).
To insure the availability of Federal funds to pay tuition and housing charged by the deadlines, it is recommended that the FAFSA should be submitted annually to the government by March 15th. Other required documents such as verification documents should be received by the BYU–Hawaii Financial Aid office by April 30th in order to meet priority processing dates.

Federal student aid recipients are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress (SAP) as outlined on the Financial Aid Office website at http://financialaid.byuh.edu/sap. Recipients must also comply with specific regulations governing each program as outlined by the federal government.

Students who have received federal aid who withdraw from school should contact the Financial Aid Office. When a student withdraws mid-semester, calculations must be made to determine how much of the Federal Aid a student may keep or must return.

Program details, regulations, forms, advisement, and refund requirements for each of the federal student aid programs are available at the BYU–Hawaii Financial Aid Office and on the Financial Aid website.

Students may use funds listed on their award notice only for educational-related expenses incurred at BYU–Hawaii for the respective academic year.

Scholarships and Awards

Scholarship and Awards, BYU–Hawaii Financial Aid, (808) 675-3316

Scholarships and awards are processed and administered by the BYU–Hawaii Financial Aid Office. Scholarships and awards fall into three broad categories: 1) BYU–Hawaii Program awards, 2) Institutional Based awards, and 3) External awards.

Scholarships and awards are valid only for the period for which they are awarded and are subject to the availability of funds. Scholarship and award funds are not available to students until they are admitted and registered at the university, and may not be transferred to other institutions. BYU–Hawaii institutional scholarships, grants, tuition waivers, tuition discounts, and loans may be applied against any expenses recorded on the student account. This may include class fees, participation fees, insurance, and any other institutional charges. (Terms and conditions on scholarship website)

In order for a student to receive a scholarship the student must be enrolled for 14 credits in the fall and winter semester and 9 credits in the Spring semester in which the scholarship will be awarded.

For the most recent information about the availability of scholarships, application forms, and application deadlines, consult the Financial Aid website.

For information regarding International Work Opportunity Returnability Kuleana Program (IWORK), please see information in the IWORK Program section of this catalog.

Tuition Benefit

Tuition Benefit, BYU–Hawaii Human Resources, (808) 675-3713

Regular full-time faculty, staff, and administrative personnel may register for up to a maximum of two classes per semester and one class per term provided one class has to be outside the employee’s work schedule. Approval must be obtained from the employee’s supervisors. Employees taking classes more than 1 hour in a semester must receive approval from their director in addition to their line vice president.

Full-time employees, their spouses and eligible dependents become eligible for tuition benefits upon the employees date of hire. Dependent children are eligible for a half-tuition benefit for undergraduate work only, regardless of marital status. Benefits of dependent children cease when they receive an undergraduate degree, accumulate 152 credit hours, or reach age 30, whichever occurs first. (Included credits taken from BYU–Provo, Idaho, and LDS Business College).

BYU–Hawaii Deferred Payment Plan

BYU–Hawaii Financial Services, (808) 675-3706 http://financialaid.byuh.edu/DeferredPaymentPlan

In harmony with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints philosophy of self-reliance, the BYU–Hawaii Deferred Payment Plan was established to help students who are anticipating future funding to be available within a few weeks, to extend their payment deadlines for the semester. A Deferred Payment Plan is not a long-term solution to address unmet financial need. Payment towards the Deferred Payment Plan begins the second week of school and monthly payments are due for approximately two more months for a Fall or Winter semester and one more month for a Spring semester.

Eligible students may defer payment of tuition, fees, and room & board charges provided they can prove they will have the resources to pay these charges by the due date.

Students who are delinquent in paying deferred charges by the due date will not be eligible for future deferred payment plans or book loans.

Applicants must:

1. Be enrolled at BYU–Hawaii.
2. Not have any past due balance from a prior enrollment period.
3. Demonstrate the ability to pay the deferred amount when due.

BYU–Hawaii Book Loan

It is the responsibility of the student and student’s family (and if applicable the student’s sponsor) to budget appropriately and have funds available to purchase textbooks and supplies at the beginning of each enrollment period.

The university understands that on occasion, financial resources may be delayed and not available at the beginning of the semester/term. The purpose of the BYU–Hawaii Book Loan is to enable qualified students to obtain books and supplies when classes begin and pay for them within 55 days (15 days for a term) when other resources become available.

As of January 1, 2018, all full-time students are pre-approved for a $450 Book Loan each semester. Once the Book Loan is no longer active, the actual loan amount charged to a student’s account will be the actual amount of credit used by the student to purchase books and supplies.
Financial Aid Counseling

Students may meet personally with Financial Aid staff to discuss financial aid options, how to apply for scholarships, budgeting, debt management, and other finance-related topics. To set an appointment, students may walk in to the Financial Aid service counter on the 1st Floor of the Lorenzo Snow Building, or call 808-675-3316.

Other Financial Assistance

State higher education offices, high school, and college financial aid offices in each state or country often have information regarding special financial assistance programs available to residents of their respective state or country. There are also many free scholarship search engines available on the internet. Many external scholarships and scholarship search engines are listed on the BYU-Hawaii Financial Aid website at http://financialaid.byuh.edu/.

IWORK Scholarship

IWORK Scholarship, BYU-Hawaii Financial Aid, (808) 675-3316

The IWORK program is to assist students from the Pacific Rim (South Pacific & Far East) in obtaining a quality education at BYU-Hawaii. It is built on the principle of self-reliance and its goal is to provide the necessary financial assistance to worthy members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints so they can return home to their own countries and regions debt-free and qualified to provide leadership roles in an international church, in civic and social affiliations, and within their families.

The IWORK program is a unique and generous opportunity available only at BYU-Hawaii. The program offers a 50% grant and 50% forgivable loan. The loan portion is only repayable if the recipient chooses not to return to their home region following graduation from BYU-Hawaii.

The Financial Aid website has links to the International Student Aid Application (ISAA) http://www.financialaid.byuh.edu/iworkforms as well as a link for new student applications http://www.financialaid.byuh.edu/iworknew

IWORK program details, forms, advisement, and other pertinent information are available at the BYU-Hawaii Financial Aid Office.

Student Employment

Student Employment, (808) 675-4710 http://hr.byuh.edu

The Student Employment office assists full-time students in finding on-campus student employment. All students are limited to 19 hours per week when school is in session.

Federal law requires all employees to be certified for eligibility to work in the United States.

Students apply for on-campus positions through the WorkDay online job board available at: https://hr.byuh.edu/howtoapplystudentjobs

Student Housing

Brigham Young University of Hawaii Housing offers several living options to assist students with their housing needs. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact us by telephone (808) 675-3534 Monday through Friday 8am - 5pm Hawaii Standard Time (HST), by email housing@byuh.edu or by visiting our office, which is located behind the campus stake center.

Single Student Freshman and Transfer Housing Policy

Freshman and 1st-year Students:

Single students who are admitted as Freshman or 1st-year students are required to live on campus for 3 Semesters in freshman style housing.

If you have completed credits before graduating from high school you are considered a 1st-year student and are required to live on campus for 3 semesters in freshman style housing.

Transfer and Returning Students:

If you are a single student admitted with credits completed after high school graduation at a different school, you are considered a transfer student. If you have attended BYU-H before, left for 2 or more semesters, and had to re-apply to BYU-H you are a returning student. Students on Leave of Absence or internship ARE NOT considered returning students.

If you have completed:

- Completed between 1-12 credits* after high school graduation you are required to live on campus for 2 semesters
- Completed between 12.1 and 24 credits* after high school graduation, you are required to live on campus for 1 semester
- Returning or Transfer students with more than 24 credits completed after high school graduation are eligible for off campus or on campus upper classmen housing. On campus, upper classmen housing is based on availability.

*Credits must be completed and posted to your BYU-Hawaii account by the Save Your Spot deadline for the Semester attending.

Completed credits are credits that have been earned, credits that are in progress may not count if they are not completed by the Save Your Spot deadline.

This policy only pertains to single students without dependents under the age of 25

If you need assistance determining your eligibility please contact the housing office at housing@byuh.edu for assistance.

On-campus Housing

On-campus Housing is extremely limited. Priority goes to new incoming freshman and transfer students with less than 24 credits who are required to live on campus, and sponsored students who are required to live on campus.
Students who don’t fall into one of these categories are advised to secure off campus housing. If you are unable to book a room at the time of your opening date, based on your credit status, rooms often become available due to cancellations. Canceled rooms will become available on the Housing Portal Monday-Friday at 3pm. After the commencement of the semester, available rooms can be booked by visiting the housing office.

A non-refundable $50 application fee is required for access to the housing portal. If you are interested in on-campus housing, you must pay the $50 non-refundable application fee. This will give you access to “Reserve a Room” in the Housing Portal for the academic year Fall-Spring Semester.

Go to the Housing Portal and click Find & Reserve! www.housing.byuh.edu

Personal Items

Homes are typically much smaller in Hawaii, so please be aware that your room on-campus and off-campus can only reasonably accommodate about 2 suitcases worth of personal items during your stay here at BYU-Hawaii. The University does not offer storage facilities, the closest storage facilities are approximately 1 hour away from campus.

Packages CANNOT be mailed before you arrive on-campus. Do not send anything before you arrive. After checking into the dorms, students will be able to go to the Mail Center to sign up for their mail box.

Give and Take:

The university offers a student run program to recycle gently used items. Donations are accepted at the “Give and Take”, the donations are generally from students who are leaving the island. Purchases are made through service, any student can serve to help organize the donated items, and purchase items through hours served (no money is exchanged). The following are typical items found at the Give and Take: Clothing and shoes for adults, teens and children, kitchenware, kitchen appliances, household goods, towels and bedding, clothing, books, school supplies and books, toys for children, car seats, strollers, and seasonal decorations. You can even purchase a bicycle or have your bike repaired through service at the “Give and Take.”

Buy and Sell:

Students can find just about anything on the “Buy and Sell ANYTHING @ BYU-Hawaii” Facebook group. Students can post items to sell, and connect with other students who would like to purchase the item. This page is not operated by the University.

Transportation from the Airport:

Students can take a shuttle from the Honolulu International Airport to the North Shore by making reservations using the following link: northshoreexpress.net.

Parking is limited on-campus. If coming by car, it is recommended that the resident be dropped off with their luggage close to their dormitory, before finding suitable parking in designated areas.

Off-Campus Housing

Options for off-campus housing are posted on our Off-campus Housing web page. There is no application fee for off-campus Housing. Vacancies generally become available 1-2 months before the start of a new semester. Eligible students should begin the process of securing off campus housing when they complete their intent to enroll.

Single BYU-Hawaii students under the age of 25 are required to live in BYU Hawaii approved housing. To determine if housing is approved, please review the listings available on the housing. byuh.edu website off campus housing link or contact our office at housing@byuh.edu.

If you are from Hawaii and live with your parents in Hawaii you may qualify for a family exemption.

Finding off-campus housing may take some time so please keep in mind that listings will go up when they become available and come down as units are taken. It will continue like this up to school starts. If you don’t see many options at any particular time, keep looking. When something does come up, do not hesitate to sign a contract, if it is something you’re interested in, as they are filled quickly.

Our students typically live in the town of Laie and our neighboring towns of Kahuku and Hau’ula. These three communities have large the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints populations and are centrally connected through BYU-Hawaii, the Polynesian Cultural Center and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Hawaii Temple. For more detailed information about the Laie, Kahuku and Hau’ula communities, please click here.

Please remember that Laie is a rural community and most off campus housing are homes with in the small community.

Report my off-campus address

All students living off-campus must report their off-campus address by emailing a copy to offcampushousing@byuh.edu or bringing in a copy to the Housing Office. You will need to send your proof of address which would be a signed rental contract from your landlord or a family exemption letter from your parents. If you do not have a scanner take a clear picture of it and upload the picture. Please be sure to have this submitted as soon as possible, as two weeks after the first day of class, holds will be placed on students accounts who have not yet submitted their off-campus address. This hold will restrict you from registering for classes for the following semester.

Reporting your off-campus address immediately after signing a contract will help avoid these holds, as you would have your landlord’s details and documents ready to upload. It also helps us so we know that you are ok and have your housing situated.

IWORK and University Sponsored Students

All IWORK/Sponsored students are required to live in on-campus housing while attending school. Incoming IWORK students will have their rooms booked for them by the Housing Office before they arrive. After the first semester, all IWORK/Sponsored students are responsible for booking their own rooms each semester. Failure to book their rooms for each semester may result in the loss of their on-campus housing and their IWORK scholarship.
Transportation from the Airport to Campus for Sponsored and IWORK students

Please keep in touch with your Financial Advisor and report your flight information once it is confirmed. Your advisor will help make arrangements for your transportation from the Honolulu Airport to the BYU-Hawaii Campus.

Married Students

New incoming married students must make arrangements to live off-campus, and should expect to live off-campus as full-time students for 2 - 3 semesters before acceptance into on-campus married housing. The TVA (Temple View Apartments) application requires at least one person to be a full-time student with a minimum of 12 credits to be eligible to be on a married student housing wait list. Students may apply for TVA as soon as they are accepted into school, but must become full-time students with a minimum of 12 credits, before they become active on the list. Priority is given to current full time students.

University Requirements

HOLOKAI – YOUR ACADEMIC VOYAGE

Anciently, Pacific Islanders sailed to new lands in voyaging canoes using the stars and waves for navigation. The Hawaiians call this voyage holokai (kai = ocean, holo = to go, to move, to travel).

Today students at BYU-Hawaii chart their own Holokai or academic voyages. Students plan out individual paths to graduation and future destinations by combining a major with two minors or certificates. Mapping out your own Holokai allows you to have both breadth and depth of knowledge in a combination that will set you on your voyage to your own personal destination in life.

Holokai Curriculum

All students share some central academic experiences, Religious Education courses and a core of Math and English. But in addition to that, each student puts together a unique combination of programs that will include something in each category: Arts & Humanities, Math & Sciences, and Professional Studies.

The shared compass for each student’s Holokai are the BYU- Hawaii outcomes, that students develop both breadth and depth of knowledge and the thinking skills and character of a servant- leader, the ability to inquire, analyze, and communicate and to act with integrity, stewardship, and service, to prepare them to serve in a world community as productive, responsible citizens and as faithful members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter- day Saints.

The Three Categories

Arts & Humanities

In the Arts & Humanities category, programs explore what it means to be human and to interact with diverse others. This may take the form of historical, linguistic, or cultural inquiry, or it may be accomplished through active participation in the visual and performing arts.

Math & Sciences

Students will find in the Math & Sciences category, the programs’ primary purpose is to engage students in learning and understanding pure and applied mathematics, algorithms, and/or scientific thinking. We define scientific thinking as a pattern of following the scientific method using quantitative, evidence-based reasoning and the formulation of testable explanations and predictions about the universe and our existence within it.

Professional Studies

In the Professional Studies category, the programs cover a wide range of disciplinary areas. They share a practical focus in helping students be well prepared for active social and civic engagement and to have the skills to help organizations and people learn and succeed.
REQUIREMENTS FOR A BACHELOR’S DEGREE

BYU-Hawaii offers majors and minors in three categories: Arts & Humanities, Math & Sciences, and Professional Studies. In order to earn a BYU-Hawaii degree, students must complete 120 credits and a combination of 1 major from 1 category and 2 minors/certificates (or additional majors if they fit within the 4-year allotment) from each of the remaining categories. The responsibility rests with the students to see that their programs of study satisfy all the requirements for graduation listed in the catalog. Advisors and other members of the faculty and staff will assist in any way possible.

Core Classes + Major and 2 programs from different categories as additional programs may be completed within 4 years.

Core Classes

Mathematics Requirement-Quantitative and Logical Reasoning (3-5 credit hours)

The math requirement can be completed by taking one of the following:

- Statistics: MATH 221, BIOL 340, PSYC 205, POSC 200/300 & POSC 204/304, or ENS 339
- Calculus: MATH 112, MATH 113, or MATH 119
- Trigonometry: MATH 111
- Quantitative Reasoning: MATH 107
- Discrete Mathematics: CIS 205 & 205L

Reading/Writing/Speaking (3 credit hours)

- ENGL 101 Communication in Writing, Speaking, and Reading (3)

Advanced Writing (3 credit hours) The advanced writing requirement can be completed by taking one of the following:

- ENGL 314 Exposition and Analysis in the Humanities (3) or ENGL 315 Topics for Advanced Writing and Analysis (3) or ENGL 316 Technical Writing (3)
- Approved Senior Seminar in the major: BIOL 492, CHEM 494, HIST 490, CS 491-493, IT 491-493

Breadth and Depth of Education

All majors, minors, and certificates are grouped into three areas. To build your Holokai, you will need to choose one program as your major and two programs from different categories as your minors and/or certificates. All the choices for your Holokai should be located in separate columns and rows. Furthermore, you can also choose other programs as additional majors, minors, and/or certificates if they are completed within 4 years.

BYU-H language courses are designed for second language learners, and thus first or native language speakers are not eligible to take courses offered on BYU-H campus.

For those wishing to pursue an Interdisciplinary Studies major with the 2017 Curriculum, the primary and secondary emphases may count as separate breadth areas, but they cannot replace the need for two additional curricular programs in addition to what is in the IDS major. Three of the emphases and/or minors must be in different breadth areas.

Holokai Requirements for Students transferring with an Associate’s Degree

Students who transfer with an Associate degree from an accredited college or university, not including Associate of Applied Science, will be required to complete the following graduation requirements:

- A major
- The four CORE Religion courses and residency Religion requirements
- Advanced Writing - English 315

Students with an Associate of Applied Science must complete the full Holokai program. Students should see an advisor for any possible transfer equivalencies.

Additional Major

Students who wish to enhance their educational experience at BYU-Hawaii by adding a minor, certificate, or courses equivalent to a double major are welcome to do so with the understanding that these must also be completed within the 4-year allotment. Electing to start these additional programs does not grant a student any additional allotment of time. Completing a major and courses equivalent to a second major does not mean that the student will receive two degrees. The bachelor’s degree is the degree awarded and if a student receives the equivalent of two majors they still must decide which degree they wish to receive, e.g. B.A., B.S., etc., as appropriate.
Associates Degrees
Requirement Sheet

• Associate of Art & Sciences
• Associate of Science - Business Management

Starting Winter Semester 2014 the AAS degree became available to be pursued as a Distance Learning degree by students who do not come to campus to study. Starting winter 2016-17 this program is currently not accepting new students. Those who have begun may finish their program.

Starting with the 2017 curriculum, no certificates will be granted in conjunction with the awarding of an Associate’s Degree.

Associate of Arts and Sciences Degree

As of fall 2017, the curriculum of our Associate of Arts and Science degree is unique and closely tied to our Holokai program. The requirements include completing the coursework of two minors or certificates in different categories, ENGL 101, MATH, four REL classes (2 CORE), and a total of 60 credits.

Whereas this degree has intrinsic value, it is unlikely to fulfill general education requirements at another institution. Courses may transfer on a course-by-course basis.

AAS Degree Requirements for new students starting Fall 2017:

Two programs in a different category and a different program from each other General Education Core Requirements as follows (refer to GE requirements page for specific course choices):

• Math Requirement (MATH 107, Statistics, or Calculus)
• ENGL 101
• 2 Core Religion Courses (REL 200, 225, 250, or 275) and two other 2 credit REL courses (total of 8 credits; 2 credits must be from BYUH)
• At least 15 credits of courses from BYUH
• A total of 60 credits overall
• D credit (D+, D, or D-) is limited to 6 credits overall, with up to 3 credits in the cluster, and none of the classes that are prerequisites
• Cluster GPA must be 2.0 or higher
• Cumulative GPA must be 2.0 or higher

Associate of Sciences - Business Management

BUSM Degree Requirements for new students starting Fall 2017:

• One Approved Program or Certificate (15-16 Credits)
• HR Minor (16) or Marketing Minor (15) or HTM Minor (16) or Leadership Minor (15-16)
• A Second Approved Program or Certificate in Arts & Humanities or Math & Science (except Economics Minor) (12 Credits Minimum)
• General Education Core Requirements as follows (refer to GE requirements page for specific course choices):
• Math Requirement (MATH 107, Statistics, or Calculus)
• ENGL 101
• 2 Core Religion Courses (REL 200, 225, 250, or 275) and two other 2 credit REL courses (total of 8 credits; 2 credits must be from BYUH)
• At least 15 credits of courses from BYUH
• A total of 60 credits overall
• D credit (D+, D, or D-) is limited to 6 credits overall, with up to 3 credits in the cluster, and none of the classes that are prerequisites
• Cluster GPA must be 2.0 or higher
• Cumulative GPA must be 2.0 or higher

Independent Study

Independent Study consists of interaction between an individual student and a regularly employed instructor of our campus through the use of communications technology (i.e. mail, telephone, internet, email, audio/video conferencing or other electronic means) instead of regularly scheduled, conventional classroom or laboratory sessions. These courses are listed as 495R/496R.

Online Courses

The means of instruction for some BYU-Hawaii courses is online-only. These classes are identified by section 300 in the enrollment record.

Other modes of instruction include section 200 (on-campus online) and section 100 (hybrid). These modes of instruction are not purely online classes and cannot be taken by students who are away from campus for a semester.

Repeatable Courses

All courses listed with an “R” at the end of the course number are considered repeatable and are counted each time in the computation of the cumulative GPA. Each course will count towards graduation.

Repeatable courses are titled as “Special Topics” and the subject matter changes from semester to semester. Courses may be variable in credit count and also in faculty selected to teach the course.
Accounting (ACCT)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Accounting (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning internships provide hands-on employment activities related to the major. Prior approval is necessary. All approved programs must include a faculty coordinator and an on-site supervisor.

201. Introduction to Financial Accounting (3) (F, W, S) Includes business transactions, financial statements, uses of financial information, and international coverage. Corporations are emphasized, but partnerships and proprietorships are also covered.

203. Introduction to Managerial Accounting (3) (F, W, S) Topics include product costing, fixed and variable costs, cost-volume-profit, budgeting, performance evaluation, international issues, and other information for decision making. (Prerequisites: MATH 107, BUSM 230 and ACCT 201 with a C- or better for BUSM majors and B- or better for ACCT majors)

301. Intermediate Accounting I (3) (F, W) Review of ACCT 201 and an in-depth study of applied accounting theory. Includes basic financial statements and international issues. (Prerequisites: ACCT 201 and ACCT 203 both with a B- or better; BUSM 180, BUSM 230, and ECON 200 with a C- or better)

302. Intermediate Accounting II (3) (W, S) A continuation of ACCT 301 with an emphasis on working capital items, plant assets, equity securities, and stockholders’ equity, and related international issues. (Prerequisite: ACCT 301 with a C- or better)

312. Managerial Accounting (3) (F, W) Review of ACCT 203 and an in-depth study of managerial information used for decision making. Includes international dimensions of managerial accounting. (Prerequisites: ACCT 201 and 203 with a B- or better; BUSM 180, BUSM 230, and ECON 200 with a C- or better)

321. Federal Taxation I (3) (W) Study of federal income tax laws through the preparation of tax returns for U.S. citizens, residents and nonresident aliens. Introduction to international tax treaties. (Prerequisite: ACCT 301 with a C- or better)

356. Accounting Information Systems (3) (F, W) An introduction to contemporary accounting systems with an emphasis on accounting cycles and internal controls. (Prerequisite: ACCT 301 with a C- or better)

365. Auditing (3) (W, S) Introduction to U.S. and international generally accepted auditing standards with a focus on financial auditing technology. Auditor’s Code of Professional Conduct is emphasized. (Prerequisites: ACCT 302 and ACCT 356 both with a C- or better)

386. Advanced Financial Computing (3) (F, W) Development and enhancement of advanced financial computing skills utilizing spreadsheet applications and other accounting-specific software programs. (Prerequisite: ACCT 301 with a C- or better)

390R. Special Topics in Accounting (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Accounting (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in accounting. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105)

400. Intermediate Accounting III (3) (F, S) A continuation of Accounting 302 with an emphasis on debt securities, income tax effects, leases, pensions, accounting changes, disclosures, and related international issues. (Prerequisites: ACCT 302 with a C- or better and BUSM 301)

440. International Accounting and Accounting Research (3) (F, S) Study of international accounting issues, accounting harmonization, and international standards; research skills in accounting regulations and financial reporting. (Prerequisites: ACCT 302 with a C- or better and BUSM 301)

Anthropology – see Cultural Anthropology (ANTH)

105. Introduction to Cultural Anthropology (3) (F, W, S) Designed to acquaint the student with social anthropology, ethnology, archaeology, and linguistics, with special emphasis on the contemporary applications of cultural anthropology.

210. Contemporary Pacific (3) (F) Study of contemporary issues of nation-building and modernity in Pacific Island societies (Polynesia, Micronesia, Melanesia).

310. Anthropology Theory (3) (W) A thorough review of the social and cultural theories that have informed anthropological inquiry, especially as they relate to problems in cultural studies. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105)

322. Ethnographic Skills (3) (F, S) Ethnographic methodologies including entree, observations, interviewing, note taking, systematic organization of field data, transcription, translation, interpreting, analysis, critical reflexivity and professional report writing. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or IPB 121)

390R. Special Topics in Cultural Anthropology (1-3) (Variable)

391. Narrative, Identity and Culture (3) (F) Exploration of mythic, legendary, literary, and media generated cultural narratives used to construct identities including the personal, ethnic, religious, national, and global. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or COMM 110 or HUM 151 or 251 or IPB 121)

399R. Internship in Cultural Anthropology (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in Anthropology. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105)

445. Anthropology of Religion (3) (F) Focuses on anthropological perspectives on religion, including myths, cosmology, and symbolic classification, rituals and practitioners of rituals, the natural environment, agents of change, and new religious movements. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or IPB 121)

447. Applied and Development Anthropology (3) (W) Detailed consideration of applied anthropology within the context of medicine, international development, business and industry, education, law/criminal justice, environmental issues and advocacy. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or IPB 121)
450. Political and Economic Anthropology (3) (W) An exploration of diverse political and economic processes that give shape to cultural formations, and inversely, how culture informs political and economic behavior and experience. Special attention given to comparative ethnographic cases that demonstrate the intersection of culture, politics, and economics. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or IPB 121)

460. Anthropology of Globalization (3) (S) An exploration of anthropology of globalization, focusing on issues relating to thinking globally, flows of capital, mobile subjects (migration), roving commodities, traveling media, and nomadic ideologies. (Prerequisite: ANTH 105 or IPB 121)

Art (ART)

119. Drawing and Design Principles (3) (F, W, S) A studio art class introducing students to the fundamental concepts of drawing and design. Drawing concepts covered will include contour, structure, value, form and perspective. Students will be introduced to the principles and elements of design to understand the language of visual communication and master the skills of composition. Fee required. (Due to limited availability, only art majors may register online.)

156. Three Dimensional Concepts (3) (F, W, S) An introduction to the fundamental concepts and techniques of three dimensional design. You will be introduced to form, shape, texture, color, balance, line rhythm and other elements of design. Fee required. (Due to the limited availability, only art majors may register online.)

196. Survey of Global Art History I (3) (F, W, S) A survey course of global art history from prehistory to the contemporary. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Art (I-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

201. Global Art History I (3) (F, W) Studies of global art history from the prehistory to the middle ages. (Prerequisite: ART 196, ENGL 101)

202. Global Art History II (3) (F, W) Studies of global art history from the Renaissance to contemporary. (Prerequisite: ART 196, ENGL 101)

210. Digital Tools (3) (F, W, S) A course in the study and uses of the computer as a visual arts tool. Training will be given in selected current software directed toward the production of art and graphic design projects. Fee required. (Prerequisite: ART 119, and either ART 156 or 265)

212. Digital Photography (3) (F, W, S) Students develop visual and technical skills of digital photography as a language and medium. Composition, quality of light, exposure, camera operation, and the fundamentals of photographic concepts are emphasized. Artistic interpretation and technique will be examined through the study of image capture, processing, and printing. Note: Students provide their own fully manually controllable camera. A few cameras are available at Media Services for students who do not have their own camera on a first come first serve basis. (Prerequisite: ART 119 and either ART 156 or 265)

220. Experience in Visual Arts (3) (F, W, S) An exploration of the media and techniques of the visual arts, including introductory experiences in each of the major two and three-dimensional media. Not open to Art Majors except for those majoring in Art Education.

221R. Figure Drawing (3) (F, W) A studio art class that explores the human form and its inherent gesture, rhythm, balance, proportion, structure and anatomy. Students will combine their visual perception and foundational understanding of drawing concepts to accurately portray the human figure in its key relationships. (Prerequisites: ART 119)

225. Painting Concepts (3) (F, S) Introduction to painting still life and landscape subjects in oil. Students will develop visual communication skills by focusing on composition, value, color, drawing, texture and paint application. Course covers all aspects of oil painting including: process, tools, techniques and mediums. (Prerequisites: ART 119)

255R. Beginning Ceramics (3) (Variable) Basics in ceramics are introduced: preparation of clay, forming, trimming, decorating, glazing, and firing of pottery. Fee required. (Due to limited availability, only admitted Art majors may register online)

265, Beginning Sculpture (3) (F, W) To explore the language and various definitions of forms through a myriad of materials utilized in the visual arts. Fee required. (Due to limited availability, only art majors may register online)

270. Typography (3) (F, W) A studio class introducing students to typographic letterforms and practical knowledge of computer typesetting. Students develop expertise with the aesthetic aspects of letterforms, words and lines of text as they relate to the visual arrangement of a printed page. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, and Portfolio Review)

280, Branding (3) (F, W) A studio course that trains students in visual problem solving and conceptual brand development. Class projects reflect a realistic range of assignments that a designer would encounter in a studio environment, agency or corporate design institution. Fee required. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, and Portfolio Review)

310. Intermediate Photography (3) (W) Students develop insights and digital imaging skills to expand the creative possibilities of photography as a form of expression in commercial, documentary and fine art applications. The use of appropriate studio and natural light for portraiture and still life is emphasized. Students will learn to convey ideas, refine individual styles and produce a body of work that reflects their photographic interest. Fee required. Note: Students provide their own fully manually controllable camera. A few cameras are available at Media Services for students who do not have their own camera on a first come first serve basis. (Prerequisites: ART 210, 212)

316. History of Graphic Design (3) (S) This course will look into the history of graphic design, how the development of society and technology affected the course of communication and its means. Students will learn major paradigm shifts in visual thinking that impacted beyond the world of graphic design. (Prerequisite: ART 201 or 202, Graphic Design major track admission required)

325. Figure Painting (3) (W) An intermediate painting course that focuses on the human head and clothed figure as subjects. Students will advance their understanding of painting concepts and improve their visual awareness of the human form by comparing relationships of value, color, shape, and edge. Oil and watercolor media will be used. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 221R, 225, 265 and Portfolio Review)
335. Watercolor (3) (S-odd years) An introduction to watercolor methods as a painting media. Still life, landscape, seascape, and interpretative painting will be studied. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 210, 221R, 225, 265, Portfolio Review)

336. Art Methods for Elementary Teachers (1) (F, W) Materials and procedures for stimulating and guiding students through the various art experiences. Emphasis will be placed on the theory of art education, creative projects, effective teaching methods, and art curriculum. (Prerequisite: EDU 212)

337. Art Methods for Secondary Teachers (2) (W) Methods, materials, and special techniques of teaching art in secondary schools. Curriculum planning, classroom management, and directions in art education will be considered.

345. Digital Painting (3) (S-even years) An intermediate painting course using digital media, i.e. a painting tablet and software application. This course develops digital painting skills related to illustration, animation, and concept art. Students will conceptualize and complete images by implementing design processes and principles. Fee required. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, and Portfolio Review)

365. Intermediate Sculpture (3) (F) Problems designed to encourage individual development in sculpture. Fee required. (Prerequisites: ART 265)

370. Web for Designers (3) (F, W) A studio class introducing students to graphic design for the web environment. Through an investigation of CSS, HTML, and Adobe Dreamweaver each student will understand graphic interface design and information design as it pertains to the user’s experience of digital media. Fee required. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, 270, 280, IT 240)

390R. Special Topics in Art (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Visual Art (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in art and design. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor.

425. Advanced Painting (3) (F) An advanced painting course that develops individual artistic vision and conceptual thinking. Students will improve the expressive quality of their work by relating technical approaches and procedures to their conceptual ideas. Fee required. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 210, 221R, 225)

442. Reading in Aesthetics (3) (F, W) Problems and methods in aesthetic evaluation, appreciation and criticism. (Same as HUM 442) (Prerequisites: ART 201, 202 for Painting Majors or ART 316 for Graphic Design Majors and senior standing)

444. Motion Graphics (3) (F, W) A studio course instructing students in the art of design and communication with motion and sound. Design principles, editing, and narrative concepts are employed to create short motion design projects. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, 270, 280, 370, 380)

445. Packaging Design (3) (F, W) A studio course focusing on three-dimensional structures for a broad range of products that not only protect package contents but also create an experience for the user. Students examine how messages behave when distributed in three-dimensional space. Conceptual development, prototyping, materials, type, image, layout, design and form are fully explored to create commercial packaging. (Prerequisites: ART 119, 156, 210, 212, 270, 280)

447. Book Arts (3) (S) This course will explore theory, methods, processes and design skills integral to book design and book binding. Design methodology and processes are explored through the development of assignments. They will learn to bind books by hand, refining their tactile skills and craftsmanship. Fee required. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

465. Advanced Sculpture (3) (S) An advanced sculpture studio course exploring various methods and techniques of modeling in wax and mold-making. Slides of the work will be integrated into senior portfolios. Fee required. (Prerequisite: ART 365)

470. Artist Portfolio Production (3) (F, W) A studio class in the development and production of an artist’s portfolio. Students will develop and produce a comprehensive portfolio that exhibits their artistic expression. Students will deliver and present their work based on current industry standards relevant to their field of study. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

480. BFA Thesis Research (3) (F) Students build their portfolios with projects that require research, content generation, and complex visual problem solving. Emphasis is placed on cultivating a personal voice in design, interests and abilities. Work in this class begins to identify areas of interest for the senior project. (Prerequisites: BFA Standing and Permission of Instructor)

481. BFA Thesis Studio (Design) (3) (W) This capstone course is centered around the senior self-directed project, an independent project in design studies requiring the development of a body of work in consultation with faculty and peers. (Prerequisite: ART 480)

482. BFA Thesis Studio (Painting) (6) (F, W) This capstone course is centered around the senior self-directed project, an independent project in design studies requiring the development of a body of work in consultation with faculty and peers. (Prerequisite: ART 480)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) Additional studio experience, special readings, museum and library research, and creative problems related to research. This course is for DEGREE seeking students ONLY. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Asian Studies (ASNS)

105. Introduction to Asian Studies (3) (W, S) The course introduces students to Asia, its people, and cultures. Providing background
American Sign Language (ASL)

102. Elementary American Sign Language Conversation II (4) (W) Emphasis on conversation and conversation development. Study of basic grammar and vocabulary, reading included. Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: ASL 101 or Permission of Instructor)

201. Intermediate American Sign Language Conversation I (3) (S) Continuation of Conversational American Sign Language. Advanced structures, expressions, and patterns. (Prerequisite: ASL 102 or Permission of Instructor)

202. Intermediate American Sign Language Conversation II (3) (F) Fourth in a related series of courses that focus on the use and study of ASL. Provides opportunities to expand expressive and receptive use of ASL, including a variety of special topics. Special emphasis will be placed on increasing spacial use, ASL fluency and non-manual behaviors. Culturally significant topics relating to the Deaf Community are examined. (Prerequisite: ASL 201 or Permission of Instructor)

Astronomy (ASTR)

104. Principles of Astronomy (3) (F) An introduction to modern astronomy.

390R. Special Topics in Astronomy (1-3) (Variable)

495R. Independent Study (1-4) (Variable) (Prerequisite: Program consent)

Biology (BIOL)

100. Introduction to Biology (3) (F, W, S) A study of fundamental life processes and the development of biological concepts. Course includes molecular, organismal, and population biology.

112. Biology I - Cell and Molecular Biology (3) (F, W, S) An introductory course which covers genetics, cell, and molecular biology. Required of all biology and biochemistry majors and must be taken before any other biology course. (Corequisite: BIOL 112L)

112L. Biology I - Cell and Molecular Biology Lab (1) (F, W, S) An introductory course which covers genetics, cell, and molecular biology. Required of all biology and biochemistry majors and must be taken before any other biology course. (Corequisite: BIOL 112)

113. Biology II - Evolution, Ecology, and Organismal Biology (3) (F, W, S) An introductory course which covers mechanisms of evolution, biological diversity, plant physiology, animal physiology, and ecology. Required of all biology majors. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112/L)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Biology (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

201. General Botany (3) (S) A study of plant biology including natural history, adaptations, and evolution of the plant kingdom. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 201L)

201L. General Botany Laboratory (1) (S) Laboratory for General Botany. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 201)

204. Pacific Natural History (2) (S) A lecture and field experience course which covers the geology, climate, flora and fauna of Pacific Islands. Dispersal, speciation, adaptation and conservation are topics that will be stressed both in lecture and in the field labs. The lecture portion may be taken without the lab, however, the lab cannot be taken without the lecture. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113)

204L. Pacific Natural History Laboratory (2) (S) Laboratory (field experience) for Pacific Natural History. Field trips on Oahu and Hawaii (Big Island). Fee required. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 204L)

212. Marine Biology (3) (F) A study of the biology of marine plants and animals with emphasis on the biota of the Central Pacific. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 212L)

212L. Marine Biology Laboratory (1) (F) Laboratory for Marine Biology. Fee required. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 212)

220. Microbiology (3) (S) A study of general characteristics of microorganisms and their relationship with the environment and man. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112/L, CHEM 105/L)

220L. Microbiology Laboratory (1) (F, W, S) Laboratory for Microbiology. (Co- or prequisite: BIOL 220)

248. Conservation Biology (3) (W) Human impacts on biological diversity and measures to prevent extinction of species. Classroom and field experience will focus on current topics in terrestrial and aquatic systems with an emphasis on Hawaiian and other Pacific systems. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113)

260. Human Anatomy (3) (F, W) The structure and organization of the human body from cells through organ systems. (Corequisite: BIOL 260L)

260L. Human Anatomy Laboratory (1) (F, W) Laboratory for Human Anatomy. (Corequisite: BIOL 260)

260LC. Human Anatomy Laboratory - Cadaver Based (1) (W) Laboratory for Human Anatomy - Cadaver Based lecture. (Prerequisite: Enroll in corresponding instructor's lecture course)

261. Human Physiology (3) (F, W) The function of the human body from cells through organ systems. Designed for those interested in the health professions including, but not limited to medical, dental, nursing, physical therapy, and all other fields of allied health. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112 strongly recommended. Corequisite: BIOL 261L)

261L. Human Physiology Laboratory (1) (F, W) Laboratory for Human Physiology. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112 strongly recommended. Corequisite: BIOL 261)

300. Animal Behavior (3) (F) The study of behavior from an evolutionary perspective. Emphasis on social patterns of behavior including: altruism, optimality, reproduction, parental investment, aggression, and spatial relationships. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 300L)
300L. Animal Behavior Laboratory (1) (F) Laboratory for Animal Behavior. Fee required. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 300)

302. Invertebrate Zoology (3) (W) A study of the evolution, classification, morphology, natural history, anatomy and physiology of invertebrates. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 302L)

302L. Invertebrate Zoology Laboratory (1) (W) Laboratory for Invertebrate Zoology. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 302)

303. Vertebrate Zoology (3) (F) A comparative study of the evolution, classification, morphology, natural history, anatomy, and physiology of vertebrates. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 303L)

303L. Vertebrate Zoology Laboratory (1) (F) Laboratory for Vertebrate Zoology. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113. Corequisite: BIOL 303)

340. Biostatistics (3) (S) A course which explains how to determine objectives of an experiment and how to select process factors for the selected study and how to choose the appropriate statistical test. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L)

348. Natural Resource Management (3) (W) An introduction to the field of natural resource management that focuses on natural (ecology) and social (economics, politics, etc.) processes in an integrated systems approach that explores linkages among different elements of a system. The accompanying lab will provide hands-on training and practice in implementing natural resource management. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 348L)

348L. Natural Resource Management Lab (1) (W) Laboratory for Natural Resource Management. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 348)

350. General Ecology (3) (F) A study of plant and animal interactions that determine the distribution and abundance of organisms. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 350L)

350L. General Ecology Laboratory (1) (F) Laboratory for General Ecology. Fee required. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L. Corequisite: BIOL 350)

373. Human Embryology (3) (F) This course provides guidance on human embryology at every stage of development, including normal and abnormal embryogenesis, causes of birth defects, and the role of genes in human development. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113, CHEM 105)

374. Evolution and Human Prehistory (3) (W) This course explores the biological process of evolution as well as the field of human paleontology and the co-evolution of human culture and the physical type. (Prerequisite: BIOL 113)

376. Genetics (3) (F, S) A general course in the principles of Mendelian and evolutionary genetics. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112/L, CHEM 105/L)

390RL. Special Topics in Biology Laboratory (1) (Variable) (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 105/L)

399R. Internship in Biology (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in biology. This course cannot count towards Biology Major Requirements. (Prerequisite: Program Consent.)

441. Molecular Biology (3) (F) Molecular biology of gene structure and expression. A course in the molecular activities of living cells, including protein structure and function, DNA, replication and repair, and gene expression. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112/L, CHEM 106/L (completion of BIOL 220 or BIOL 376 is strongly recommended))

442. Cellular Biology (3) (W) An advance study of cellular organization, mechanisms and functions, including cell communication, transport, and cell division. (Prerequisites: BIOL 112/L, CHEM 106/L (completion of BIOL 376 is strongly recommended))

460. Advanced Human Anatomy (3) (F) A course in the dissection of the human cadaver. Biology majors only. (Prerequisites: BIOL 260/L and Permission of Instructor)

465. Principles of Physiology (3) (F) General principles of chemical and physical processes of living organisms. (Prerequisites: BIOL 113, CHEM 106/L)

475. Pathophysiology (3) (W) The study of physiological processes within the body that result in the signs and symptoms of disease. (Prerequisites: Either BIOL 261/L or BIOL 465)

484L. Biomolecular Methods Lab II - Nucleic Acids (1) (F, W, S) This course provides hands-on training in laboratory techniques widely used in biochemistry and molecular biology: DNA electrophoresis, restriction digestion and ligation, bacterial transformation, DNA extraction and purification, PCR, DNA recombination, expression, sequencing and others. (Co- or prerequisites: BIOL 376 or BIOL 441)

485L. Biomolecular Methods Lab III - Mammalian Cells (1) (W) This course provides hands-on training in mammalian cell culture approaches used in molecular and cell biology and biochemistry. (Co- or prerequisites: Any one of the following: CHEM 481, CHEM 482, BIOL 441 or BIOL 442)

490R. Current Topics in Biology (1-4) (F, W, S) Special topics course in which students will learn how to engage, evaluate, and understand scientific research and then how to formally convey their understanding both orally and in writing. Each section will contain an instructor-selected biological theme for study. (Prerequisites: Senior status with 90+ credits)

495L. Independent Study (1-4) (F, W, S) Supervised individual study, work experience, and/or research in biology. Permission of instructor required before registration. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

496L.R. Student Research (1-6) (F, W, S) Supervised individual research for students who have been granted a student research associateship or mentored research position. Required for all associates and mentored research students. (Prerequisite: Program Consent)
Business Management (BUSM)

180. Introduction to Business (3) (F, W, S) The role of commercial enterprise in modern society, challenges inherent in starting and growing a business, core functions of management, exploration of career options.

201R. Leadership Practicum (1-2) (F, W) Learn and apply leadership principles, guided by a faculty member, and evaluate leadership experience.

230. Business Spreadsheets and Modeling (1) (F, W, S) Basic spreadsheet skills for business analysis and modeling. No technical background is necessary.

301. Business Finance (3) (F, W, S) The study of corporate financial decision making. Emphasis on cash flow, risk and return, ethics, agency, dividend policy, capital budgeting, working capital, and financial statement analysis. (Prerequisites: ACCT 203, BUSM 180, BUSM 230, ECON 201, MATH 107, 121 all with a C- or better)

304. Principles of Marketing Management (3) (F, W, S) Introduces basic principles of marketing management, including customer and market analysis, segmentation, positioning, branding, pricing, distribution, marketing communications, relationships, global marketing and ethics. (Prerequisite: BUSM 180 and BUSM 320 with a C- or better)

310. Leadership and Management (3) (F, W, S) Fundamentals of management emphasizing organizational leadership, human resource management and teamwork. Topics include motivation, organizational structures, multicultural environments, decision-making, corporate responsibility, and organizational change. (Prerequisites: BUSM 180 with a C- or better and BUSM 320)

320. Business Communication (3) (F, W, S) Written and oral business communication, including case analysis and problem solving. (Prerequisites: BUSM 180 with a C- or better and ENGL 101)

325. Career Management (1) (F, W, S) Introduction to job search process, employment interviewing, networking and communication skills, negotiation and evaluation of job offers, transition to professional life, planning for career advancement. (Prerequisites: BUSM 320 and 60+ credits (Junior Status))

327. Human Resource Management (3) (F, W) The treatment of human resources as an organizational asset contributing to organizational objectives. Topics include planning, development, compensation and security, work-place environment, employee-management relations, auditing multicultural issues. (Prerequisite: BUSM 310 with a B- or better)

337. Employee Relations (3) (W) Students learn to identify and resolve common workplace problems involving employees and supervisors and develop skills in managerial areas such as assessing performance, coaching, counseling, performance evaluation, and communicating effectively. (Prerequisite: BUSM 327)

342. Business Law and Ethics (3) (F, W, S) Ethical foundation and the legal environment of business; contracts; uniform commercial code related to sales, commercial paper and secured transactions; business organization; government regulations; property; bankruptcy, trusts, estates, insurance. (Prerequisites: BUSM 180 with a C- or better and ENGL 101)

347. Managing Diversity (3) (F) Students learn current theories, issues, practices, and developments in managing diversity, equality and inclusion in organizations and in international context. (Prerequisite: BUSM 310 with a B- or better)

361. Business Analytics and Operations (3) (F, W, S) Students learn to provide data-driven solutions to real-world business problems. The course covers foundational topics in business analytics (e.g. regression, clustering, and classification) and in operations (e.g. forecasting, inventory management, and production planning). (Prerequisites: BUSM 180, BUSM 230, MATH 107 all with a C- or better)

371. Supply Chain Management (3) (F, W) Explore the management of supply chains to improve an organization’s overall supply effectiveness and efficiency. Topics will include the purchasing process, procurement cycle, purchasing research, relationships with suppliers, negotiation, information technology, and the concept of competitive advantages. (Prerequisite: BUSM 361 with a B- or better)

381. Global Logistics Management (3) (W) Introduction to the role of logistics and transportation in the global supply chain and distribution channel. Topics will include system design, inventory management, distribution operation, carrier selection, freight transportation, warehousing, packaging, and material handling. (Prerequisite: BUSM 361 with a B- or better)

390R. Special Topics in Business Management (1-3) (Variable)

391. Project Management (3) (F, W) This course covers the fundamental concepts and techniques for the effective management of an organization’s projects. Students learn to plan, schedule, organize, and control those projects. At the conclusion of the course, students have an option of taking the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM) exam. (Prerequisite: BUSM 361 with a B- or better).

399R. Internship in Business Management (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in business management. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor.

401R. Leadership Practicum (1-2) (F, W) Learn and apply leadership principles, guided by a faculty member, and evaluate leadership experience.

410. Advanced Analytics and Big Data (3) (F) Students learn advanced tools and techniques in business analytics. This includes topics in big data technologies, statistics and basic programming. No previous programming experience is required. (Prerequisite: BUSM 361 with a C- or better)

421. Integrated Marketing Communications (3) (W, S) Focus on integrated marketing communications, including advertising, public relations, sales, sales promotions, internet and word-of-mouth. Key outcome is developing an integrated marketing communications plan. (Prerequisite: Either BUSM 304 or HTM 304 with a B- or better)

422. Marketing Research (3) (F, W) This course focuses on central concepts, tools, and techniques of marketing research. Students design, execute and present a marketing research study. (Prerequisites: BUSM 304 with a B- or better; and either MATH 121 or PSYC 205 with a C- or better)

427. International Human Resource Management (3) (S) Focuses on human resource activities: HR planning, staffing (recruitment, selection and placement), performance management, training and development, compensation, and industrial relations in a... multinational context. Perspectives include host-country, home country, and other country categories and employees. Covers HR issues facing multinational corporations and comparative analyzes of international HR management. (Prerequisite: BUSM 327)

429. Strategic Marketing Management (3) (W, S) This is the capstone Marketing course. Working in groups, students work with a client on a major marketing consulting project that involves marketing research, strategy and creativity, culminating in a written report and oral presentation. Readings and cases focused on marketing strategy will also be discussed. (Prerequisites: BUSM 304 with a B- or better, BUSM 421 and BUSM 422)

457. Talent Management and Training (3) (F) This course will address talent management, human resource development, and training. Students will develop a better understanding of strategic planning of human resources, succession planning, attracting and recruiting talent, employee retention, performance management, employee development and training, executive development and competition in international labor markets. (Prerequisite: BUSM 327)

461. Lean Six Sigma (Process Improvement) (3) (W) This course teaches skills for successfully leading process improvement projects that can enhance organizational performance. Lean Six Sigma methodology is taught through example and application. Near the conclusion of the course, students will take a certification exam. (Prerequisite: BUSM 361 with a B- or better)

467. Organizational Behavior and Change (3) (W) Addresses system wide applications to assess, develop, improve, and strengthen strategies, processes, and structures to achieve organizational effectiveness in constantly changing organizational environment. Additional topics include: nature of change, roles associated with leading and managing change, issues of organizational culture, design models, and organizational behavior challenges. (Prerequisite: BUSM 327)

496R. Student Research (1-3) (Variable) Supervised individual research for students who have been granted a student research associateship.

499. Strategic Management (3) (F, W, S) An integration of all the functional areas of business management with emphasis on analysis, decision making, and implementation. (Prerequisites: BUSM 301, 304, 310, 320, 342; This course should be taken during last semester.)

Career Development (CRDEV)

102. Career Exploration (1) (F, W) Designed to take students through the career development process through self-awareness, career exploration, and matching to a major and career planning.

199R. Experiential Learning for Careers (3) (F, W, S) Increase career readiness, understanding of employer expectations, and marketable skill development through participation in employment with an eligible employer.

202. Designing Your Life (1) (F, W, S) The course employs a design thinking approach to help students design their future careers with three criteria in mind: A life in which you are, what you believe, and what you do all line up together. This course takes students through the process of designing their personal, educational and professional life by aligning their ideals with family, church and profession. Students are taught a constructive and effective approach to finding and designing their academic and vocation plans. This course deals with issues ranging from how to find and experience meaningful work to how to network and get an interview.

299R. Career Connect (1-3) (F, W, S) Increase career readiness, understanding of employer expectations, and marketable skill development through participation in employer excursions. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

301R. On-Campus Project Based Experiential Learning (3) (F, W) This course is designed to help students experience real-life professional projects within a team setting. These projects are designed to have a moderate level of complexity consistent with an internship you would have during the summer requiring initiative, creativity, communication, interpersonal skills, and sound judgement.

302. Career Transition: Moving from College to Career (1) (F, W, S) Effective transition to a career through understanding the job market and applying practical job search strategies: identification of transferable knowledge skills, and abilities from a major and other experience; targeted personal marketing in resumes and interviewing; how to maximize online networking profiles; evaluating career economics, and preparation for graduate school. (Prerequisite: Junior or Senior standing)

302L. Career Transition: Moving from College to Career Laboratory (1) (F, W, S) Laboratory for Career Transition with additional content and assignments. (Prerequisite: Junior or Senior standing. Corequisite: CRDEV 302)

390R. Special Topics in Career Development (1-3) (Variable)

Chemistry (CHEM)

100. The World of Chemistry (3) (Variable) A course designed to give non-science students an appreciation of our chemical world. Very basic concepts are presented which are then related to the chemistry all around us. The topics vary with instructor.

101. Introduction to General Chemistry (3) (F) An introduction to the principles of general chemistry. This optional course is designed as preparation for CHEM 105/106 for science majors with little or no chemistry background. Topics include: measurements and dimensional analysis, atomic theory, atomic structure, basics of molecular structure, stoichiometry, intermolecular forces, gas laws, and solution chemistry; these topics may vary by instructor.

105. General Chemistry I (3) (F, W) The principles of chemistry for science majors. Topics include: measurements and units, stoichiometry, aqueous chemistry, oxidation-reduction reactions, energy, atomic structure, principles of chemical bonding and molecular structure, and behavior of gas. (Prerequisite: MATH 110 with a C- or better (MATH 110 can be a corequisite if MATH 101 was completed-see Advisor), or ACT Math score 22+, or SAT Math score 520+, High school chemistry or CHEM 101 highly recommended. Corequisite: CHEM 105L)

105L. General Chemistry I Laboratory and Recitation (1) (F, W) Alternating three-hour lab and one-hour recitation throughout the semester. Experiments are designed to complement topics covered in CHEM 105. Proper scientific writing is emphasized. (Corequisite: CHEM 105)
106. General Chemistry II (3) (W, S) A continuation of the principles of chemistry for science majors. Topics include: intermolecular forces, properties of solutions, chemical kinetics, equilibrium, acid/base chemistry, thermodynamics, electrochemistry, nuclear chemistry, and transition metal chemistry. (Prerequisites: CHEM 105/L with a C- or better. Corequisite: CHEM 106)

106L. General Chemistry II Laboratory and Recitation (1) (W, S) Alternating three-hour lab and one-hour recitation throughout the semester. Experiments are designed to complement topics covered in CHEM 106. Proper scientific writing is emphasized. (Prerequisites: CHEM 105/L with a C- or better. Corequisite: CHEM 106)

201. Chemical and Laboratory Safety (1) (F, W, S) Lectures and demonstrations are designed to prepare students to work safely in the chemistry lab. Topics covered include regularity and compliance protocols, chemical hazards, protection, prevention, emergencies and other aspects essential for laboratory safety. (Prerequisites: CHEM 105/L)

326. Analytical Biochemistry (2) (F) Principles of chemical and modern chemical analysis. This course is an involved hands-on laboratory/lecture mixture that allows the student to become familiar with multiple methods to quantitatively characterize chemical systems. In the process students are trained to use state of the art instrumentation including HPLC, LCMS, AAS, fluorometer, and more. (Prerequisites: CHEM 106/L with a C- or better, CHEM 201 co- or prerequisite. Corequisite: CHEM 326L)

326L. Analytical Biochemistry Lab (2) (F) Principles of chemical and modern chemical analysis. This course is an involved hands-on laboratory/lecture mixture that allows the student to become familiar with multiple methods to quantitatively characterize chemical systems. In the process students are trained to use state of the art instrumentation including HPLC, LCMS, AAS fluorometer, and more. (Prerequisites: CHEM 106/L with a C- or better, CHEM 201 co- or prerequisite. Corequisite: CHEM 326)

351. Organic Chemistry I (3) (F, W) Study of the structure, stereochemistry, reactions, reaction mechanisms, preparations, and properties of the principle classes of carbon compounds. (Prerequisites: CHEM 106/L with a C- or better; CHEM 201 co- or prerequisite)

351L. Organic Chemistry I Laboratory (1) (F) Laboratory techniques used for isolation, purification, synthesis, and identification of organic compounds including such instrumentation as IR, NMR, UV-VIS, and mass spectroscopy. Three-hour laboratory. (Co- or prerequisite: CHEM 351)

352. Organic Chemistry II (3) (F, W) A continuation of the study of the properties and reactions of the principle classes of carbon compounds. (Prerequisites: CHEM 351 with a C- or better)

352L. Organic Chemistry II Laboratory (1) (W) Synthesis, analysis and identification of organic compounds using the techniques from CHEM 351L. Three-hour laboratory. (Prerequisites: CHEM 351/L. Co- or prerequisite: CHEM 352)

390R. Special Topics in Chemistry (3-4) (Variable)

395. Organic Spectroscopy (3) (S-odd years) Structure determination of organic and bio-organic chemicals using infrared (IR), proton and carbon-13 nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR), ultraviolet-visible (UV-VIS), and mass spectroscopies (MS). (Prerequisites: CHEM 352/L)

399R. Internship in Chemistry (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in chemistry. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

450. Advanced Organic Synthesis (3) (S-even years) A concentration on advanced topics in organic chemistry including enantioselective catalysis, organometallic chemistry, name reactions and a study of more advanced, arrow-pushing, reaction mechanisms for the synthesis of complex molecules. (Prerequisites: CHEM 352/L)

468. Physical Biochemistry (3) (W) Application of physical chemistry to biological systems. Topics include: thermodynamics, kinetics, statistical mechanics, quantum mechanics, and biophysical experimental techniques. (Prerequisites: CHEM 481 with a C- or better and PHYS 121 with a C- or better. Completion of PHYS 221 is recommended)

481. Biochemistry I (3) (F, S) The structural and functional properties of proteins, lipids, carbohydrates, and nucleic acids. The structural specificity and kinetics of enzymes, as well as the organization of cellular membranes, biosignaling, and networking are also major parts of this course. (Prerequisites: CHEM 351 with a C- or better and BIOL 112/L with a C- or better (Completion of BIOL 376/L or BIOL 441/L is strongly recommended))

482. Biochemistry II (3) (W) The second half of the Biochemistry sequence, exploring the fundamentals of metabolism: the synthesis and degradation of carbohydrates, lipids, proteins and nucleic acids, and their regulation. This course also includes the biochemistry of DNA replication, transcription and translation (Prerequisites: CHEM 481 with a C- or better)

483L. Biochemistry Methods Lab I – Proteins (1) (F, S) Laboratory methods used in protein biochemistry – protein expression, extraction, purification, separation and analysis. The lab provides hands-on experience with bacterial transformation and culture, protein extraction and chromatography, centrifugation, spectrophotometry, SDS and Native gel electrophoresis and analysis. (Prerequisite: CHEM 351L. Co- or prerequisite: CHEM 481)

484L. Biochemistry Methods Lab II – Nucleic Acids (1) (F, W, S) This course provides hands-on training in laboratory techniques widely used in biochemistry and molecular biology: DNA electrophoresis, restriction digestion and ligation, bacterial transformation, DNA extraction and purification, PCR, DNA recombination, expression, sequencing and others. (Co- or prerequisite: CHEM 481)

485L. Biochemistry Lab III – Mammalian Cells (1) (W) This course provides hands-on training in mammalian cell culture approaches used in biochemistry, molecular and cell biology. (Co- or prerequisite: Any of the following: CHEM 481, CHEM 482, BIOL 441 or BIOL 442)

491. Undergraduate Research (1) (S) The beginning of a 4-course sequence in which the student learns the process of conducting and reporting biochemical research. In this course students learn how to use the chemical literature and to write scientifically. (Co- or prerequisite: CHEM 351/L. Completion of CHEM 481 and 483L recommended)
492-493-494. Undergraduate Research (1-1-1) (F-F-W) This is a continuation from CHEM 491: students participate in a group biochemical research project. In addition, each student develops and presents a scientific poster based on obtained results. Finally, each student writes a senior thesis and prepares and presents a final seminar open to the entire university. (Prerequisite: CHEM 491)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) This is a course taken primarily by students who are research assistants in chemistry, although this course would apply to students doing other supervised individual study. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

496R. Student Research (1-6) (F, W, S) Course taken by a student who is granted a student research associateship. Required of all research associates. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

Chinese (CHIN)

*101. Elementary Chinese Conversation and Grammar I (4) (F) Emphasis on conversation. Romanization, character reading, and basic grammar also included. Language laboratory required.

*102. Elementary Chinese Conversation and Grammar II (4) (W) Continued emphasis on conversation. Character reading and grammar also included. Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: CHIN 101 or Permission of Instructor)

*201. Intermediate Chinese I (4) (S) Continued emphasis on conversation. Vocabulary building, advanced grammar review, reading, and writing also included. (Prerequisite: CHIN 102 or Permission of Instructor)

*202. Intermediate Chinese II (4) (F) Continued emphasis on conversation, listening comprehension, vocabulary building, grammar review, reading, and writing. (Prerequisite: CHIN 201 or Permission of Instructor)

*301. Introduction to Chinese Literature (3) (W) Extensive readings from modern Chinese authors. (Prerequisite: CHIN 202)

311. Advanced Chinese Conversation (3) (S) Intensive collaborative approach to conversational Chinese based on selected dialogue patterns and situations. (Prerequisite: CHIN 301 or Permission of Instructor)

441. Classical Chinese Literature (3) (F) Intensive reading in the classical novel. (Prerequisites: CHIN 301 and CHIN 311)

*Cantonese speakers will have different emphasis depending on individual needs.

Those with overseas experience (study abroad or mission, for example) are encouraged to take the FLATS test and with successful passing result, take CHIN 202.

Communication (COMM)

110. Intercultural Communication (3) (F, W, S) Designed to give students a broad introduction to the field of communication in a global information society. Explores the central role of intercultural communication for individuals and societies.

200. Mass Communication and Society (3) (F, W, S) A survey of the historical and contemporary roles of mass media in society, focusing on media effects on individuals, institutions and culture.

211. Media Writing (3) (F) Introduction to basic writing for mass media audiences through newspaper, broadcasting, Internet, and public relations. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

251. Introduction to Cultural Theory (3) (F, W, S) An introduction to the major figures in cultural studies theory from the disciplines of anthropology, communication, humanities, literary criticism, history, and post-colonial studies. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

280. Gender, Race and Culture (3) (F, W) Examines the relationship between culture, gender and race. Explores how culturally gendered and racialized systems are communicated in daily life and influence power relationships and views of gender and race in society.

301. The Internet and Society (3) (S) Explores the digital revolution and changes in society. Examines unique qualities of new media and an array of topics, including virtual communities and identity, game worlds, and privacy and governance. (Prerequisite: COMM 200 or 211)

305. Communication and Pop Culture (3) (S) An exploration of the processes and more specifically, the content in the mass distribution of popular culture. Specific attention is given to advertising, television, music, film, popular literature, shopping and fashion. (Prerequisite: COMM 200)

323. Multimedia Production (3) (W) Principles and practice of basic skills in multimedia production. Emphasizes information presentation through various digital platforms or environments (Prerequisites: COMM 211)

326. Issues in Global Communication (3) (W) The study of international and mass communication systems in modernity including the complexities and problems of mediated communication between cultures and across various boundaries. (Prerequisite: COMM 200 or 251)

353. Organizational Communication (3) (F) Analysis of communication processes in various organizations. Focuses on the role of communication in creating and maintaining organizational structures and functions in culturally-diverse environments. (Prerequisite: COMM 110 or Permission of Instructor)

360. Communication Theory and Method (3) (F, W) Introduces genres of communication theory and approaches to communication inquiry. Focuses on the application of theory in empirical studies. (Prerequisite: COMM 200 and 251)

399R. Internship in Communication (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in Communication. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: Junior or Senior Status)

410. Political Communication (3) (F) This course surveys the triangular relationship between politics, the media and the public. Political communication examines the dynamics of that relationship by looking into how the three actors interrelate. (Prerequisites: COMM 200 and 251)

420. Media and Culture (3) (W) The study of mass communication’s role in the creation and maintenance of culture within global, social, political, and economic contexts. (Prerequisites: COMM 200 and 251)

430. Media Law and Ethics (3) (F) This course introduces students to the study of legal and ethical issues in the media. Students will develop an understanding and appreciation of these issues and the ability to analyze the important legal and ethical issues involved with the mass media industry. (Prerequisite: COMM 200)
490. Senior Seminar (3) (F, W, S) Students will identify an original research project, produce a formal proposal, review the literature, conduct research, and present preliminary findings in oral and written reports. (Prerequisite: COMM 360; must be taken during last year of study)

Computer & Information Sciences (CIS)

101. Beginning Programming (3) (F, W, S) Extensive hands-on software development and testing using variables, arrays, instruction sequences, decisions, loops, and subroutines.

205. Discrete Mathematics I (3) (F, W, S) Functions, relations, and sets; basic logic; proof techniques basics of counting. (Prerequisite: CIS 101)

206. Discrete Mathematics II (3) (F) Proof techniques (continued), graphs and trees, discrete probability. (Prerequisites: CIS 202 and 205)

305. Systems Engineering I (3) (F, W) Systems planning and analysis from concept to requirements culminating at high-level design. Includes use of tools, modeling and generation of appropriate documentation. Uses team projects. Students are expected to take CIS 405 the following semester. (Prerequisite: CIS 202)

405. Systems Engineering II (3) (W, S) A continuation of CIS 305, usually taken the previous semester. Systems design, implementation, validation and maintenance. Uses team projects. (Prerequisites: CIS 305, IS 350)

470. Ethics in Computer and Information Sciences (3) (F, S) Explores foundations of ethical behavior in the world of Internet and computer technology including property protection, crime, viruses, privacy, reliability, and work environments. (Prerequisite: ENGL 315 or ENGL 316 or equivalent)

Computer Science (CS)

203. Object-Oriented Programming II (3) (F) Advanced object-oriented software development. Polymorphism, overloading, exceptions, design, and documentation. (Prerequisite: CIS 202)

210. Computer Organization (3) (W) Digital logic, digital systems, machine-level representation of data, assembly-level machine organization. (Prerequisite: CS 203)

301. Algorithms and Complexity (3) (W) Algorithmic analysis, strategies and fundamental algorithms. (Prerequisites: CS 203 and CIS 206)

320. Introduction to Computational Theory (3) (W) Finite state automata and regular expressions, context-free grammars and pushdown automata, turing machines, computability and undecidability. (Prerequisites: CS 203 and CIS 206)

390R. Special Topics in Computer Science (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Computer Science (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in computer science. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor.

400. Computer Science Proficiency (0) (F, W, S) Students demonstrate proficiency at important Computer Science skills by examination.

401. Web Applications Development (3) (F) Students demonstrate proficiency at important Computer Science skills by examination.

415. Operating Systems Design (3) (F) Operating systems principles, concurrency, scheduling, dispatch, memory management. (Prerequisites: CS 210, CS 301)

420. Programming Languages (3) (S) Virtual machines, language translation, declarations and types, abstraction mechanisms, object-oriented programming. (Prerequisites: CS 301, 320)

490R. Advanced Topics in Computer Science (3) (F, W, S) Senior-level elective course. Subject varies according to instructor availability. (Prerequisite: CIS 301)

491-492-493. Seminar (1-1-1) (Variable) Readings in the Computer Science literature, writing of review articles, research proposal writing and presentation, conducting research, poster presentation, writing and presentation of the senior thesis. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Criminal Justice (CRMJ)

301. Introduction to Criminal Justice (3) (F) Introduction to the fundamentals of criminal justice, including crime and its consequences, law enforcement systems, ethics, policing, sentencing, and police institutions.

351. Financial and Fraud Investigation (3) (W) Reveals the realms of financial and fraud crimes, including crime detection, fraud investigation processes, investigative reports, and evidence presentation in court.

361. Violence Threat Assessment and Management (3) (S) Examines interpersonal violence within relationships and occupational settings, both educational and workplace, toward understanding causation, prevention and recovery.

371. Criminal Investigation and Criminology (3) (F, W) Explores the techniques, methods, science, and system by which criminal investigations are handled and presented to the courts.

390R. Special Topics in Criminal Justice (1-3) (Variable)
Economics (ECON)

200. Principles of Microeconomics (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to microeconomic principles with focus on product and resource markets, profit maximization under various market structures, and international trade. (Prerequisite: MATH 107)

201. Principles of Macroeconomics (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to macroeconomic principles with focus on market-based economic systems, determinants of output, employment and inflation, monetary and fiscal policy tools, and international finance. (Prerequisite: ECON 200)

350. Economic Development (3) (W) A study of economic growth and development issues, factors which impact economic development including technology, resources, economic structure, and government policy. (Prerequisites: ECON 201 and MATH 121)

353. Money, Banking, and Business (3) (F) An introduction to monetary and banking systems with emphasis on the role of money and financial institutions, the determinants of money supply, and the relationship of money to economic activity. (Prerequisites: BUSM 230, ECON 201, MATH 121)

360. International Economics (3) (F) Basic principles of international economics and globalization form the underlying theme of this course, including trade, intellectual property, protectionism, income distribution, cultural diversity, development and finance. The course will emphasize the role of market institutions in the coordination of international economic activity. (Prerequisite: ECON 350)

390R. Special Topics in Economics (1-3) (Variable)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) An opportunity to pursue subjects otherwise not offered by the program. Instructor’s permission required.

Education (EDU)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Education (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

200. Human Growth and Learning in Schools (3) (F, W, S) Full life-span coverage of facts, principles and concepts related to the sequential development of human learning; types and principles of learning; and instructional design.

212. Foundations of Education (2) (F, W, S) Basic foundations of education as related to law, philosophy, teaching models and trends. Selected international comparisons are included. Observation in elementary schools is included.

305. Computer and Technology Assisted Instruction (2) (F, W, S) A study of how computers and related technologies are currently being used to enhance instruction in education and training. Emphasis is given to understanding principles of effective technology use in the K-12 educational environment. (Prerequisite: EDU 212 for Education Majors only or TESOL 240 for TESOL majors/certs only)

312. Effective Pedagogy (3) (F, W, S) An in-depth study of research-based effective teaching practices in the public school classroom. Emphasis will be placed on specific applications to effective teaching models, lesson planning models, and other practices involved in classroom responsibilities for the master teacher. (Prerequisite: EDU 212)

333. Developing an Effective School Culture (2) (S) Students explore principles for developing personal leadership and how to apply these principles by helping others develop personal leadership. Drawing from the best practices of successful educators around the world, students will develop critical thinking skills and effective leadership to help create a more effective school culture.

340. Multiculturalism and Culturally Responsive Teaching Through Sheltered Instruction (2) (F, W, S) This is designed to prepare education majors to develop greater understanding of the different perspectives and integrate culturally responsive teaching utilizing sheltered teaching strategies and multicultural perspectives.

385. Assessment in the Classroom (3) (F, W, S) This course is intended to expose students to a range of assessment methods used by teachers in the public schools. Both traditional and modern assessment methods (such as portfolios) are covered, each being matched to Hawaii State content standards and educational outcomes. At the end of the course students should be able to design and administer assessments which will reasonably assess student learning suitable for school purposes and parental information. (Prerequisite: EDU 312)

390R. Special Topics in Education (1-3) (Variable).

399R. Internship in Education (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in education. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor.

414R. Special Topics in Education. (1-3) (Variable) An individualized course for undergraduates to research special topics dealing with effective teaching as designed in cooperation with the college supervisor.

492. Student Teaching (12) (F, W) Supervised teaching in the public schools in both elementary and special education settings. Seminar attendance required. (Prerequisite: Formal admittance to Teacher Education)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable)

Elementary Education (ELED)

240. Children’s Literature in Elementary Schools (2) (S) This course is a survey course of children’s literature exploring various genre of children’s literature, examining trends in children’s literature, and practicing methods of integrating literature into the elementary school curriculum. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

320. Methods of Literacy Instruction for the Emergent Reader (3) (F, W, S) Theory and methods of teaching handwriting, spelling, listening, oral and written communication, and grammar are emphasized in this course. (Pre or corequisite: EDU 312)
343. PE and Health Methods for Elementary Teachers (2) (F, W, S) This course is designed to prepare elementary teachers to understand and apply different methods of teaching physical education, health and rhythmic movement/dance to children in their classrooms related to Hawaii State Curriculum Standards. In this interdisciplinary course a variety of skills and fundamentals applicable to all elementary school levels will be covered. (Prerequisite: EDU 212)

347. Math Methods for Elementary Teachers, Part I (2) (F, W) Students examine elementary mathematics from a theoretical and practical background, focusing on the early learner, Kindergarten through Second Grade. Emphasis will be placed on applying research-based strategies, using manipulatives to establish a solid math foundation for later grades. (Pre or corequisite: EDU 312)

360. Science Methods for Elementary Teachers (3) (F, W) Students examine the teaching of elementary science from a theoretical and practical background including the use of state guidelines. Emphasis is placed on the discovery approach using hands-on experiences. (Pre or corequisite: EDU 312)

369. Writing Methods for Elementary Teachers (2) (F, W) Writing Methods for Elementary Teachers addressing the theory and practice of teaching writing to elementary students. (Prerequisite: EDU 212)

378. Music Methods for Elementary Teachers (1) (F, S) Introduction to fundamentals of music theory, developing the child’s voice, establishing a classroom environment for musical development with emphasis on appropriate musical experiences, resources, and teaching strategies. (Prerequisite: EDU 212)

380. Social Studies Methods/Multicultural Education and Constitution for Elementary Teachers (3) (F, W) Theoretical and practical background for teaching social studies in the elementary school. Emphasis is placed on the multicultural component in the public schools. Basic principles of democracy embedded in the United States Constitution are studied with application for the elementary school population. (Pre or corequisite: EDU 312)

390R. Special Topics in Elementary Education (1-3) (Variable)

421. Methods of Literacy Instruction for the Fluent Reader (3) (F, W) Theory of the nature of reading, methods and approaches to teaching reading, reading readiness, phonics, word recognition, comprehension, assessment, and recreational reading are emphasized in this course. (Prerequisites: EDU 312, ELED 320, and corequisite ELED 491 (except non-certification track))

430. Classroom Management (2) (F, W) An in-depth study of effective classroom management practices in the public school classroom. Emphasis will be placed on specific applications in the classroom for the master teacher. (Prerequisite: EDU 312, and corequisite ELED 491 (except non-certification track))

451. Math Methods for Elementary Teachers, Part II (3) (F, W) Students build on the foundation learned in Part I, examining elementary mathematics from a theoretical and practical background, focusing on the upper-elementary learner, Third through Sixth Grade. Emphasis will be placed on applying research-based strategies, using manipulatives to establish a solid math foundation for the upper elementary grades. (Prerequisites: EDU 312, ELED 347, and corequisite ELED 491 (except non-certification track))

491. Observation and Practicum (3) (F, W) Students work under the tutelage of a University Supervisor and a Cooperating Teacher in elementary schools demonstrating pedagogy learned in methods courses. Seminar attendance required. (Prerequisite: EDU 312 and corequisites ELED 421, ELED 430, ELED 451, and formal admission to Teacher Education)

492. Student Teaching (1-14) (F, W) Supervised teaching in the elementary schools. Seminar attendance required. (Prerequisites: ELED 491 and formal admission to Teacher Education)

493. Student Teaching (1-14) (F, W) Continuation of student teaching designed to provide additional grade experiences in elementary education. Seminar attendance required. (Prerequisite: ELED 492)

Emergency Management (EMGT)

490. Emergency Management Professional Development (3) (F, W, S) The course provides an understanding of fundamentals of emergency exercises, leadership & decision making skills, emergency communications, managing volunteers, the National Incident Management System and the National Response Framework. (Prerequisite: PMGT 360)

English (ENGL)

101. College Writing, Reading, and Research (3) (F, W, S) Learning critical awareness through developing effective writing, reading, and research skills by analyzing and critiquing literary and other texts. Requires multiple kinds of writing, including a research paper. Special Note: Completion of English 101 is required for registration in any English course with a higher catalog number.

199R. Service Leadership Internship in English (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

201. Literary Analysis and Research (3) (F, W, S) In-depth experience in analyzing and writing about literature to strengthen student’s abilities to think critically and communicate effectively. Requires a variety of oral and written responses to literature, including a research paper. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

218R. Introduction to Creative Writing (3) (F, W, S) An introductory course in creative writing. Students will learn principles of creative writing and will be assigned to write in several genres, including such forms as poetry, fiction, and drama, etc. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101 or permission of Instructor)

382. Shakespeare (3) (F, W) From eight to ten major plays studied intensively. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

390R. Special Topics in English (3) (Variable)

392. Introduction to Literary Editing and Publishing/Kula Manu (3) (W) An introduction to the issues and practices of literary magazine editing and publishing, with an examination of both print journals and web-based magazines. Hands on experience includes students creating their own single-issue magazine, and staffing BYU Hawaii's campus literary journal, Kula Manu. (Prerequisite: ENGL 218R)
English as an International Language (EIL)

201. The International Student in the University (2) (F, W, S) Focuses on the cultural and language needs of international students. Addresses university policies, academic skills, and social and cultural adjustment.

213. Intermediate I Listening/Speaking (4) (F, W, S) Produces comprehension of basic oral texts through the study of listening and vocabulary strategies; builds delivery, language use, and topic development skills through communicative activities.

215. Intermediate I Church Language (2) (F, W, S) Provides reinforcement and further practice in writing, reading and listening/speaking skills through the study of the principles of the gospel.

217. Intermediate I Writing (4) (F, W, S) Focuses on writing from sources mainly at the paragraph level; develops fundamental English grammar including verb tenses and sentence structure patterns and their components.

219. Intermediate I Reading (4) (F, W, S) Builds comprehension of simple texts through the study of reading and vocabulary strategies; develops the ability to respond to texts in writing. Fee required.

223. Intermediate II Listening/Speaking (4) (F, W, S) Extends comprehension of academic oral texts through the study of listening and vocabulary strategies; expands delivery, language use, and topic development skills through academic discourse.

225. Intermediate II Church Language (2) (F, W, S) Provides reinforcement and practice in writing, reading, and listening/speaking skills through the study of the teachings and examples of latter-day Church members and leaders.

227. Intermediate II Writing (4) (F, W, S) Introduces essay writing and other academic genres; stresses the ability to use increasingly complex sentence structures and grammatical forms in writing.

229. Intermediate II Reading (4) (F, W, S) Emphasizes developing comprehension of academic readings and introduces basic academic writing skills related to course readings. Fee required.

301. Academic English I (6) (F, W) Students develop general academic English proficiency by focusing on listening, speaking, reading, and writing in academic content areas.

313. Academic English I Listening/Speaking (4) (F, W, S) Students develop general academic English proficiency by focusing on listening and speaking in academic content areas.

315. Focus on Academic English (6) (Variable) Students focus on improving academic English through listening, speaking, reading, and writing in academic content areas (Enrollment by teacher recommendation only)

317. Academic English I Reading/Writing (4) (F, W, S) Students develop general academic English proficiency by focusing on reading and writing in academic content areas.

320. Academic English II (4) (F, W) Students improve academic listening, speaking, reading and writing skills while studying different content areas. Emphasis is on applying skills in their concurrent GE classes.

331. Oral Fluency (2) (F, W, S) Students participate in oral reports and discussions to build fluency and gain confidence in speaking in academic contexts.

423. Modern Nationalism and Globalization (3) (W) Development of the modern nation-state and national identities within a global context and the impact of globalization in multiple historical periods.

485. Junior Tutorial in History (3) (W) Intensive reading, discussion, and writing in selected historical issues. In-depth experience with historical-graphical debates and methodological analysis. (Prerequisite: HIST 200)

490. Historical Research and Writing (3) (F) Individual research project culminating in a final paper written as a senior thesis. (Prerequisite: HIST 485)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Home Economics (HEC)

162. Principles of Clothing Construction (3) (F, W) Application of construction principles using commercial patterns; selection, use, and care of equipment; and selection of textiles. Construction of garments and mini projects reflecting a wide range of sewing techniques. Fee required.

390R. Special Topics in Home Economics (1-3) (Variable) Fee Required.

Honors (HON)

100. Introduction to University Education and Honors Program (1) (F, W) Introduction to Honors Education, the life of the mind, and the intellectual process. Discussion-based exploration of university learning, critical thinking, and the university’s resources.
101. Honors Colloquium (First Semester) (1) (F, W) Weekly series of guest speakers and scholars presenting on compelling scholarly topics and cultural issues, emphasizing student participation and discussion. Required service component.

102. Honors Colloquium (Second Semester) (1) (F, W) Weekly series of guest speakers and scholars presenting on compelling scholarly topics and cultural issues, emphasizing student participation and discussion. Required service component.

201. Honors Colloquium (Third Semester) (1) (F, W) Weekly series of guest speakers and scholars presenting on compelling scholarly topics and cultural issues, emphasizing student participation and discussion. Required service component.

202. Honors Colloquium (Fourth Semester) (1) (F, W) Weekly series of guest speakers and scholars presenting on compelling scholarly topics and cultural issues, emphasizing student participation and discussion. Required service component.

Hospitality and Tourism Management (HTM)

133. Introduction to Hospitality and Tourism Management (3) (F, W, S) This class is an introductory study of the Hospitality and Tourism industry. Its purpose is to familiarize the student with the structure of the industry and its principal components in preparation for more advanced studies. A secondary purpose is to investigate the types of jobs that are available in the industry so the student can make meaningful academic and career plans.

150. Economics of Global Tourism (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to the fundamental concepts and methods of micro- and macro-economic analysis and their application in addressing contemporary issues of global sustainable tourism. Emphasis is on the trends, policies, impacts and challenges in planning for and managing tourism and hospitality organizations. Not available to BUSM students. (Prerequisites: HTM 133, MATH 107, BUSM 180 w/C- or better)

200. Hospitality and Tourism Practicum (3) (F, W, S) The hands-on practicum experience provides students the opportunity in their freshman or sophomore year to apply knowledge gained through introductory coursework. Structured, rotating practicum experiences at local tourism organizations help students to clarify career goals and develop context and skills in preparation for higher-level coursework. (Prerequisites: HTM 133; BUSM 180 with a C- or better)

230. Tourism Geography and Travel (1) (F, W, S) Online course focused on the geography of the world through the lens of tourism and travel. A study of destinations, history, culture, attractions, people and impacts. (Prerequisites: HTM 133)

255. Property Management and the Guest Experience (3) (F, W, S) A study of hotel physical facilities and systems and their contribution to the total guest experience. Stresses the utilization of maintenance personnel for efficient operation. Property atmospherics and security are analyzed. (Prerequisites: HTM 133; BUSM 180 with a C- or better)

270. Destination Management and Marketing (3) (F, W, S) Perspective on global tourism with emphasis on destinations as the basis for travel: their key industry role; sustainable management; experience development; differentiated branding; effective promotion; stakeholder engagement; partnering with key public/private entities. Guest speakers and field trips to enhance classroom presentations. (Prerequisites: HTM 133, HTM 230; BUSM 180 with a C- or better)

285. Hospitality Operations Management (3) (F, W, S) A case-based, big-picture view of common issues and problems faced by hospitality managers in team development and leadership with the objective of improving the analytical skills, strategic-thinking, and problem-solving ability of students. A prerequisite to all upper-division HTM courses. (Prerequisites: HTM 133, HTM 200, HTM 230; BUSM 180 with a C- or better)

290. Attractions and Experience Management (3) (F, W) Focused on designing, managing and evaluating the guest experience of tourism attractions and activities to optimize customer satisfaction and engagement. Covers a broad range of destination experiences including theme parks, entertainment, shopping, cultural attractions, heritage sites, ecotourism, agritourism and outdoor recreation. (Prerequisites: HTM 133, BUSM 180)

295. Cross-Cultural Management in Tourism (3) (W) Effective leadership principles and management practices in travel and hospitality business environments impacted by globalization and mobility. Focus is on the increasing diversity of employees in the workplace and the rapidly-changing profile of hospitality customers, which intensifies the need for cohesive teams who are well-trained to serve guests from around the world with unique needs and interests. (Prerequisite: HTM 285)

301. Hospitality Accounting and Finance (3) (F) Principles of managerial accounting applied to hospitality and tourism. The use of financial statements to analyze operations and to make management decisions. Ratio analysis, pricing, cost control, budgeting, variance analysis, cash management, investments, and project feasibility are considered. (Prerequisites: HTM 285; ACCT 201, HTM 150 or ECON 200, BUSM 230, and MATH 107)

304. Hospitality and Tourism Marketing (3) (F, W, S) Introduces basic principles of marketing management in an HTM context, including customer and market analysis, segmentation, positioning, branding, pricing, distribution, marketing communications, relationships, global marketing and ethics. (Prerequisites: HTM 285; BUSM 320, HTM 150 or ECON 200)

340. Pricing Strategy and Revenue Management (3) (W, S) Concepts and practices in managing dynamic pricing for different customer segments to maximize revenues of hotels, airlines, car rentals, cruises and other hospitality sectors. Preparation for the Certification in Hotel Industry Analytics (CHIA) offered by the American Hotel and Lodging Educational Institute and STR. (Prerequisites: HTM 285, ACCT 201, HTM 150 or ECON 200, BUSM 230, MATH 107)

342. Hospitality and Tourism Law and Ethics (3) (W, S) Study and understanding of the legal system, laws, and ethics with application to the hospitality, tourism, and travel industry. (Prerequisites: HTM 285, ENGL 101)

351. Food and Beverage Management (3) (F, W) Food service system pre-cost control, budgeting, pre-control methods, production controls, purchasing, distribution systems, receiving, inventory control, and profit. (Prerequisites: HTM 285; ACCT 201, HTM 150 or ECON 200, BUSM 230, MATH 107)

352. Food and Beverage Operations (3) (S) Principles and best practices of the daily operations of a successful food and beverage venue. Topics include staff training and scheduling customer service quality, culinary administration, ingredients and materials cost control, receiving and inventory management, food safety, and facilities maintenance. (Prerequisites: HTM 351)

370. Meetings and Convention Management (3) (F, W) Management and operation of conventions, meetings, trade shows and exhibitions for both profit and non-profit organizations. Emphasizes program planning, budgeting, contracts, marketing, public relations, site and facility selection, exhibit planning and marketing, transportation, food and lodging arrangements, and career opportunities. A convention/meeting planning project will be required for successful completion of the course. (Prerequisites: HTM 285, HTM 304)

375. Accommodations Operations (3) (W, S) Organizational structure and front office positions. Reservation, registration and rooming process; management, financial, and policy control procedures; evolving hotel management technology. Also organization, staffing, functions of housekeeping departments. (Prerequisites: HTM 285; BUSM 230, ACCT 201, HTM 150 or ECON 200, and MATH 107 with a C- or better)

390R. Special Topics in Hospitality and Tourism Management (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Management Internship in Hospitality and Tourism (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in hospitality and tourism. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor. (Prerequisites: HTM 285, Jr. Status of 60+ total credits)

485. Hospitality and Tourism Senior Seminar (3) (F, W) A capstone course designed to be completed in the senior year. Students integrate and combine concepts and ideas from prior courses and industry experience to develop a “big picture” view of the industry in preparation for career success. Case studies, site visits, industry expert panels, and industry-generated projects are employed to this end. (Prerequisites: HTM 285, 301, 304, 351, 375)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) (As determined by student and faculty member)

Humanities - see Integrated Humanities (HUM)

100R. Exploring Humanities (1) (Variable) A short, focused exploration of a compelling topic in the humanities (music, art, literature, history, film...). Teaches creative and critical interpretation and models lifelong learning. Different sections may study different topics.

151. The Art of Seeing and Listening: Cross-Cultural Themes (3) (F, S) To develop the ability to see and listen creatively to a variety of visual and musical expressions around the world, and make relevant applications to life experiences. Emphasis given to understanding art and music within a variety of cultural and historical contexts globally. (Pre or corequisite: ENGL 101)

251. The Art of Reading: Global Texts and Contexts (3) (F, W) A global exploration of written and oral texts, from epic stories to scriptures, songs, histories, myths, love letters, political speeches, tweets and other digital texts. (Pre or corequisite: ENGL 101)

301. Cultures of Oceania (3) (W) Study of the peoples and histories of Oceania. Emphasis on gaining general cultural literacy with special attention on expressive culture and group diversity.

302. Cultures of Asia (3) (F) Studies of the peoples and histories of Asia. Emphasis on gaining general cultural literacy with special attention on expressive culture and group diversity.

303. Cultures of Europe (3) (S) A survey of major European arts of music, painting, sculpture, architecture, literature, as well as philosophy and history covered through an historical approach from the classical period to the contemporary.

304. Topics in Area Studies (3) (Variable) Study of the peoples and histories of a particular world region or area. Emphasis on gaining general cultural literacy with special attention on expressive culture and group diversity.

365R. Special Studies in World Cinema (3) (W) A variable content course designed to explore various topics and themes in world cinema. May be repeated for credit provided the topic is different. (Same as FILM 365R) (Prerequisite: FILM 102)

399R. Internship in Integrated Humanities (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in Integrated Humanities. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: HUM 420 or 440)

420. Studies in Themes and Genres (3) (W) A comparative investigation of particular themes or genres in expressive culture: visual arts, music, literature, film, etc. Emphasis placed on interpretive strategies and the application of critical perspectives to both individual works of cultural expression and to themes or genres studied. Topics may vary by semester. (Prerequisites: HUM 151, 251)

440. Studies in Texts and Contexts (3) (F) A comparative exploration of a selection of primary seminal texts (literary, philosophical, visual) in one or more world cultures, and the application of critical theoretical considerations. Emphasis placed on situating the texts within historical and cultural contexts and developing interpretive strategies. Topics may vary by semester. (Prerequisite: HUM 151, 251)

442. Philosophy of Art (3) (F, W) An exploration of problems, methods, and theories in aesthetic valuation, appreciation, and criticism. (Same as ART 442) (Prerequisites: HUM 151 and HUM 251; or FILM 102 and 300)

490. Senior Capstone (3) (F, W, S) Culminating capstone experience for students in the Integrated Humanities program. It may include a research paper and/or a project through individual mentoring. It should be taken during the senior year. (Prerequisite: HUM 420 or 440 or 442)

Information Systems (IS)

350. Database Management Systems (3) (F, W) Introduction to design and implementation of database management systems. Emphasis on data structures, normalization of data, data modeling, and database methods. (Prerequisite: CIS 101)

390R. Special Topics in Information Systems (1-3) (Variable)
399R. Internship in Information Systems (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in information systems. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

400. Information Systems Proficiency (0) (F, W, S) Students demonstrate proficiency at important Information Systems skills by examination. This qualifies them to enter the IS capstone experience.

430. Foundations in IT Services, Enterprise Systems, and ERP Skills (3) (F, W) Students learn principles of IT Services and enterprise systems that dramatically impact enterprise business processes; including IT components, architecture, interconnections, best practices, and ERP skills. (Prerequisite: Junior or Senior standing and acceptance into one of the Computer and Information Sciences, Business or Accounting degree programs)

435. Advanced Concepts in Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Systems (3) (W) Students learn advanced concepts related to enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems such as data warehousing, business intelligence and business process management. Students will complete several hands-on exercises using the SAP ERP system and other related software tools. (Prerequisite: IS 430)

440. Advanced Topics in SAP ERP Systems (3) (S) Students learn advanced topics related to the SAP enterprise resource planning (ERP) system such as production planning, materials management, sales and distribution, and human capital management. Students will complete several hands-on exercises using the SAP ERP system. (Prerequisites: IS 430 and one of the following: ACCT 356, IS 435, IS 485)

450. Advanced Database Topics (3) (S) Review and application of advanced database topics such as data mining, data warehousing, object-oriented databases, database programming and database administration. (Prerequisite: IS 350)

485. Project Management and Practice (3) (F, S) Advanced students design and implement a significant information system. Project management, management of the IS function, and systems integration are components of the experience. (Prerequisites: CIS 405)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Information Technology (IT)

224. Computer Hardware and Systems Software (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to computer operating systems, graphical and command-line user interfaces, hardware and software installation, utility programs, software integration, and diagnostic techniques. (Corequisite: IT 224L)

224L. Computer Hardware and Systems Software Lab (0) (F, W, S) Required with IT 224, hands-on experience installing and configuring hardware and software, and diagnosing problems. (Corequisite: IT 224)

240. Fundamentals of Web Design and Technology (3) (F, W, S) Concepts of multimedia design and creation for the Internet using web programming tools to develop web pages.

280. Computer Networking (3) (F, W, S) End-user fundamentals including local area networks, home networks, wireless networks, routers, firewalls, ports, address sharing, dynamic host configuration, OSI model, IPv4, netmasks, subnets, and troubleshooting.

320. System Administration Essentials (3) (F) Introduces fundamental system configuration skills including system access, file systems, security, administration, logging, network, interfacing, installation. (Prerequisite: CIS 101)

390R. Special Topics in Information Technology (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Information Technology (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in information technology. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

420. System Administration (3) (W) Develops skills needed to set up and manage systems on existing networks, including boot configuration, encryption, hardening, and scripting. (Prerequisite: IT 320)

426. Computer Network Services (3) (F) Installation, configuration, and management of network services such as file servers and directory services. (Prerequisites: IT 224/L, IT 280)

427. Client Management and Configuration (3) (W) Introduces fundamental client configuration skills including installation and deployment, configuration of hardware, application and network resources, access control, and system monitoring and maintenance. (Prerequisites: IT 224/L, IT 280)

440. Foundations of Human-Computer Interaction (3) (W) Human-Computer Interaction Foundations: including evaluation, design, and implementation. CIS 405 and a psychology course in human information processing are recommended. (Prerequisites: CIS 305, IT 240, MATH 121)

480. Computer Network Design (3) (W) Networking of computers and configuration of managed networking equipment including switches and routers. (Prerequisite: IT 280)

481. Information Assurance and Security (3) (F) Introduction to information security providing a foundation of computer security concepts, including general security, communication security, infrastructure security, basics of cryptography, and operational and organizational security. (Prerequisite: IT 280)

482. Advanced Topics in Information Assurance and Security (3) (W) Advanced topics in information assurance: systems verification, information flow/protection, computer viruses/ malware, intrusion detection models, multi-level security, forensics, network firewalls, cryptography, e-commerce support, and database security. (Prerequisite: IT 481)

491-492-493. Seminar (1-1-1) (F, W, S) Readings in the Information Technology Science literature, writing of review articles, research proposal writing and presentation, conducting research, poster presentation, writing and presentation of the senior thesis. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Intercultural Peacebuilding (IPB)

121. Intercultural Peacebuilding (3) (F, W, S) An interdisciplinary look at how to build peaceful families, communities, organizations and nations. Special emphasis will be placed on intercultural conflict.

221. Establishing Peace (3) (F, W, S) Examines the foundations of President David O. McKay's prophecy on establishing peace internationally. Explores the role that Laie, BYU-Hawaii, the Polynesian Cultural Center and the host Hawaiian and Pacific Island cultures play in influencing peace in the world. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

231. Interpersonal Peacebuilding (3) (F) Examines interpersonal peacebuilding techniques in relationships with an emphasis on marriage and parenting. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

277. Personal Conflict (3) (W) Tackles deep issues that affect people's ability to handle and work through conflict. Topics include grief, suicide, addiction, mental illness, abuse and crisis of faith. The class will explore both personal struggles as well as introduce tools to help others wrestling with these conflicts. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

311. NGOs and Conflict Transformation (3) (F) The course explores the work that non-governmental organizations (NGO) do in the field, specifically in the development and implementation of programs, to address conflicts in communities around the world. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

323. Peace Education (3) (W) The course focuses on teaching students the conceptual frameworks to be educators in the peace field. Its main purpose is oriented toward the development of attitudes, values, knowledge, skills and behaviors that lead to imagining, creating, manifesting and sustaining peace in the family, the classroom, the community and the world. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

332. Peace Ecology (3) (S) Peace Ecology is the combination of peace and environment studies, providing the space for the integration of the two fields of study. It explores the long-term benefits of an environmental consciousness balanced with senses of peace. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

352. Intercultural Conflict Dynamics (3) (F) Examines the role of culture and identity in group conflict dynamics. Focuses on group formation processes, group conflict escalation processes, group problem solving challenges and group leadership strategies. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

380. Culture and Conflict Transformation (3) (W) Explores theories and issues of conflict transformation and reconciliation within and between diverse cultural systems. Particular attention is given to various cultural methods of conflict transformation. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

383. Peace Linguistics (3) (W) An examination of the languages of peace and of conflict, from an applied linguistics perspective, analyzing and creating written and spoken texts, to identify recurring patterns and themes. (Same as LING 383). (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

390R. Special Topics in Intercultural Peacebuilding (3) (Variable) (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

399R. Internship in Intercultural Peacebuilding (1-14) (F, W, S) Students may receive credit for applied experience in Intercultural Peacebuilding. Prior approval must be obtained and a program coordinated by a faculty member and the on-site supervisor. (Prerequisites: IPB 121 and either IPB 400, IPB 411 or IPB 425)

400. Cultural Mediation (3) (F, W) Skills in conflict transformation and reconciliation as a third party mediator. Particular attention is given to multi-cultural techniques and disputes. (Prerequisite: IPB 121)

411. NGOs and Conflict Transformation Practicum (3) (W) This course is follow-up to IPB 311 NGOs and Conflict Transformation, taking a student's conceptual non-government organization (NGO) framework and developing it into a fully operational NGO by the end of the semester. (Prerequisite: IPB 311)

425. Cultural Facilitation (3) (S) Skills in conflict transformation and reconciliation as a third party large group facilitator. Leadership skills and reconciliation processes are also explored. (Prerequisites: IPB 121 and Permission of Instructor)

480. Conflict Transformation (3) (F, W) IPB capstone class. Students lead either a peacebuilding field project or research project. Explores theories of sustainable project creation, advanced change theory, project leadership and facilitation and monitoring and evaluation models. (Prerequisites: IPB 400, IPB 411 or IPB 425 and Permission of Instructor)

495R. Independent Study (1-3) (Variable) Students wishing to pursue independent research or an applied project can enroll with permission from the instructor. (Prerequisites: IPB 121 and Permission of Instructor)

Interdisciplinary Studies (IDS)

390R. Special Topics in Interdisciplinary Studies (3) (Variable)

International Teacher Education (ITEP)

492. International Student Teaching (12) (Variable) Supervised teaching in an elementary or secondary school in an international setting. This is the culminating experience in the teacher education program. The program does not complete requirements for teacher licensing in the United States. (Prerequisite: Formal admission to Teacher Education)

Japanese (JPN)

101. Elementary Japanese Conversation and Grammar I (4) (F, W) Emphasis on conversation. Study of basic grammar and vocabulary, reading included; Language laboratory required.

102. Elementary Japanese Conversation and Grammar II (4) (F, W) Emphasis on conversation. Study of basic grammar and vocabulary, reading included; Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: JPN 101 or Permission of Instructor)

201. Intermediate Japanese Conversation and Grammar (4) (S) Continuation of Conversational Japanese. Advanced Structures, expressions, and patterns. Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: JPN 102 or Permission of Instructor)
202. Intermediate Japanese II (4) (F) Continued emphasis on conversation, listening comprehension, vocabulary building, grammar review, reading and writing. (Prerequisite: JPN 201 or Permission of Instructor)

301. Introduction to Japanese Literature (3) (W) Survey from eighteenth century to the present. (Prerequisite: JPN 202)

311. Advanced Intensive Conversation in Japanese (3) (S) Intensive collaborative approach to conversational Japanese based on selected dialogue patterns and situations. (Prerequisite: JPN 202 or Permission of Instructor)

321. Selected Reading and Grammar in Japanese (3) (S) Readings in Modern documentary styles, emphasizing grammar, reading comprehension, and vocabulary building. (Prerequisite: JPN 301)

Those with overseas experience (study abroad or mission, for example) are encouraged to take the FLATS test and with successful passing result, take JPN 202.

Linguistics (LING)

210. Introduction to Linguistics (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to the study of language; its structure, acquisition, history, variability, and neurological basis. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

260. Phonology (3) (F, W) An examination of the elements of phonetics and phonology that impact English pronunciation—vowels, consonants, stress, rhythm, intonation—with application to teaching and learning situations. (Prerequisite: LING 210 with a C+ or better)

321. English Syntax (3) (W) Historical review of the role and approaches of grammar instruction in the second language classroom, coupled with an overview of the major syntactic patterns of English. (Prerequisites: TESOL 310)

331. Sociolinguistics (3) (W, S) Language in relation to society: language communities (bilingualism, language shift, code-switching); the relationship between thought, language, and culture; and the politics and impact of English language teaching worldwide. (Prerequisite: LING 210 with a C+ or better)

383. Peace Linguistics (3) (W) An examination of the languages of peace and of conflict, from an applied linguistics perspective, analyzing and creating written and spoken texts, to identify recurring patterns and themes. (Same as IPB 383) (Prerequisite: LING 210 with a C+ or better)

390R. Special Topics in Linguistics (1-3) (Variable) (Prerequisite: Program consent)

423. Language Acquisition (3) (F) An examination of psycholinguistic and sociolinguistic aspects of first and second language learning and of the research regarding second language education. (Prerequisites: TESOL 310)

Māori (MAOR)

101. Elementary Māori Conversation and Grammar I (4) (F) Emphasis on conversation. Study of basic grammar and vocabulary, reading included. Language laboratory required.

102. Elementary Māori Conversation and Grammar II (4) (W) Continued emphasis on conversation. Study of basic grammar and vocabulary, reading included. Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: MAOR 101)

201. Intermediate Māori Conversation and Grammar (4) (F) Continued emphasis on conversation. Advanced structures, expressions, and patterns. Conducted in Māori. Language laboratory required. (Prerequisite: MAOR 102)

202. Intermediate Māori II (3) (W) Continued emphasis on conversation, listening comprehension, vocabulary building, advanced grammar, reading and writing. (Prerequisite: MAOR 201)

Mathematics (MATH)

100. Quantitative Reasoning Preparation (3) (F, W, S) A practical course directed toward applications of mathematics. Deals with percent, areas, volumes, proportions, statistics, etc. The student also becomes well acquainted with the metric system and the US Common system.

101. Intermediate Algebra (3) (F, W, S) Sets, real number system, functions, graphs, algebraic manipulations, linear and quadratic equations, systems of equations, word problems. Approximately equivalent to second year high school algebra.

107. Quantitative Reasoning (3) (F, W, S) Practical applications of mathematics in the context of logic, finance, statistics, probability, and other areas.

110. College Algebra (3) (F, W, S) Functions and Graphs, Theory of Equations, Inequalities, Polynomials, Exponential and Logarithmic Functions, Systems of Equations, Matrices, and Determinants. (Prerequisite: Intermediate Algebra background)

111. Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry (3) (F, W, S) Circular functions, triangle relationships, identities, inverse trigonometric functions, trigonometric equations, vectors, complex numbers, DeMoivre’s theorem and analytic geometry. (Recommended MATH 110 or Proficiency)

119. Applied Calculus (4) (F, W) Introduction to plane analytic geometry and one-dimensional calculus. One semester terminal course designed for students in business, life sciences, management, social sciences, and related applied disciplines. (Prerequisite: College Algebra experience)

121. Principles of Statistics (3) (F, W, S) Descriptive statistics, elementary probability, central tendency, variability, random variables (discrete and continuous) confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, linear regression, ANOVA, contingency tables. (Prerequisite: MATH 107 or 110)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Mathematics (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

212. Calculus I (5) (F, W, S) Basic theoretical concepts and applications of differentiation and integration. Applications in two dimensional analytic geometry are provided.

213. Calculus II (5) (F, W, S) Methods of integration, analytic geometry, transcendental and hyperbolic functions, infinite sequences and series, and polar coordinates. (Prerequisite: MATH 212; Corequisite MATH 301 recommended)

214. Multivariable Calculus (3) (W, S) Basic concepts and applications of vector calculus, multidimensional calculus, partial derivatives, and multiple integration. (Prerequisite: MATH 213; Corequisite MATH 301 recommended)

301. Foundations of Mathematics (3) (F-even, W-even, S-odd) Set theory, logic, development of number systems and axiomatic systems. Attention is also given to the history of mathematics and famous mathematicians. (Prerequisite: MATH 212)

302. Foundations of Geometry (3) (F-odd) An axiomatic development of Euclidean geometry. It also includes a study of non-Euclidean geometries and related subjects. (Prerequisite: MATH 212 or Permission of Instructor)

305. Mathematics for Elementary Teachers (3) (F, W) The course is designed to teach a perspective elementary teacher the understanding of mathematics needed to teach in grades K-6. The focus will be on the mathematics not on methods since all pre-service elementary teachers will take a separate methods course as part of their program. Although learning the appropriate mathematics is the primary objective, it is hoped that some of the instructional techniques used in the class model the desired methods for teaching elementary mathematics. (Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher)

308. Mathematics Using Technologies (3) (S-even) Introduction to current math-specific software and calculators which are used in the teaching and learning of mathematics. Technology will be used to investigate topics from algebra, statistics, calculus, linear algebra, etc. (Prerequisite: MATH 121, 212)

311. Introduction to Numerical Methods (3) (Variable) Interpolation, curve fitting, numerical differentiation and integration, and numerical solutions to linear, non-linear and differential systems. (Prerequisites: MATH 213)

322. Introduction to Complex Variables (3) (W-odd, S-even) Complex algebra, analytical functions, integration and differentiation in the complex plane, infinite series, theory of residues, conformal mappings. (Prerequisite: MATH 214)

340. Matrix Methods (3) (W) Basic concepts of matrices and inverse matrices, determinants, Simplex method, vectors, linear independence, eigenvalues, eigenvectors, diagonalization, and differential equations (or probability and Markov Chains). (Prerequisite: MATH 119 or 212)

343. Elementary Linear Algebra (3) (F-odd, W-odd, S-even) Linear systems, matrices, vectors and vector spaces, linear transformation, determinants, quadratic forms, Eigen values, and Eigenvectors. (Prerequisite: MATH 212)

377. Secondary Mathematics Teaching Methods (2) (F—even) Designed especially for prospective secondary school teachers. Techniques of presentation unique to mathematics. Emphasis placed on helping the prospective teacher to be more fully prepared to meet the daily problems of the classroom. Must be taken before student teaching. (Pre or corequisite: MATH 212)

390R. Special Topics in Mathematics (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Mathematics (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in mathematics. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor.

421. Mathematical Statistics (3) (F) Probability, random variables, sampling distributions, joint distributions, limiting distributions, point estimation and hypothesis testing, regression and correlation. (Prerequisite: MATH 214)

441. Introduction to Analysis I (3) (F) Elementary topological aspects of the real numbers, metric properties, sequences, limits, continuity, differentiation, and Riemann Integration. (Prerequisite: MATH 214, 301)

442. Introduction to Analysis II (3) (W) Series in one real variable, sequences and series of functions, measure, and metric spaces. (Prerequisite: MATH 441)

471. Abstract Algebra I (3) (F) An examination of algebraic systems: the number system, groups, rings, and integral domains. (Prerequisite: MATH 301)

472. Abstract Algebra II (3) (W) Continuation of MATH 371. A study of fields, vector spaces, extension fields, and Galois theory. (Prerequisite: MATH 471)

490R. Mathematics Seminar (2) (S) A lecture course that provides a capstone experience for mathematics and mathematics education majors. A brief review of major courses will be given and students will take a standardized exams. Other topics may include current issues in research employment and graduate school.

495R. Independent Study (1-4) (Variable) Topic and credit to be arranged between the student and instructor. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

Music (MUSC)

101. Introduction to Music Literature (3) (F, W, S) Designed to acquaint the student with concepts of form and style in music as exemplified in masterworks from the Middle Ages to the present.

102. World Music Cultures (3) (F, W, S) A survey of the musical traditions of selected representative world cultures: Oceania, East Asia, Indonesia, India, Africa, the Middle East and North America.

103. Music Fundamentals (3) (F, W, S) Students are introduced to the rudiments of western musical notation and are given foundational training in music theory and ear training. This course is designed for students with a limited background in music. Those interested in pursuing more advanced studies will be able to enroll in MUSC 111 and MUSC 111L after successful completion of this course.

105R. Group Performance Instruction (2) (S) Class instruction for beginners in voice, piano, and instrumental music. Special fee required for piano and instrumental instruction. (Piano section only; music majors needing to pass piano proficiency will be given preference. Non music majors may contact instructor the first day of class)

110R. University Chorale (1-2) (F, W, S) Open to all students who desire an opportunity to participate in a singing organization. May be repeated up to four semesters for credit. Fee required.
111. Music Theory I (3) (F, W) A study of the essentials of music for beginning musicians. Three class sessions per week with two accompanying laboratory sessions. MUSC 111L is the lab portion of this class and must be taken concurrently. (Corequisite: MUSC 111L)

111L. Elementary Musicianship I Lab (1) (F, W) Group instruction for music majors to provide basic musicianship skills for beginning theory, sight singing and ear training. This course is the lab portion of MUSC 111 (Prerequisite: MUSC 103 or Pre-theory test. Corequisite: MUSC 111)

112. Music Theory II (3) (W, S) An in-depth study of the harmonic techniques of the eighteenth century with emphasis on diatonic choral writing through the seventh chord. Class meets three days per week with a required laboratory session two days per week. MUSC 112L is the lab portion of this class and must be taken concurrently. (Prerequisite: MUSC 111/L. Corequisite: MUSC 112L)

112L. Elementary Musicianship II Lab (1) (W, S) Group instruction for music majors to provide basic musicianship skills for beginning theory, sight singing and ear training. This course is the lab portion of MUSC 112. (Prerequisite: MUSC 111/L. Corequisite: MUSC 112)

159R. Individual Instruction (1-2) (F, W, S) Private Instruction for non-music majors, or for music majors in World Music Studies track. Consists of twelve 1/2-hour lessons and may include Master class attendance. Fee required. (Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor)

160R. Individual Instruction (1-3) (F, W, S) Private instruction for freshman-level music majors. Consists of 12 one-hour lessons. The student participates in a recital and jury. Instructor's consent required. Master class participation required. Fee required. (Prerequisite: Audition and acceptance as music major)

161. Introduction to Piano Technique (2) (F) Advanced pianists learn to play with relaxed muscular control; additionally, how to prepare repertoire independently of the private teacher. (Prerequisite: Admission into piano program by audition)

191. Keyboard Harmony I (2) (S) Functional keyboard skills including harmonization, improvisation, and transposition are developed and refined. (Pre or corequisites: MUSC 111/L and Audition)

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Music (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

202. Conducting (2) (S) Instrumental and choral conducting techniques. Score reading, formal analysis, terminology, beat pattern, phrasing, tempo, and styles. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L)

211. Music Theory III (3) (F) Continuation of MUSC 112 through modulation, chromaticism, and harmonic techniques of the nineteenth century. MUSC 211L is the lab portion of this class and must be taken concurrently. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L. Corequisite: MUSC 211L)

225R. Concert Choir (1-2) (F, W, S) Enrollment by permission of the instructor after audition. Fee required. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

235R. Broadway Revue (1-2) (F, W) Preparation and performance of individual and ensemble numbers from various musical theatre shows. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

238R. Symphonic Band (1-2) (F, W) A performance ensemble consisting of Woodwind, Brass, and Percussion instruments. Repertoire includes arrangements of traditional song, original literature, and band/orchestral transcriptions. Admission by audition and/or permission of the instructor. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

239R. Salsa Orchestra (1) (F, W) A Latin jazz ensemble exploring the music of Latin America, the Caribbean, and Brazil. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

240R. Shaka Steel (1) (F, W, S) Steel drum band with roots in the music of Trinidad. No previous steel pan experience necessary, but ability to read music and collaborate is required. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

241R. Polynesian Drum Ensemble (1) (F, W, S) Explores the drumming traditions of Tahiti, the Cook Islands and elsewhere in the Pacific. No previous drumming experience required, but a strong practice ethic is expected. No audition required.

242R. Polynesian Music Ensemble (1) (Variable) Explores the musical traditions of Polynesia, including instruction in ukulele and collaborative performance. No audition required.

244R. Jazz Ensemble (1-2) (S) Exploration of the field of jazz, with emphasis on contemporary styling, dynamics, interpretation, and ensemble balance. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

246R. Street Band (1) (F, W) Exploration of brass traditions, ranging from traditional brass quintet repertoire to New Orleans street band traditions. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

247R. Chamber Orchestra (1) (F, W) Exploration of the orchestral music of the Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Modern periods of the Western musical tradition. A core of string players is joined by winds, brass and percussion players as occasions may demand. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

248R. Chamber Music (1) (F, W, S) Small chamber groups (duets, trios, quartets) of strings and winds explore the relevant repertoire from the classical tradition. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

250R. Piano Accompanying Ensemble (1-2) (F, W, S) Piano Pedagogy majors serve as accompanists for one ensemble, or for two private voice or instrumental students. (Prerequisite: Piano major.)

250R. Individual Instruction (1-3) (F, W, S) Private instruction for sophomore-level music majors. Consists of 12 sixty-minute lessons. The student participates in a recital and jury. Instructor's consent required. Fee required. Master class participation required. (Prerequisites: MUSC 160R, 2 semesters)

264. Percussion Methods and Materials (3) (Variable) Study of pedagogical materials and teaching techniques appropriate to the primary percussion instruments including snare drum, timpani, keyboard percussion and related instruments. Fee required.

276. Diction for Singers: English and Italian (2) (F-even years) Language diction for singers: English and Italian lyric diction with an introduction to the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) as a tool for studying speech sounds of sung language. (Prerequisite: Voice major)

278. Diction for Singers: French (1) (S-odd years) Foreign-language diction for singers: French with an introduction to the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) as a tool for studying speech sounds of sung language. (Prerequisite: Voice major, MUSC 276)
Phonetic Alphabet as a tool for studying speech sounds of sung language. (Prerequisite: Voice major, MUSC 276)

291. Keyboard Harmony II (2) (S-odd years) Keyboard harmony with an emphasis on analysis, improvisation, and other functional skills required of piano teachers and performers. (Prerequisites: MUSC 191)

301. History of Popular Music (3) (Variable) Examines music in contemporary American society in all its popular, classical, and cultural manifestations with emphasis on the growth of music as an entertainment business. (Prerequisite: MUSC 101)

328R. Opera and Music Theatre Workshop (1) (S-odd years) Performances of excerpts from opera and musical theatre including scenes, arias, song, duets, and ensemble numbers. Students participate in the creation of the theme and selection of the numbers and works to be presented. (Prerequisite: Audition required)

333. Introduction to Piano Pedagogy (3) (W-odd years) An introduction to the profession of piano teaching. Methodology of piano teaching from the beginning to early advanced levels. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L and acceptance into MUSC 360R)

333L. Supervised Teaching, Piano (2) (W-odd years) Students offer individual piano instruction to 4-6 beginning- and intermediate-level students through the BYU–Hawaii Youth Conservatory. (Prerequisite: MUSC 333)

344R. Collaborative Arts for Pianists (1-2) (F) Pianists learn the art of collaborative interpretation with instrumentalists and vocalists. Skills are emphasized including sight-reading, following, setting tempo, and clef reading. Master-class attendance required.

360R. Individual Instruction (1-4) (F, W, S) Private instruction for junior-level music majors. Consists of 12 sixty-minute lessons. The student participates in a recital and jury. Instructor’s consent required. Fee required. Master class participation required. Students register for 4 credits in the final semester and present a solo recital. (Prerequisite: MUSC 360R, 2 semesters)

363. Vocal Pedagogy (3) (F) Problems and solutions in vocal training; the physical nature of the voice including vocal acoustics, technical and artistic preparation to be a teacher of singing. (Prerequisites: MUSC 260R, 2 semesters, and completion of piano proficiency exam)

364. Contemporary Vocal Methods (2) (S) The study of popular singing styles currently in use by performers in contemporary entertainment including musical theater, pop, belt, gospel and soul. (Prerequisites: MUSC 260R, 2 semesters, and completion of piano proficiency exam)

384. Music History I: Antiquity to 1750 (3) (F) The history of Western Art Music with emphasis on analysis and the interconnection of music with religion, philosophy and economics from the Greeks to 1750. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L)

385. Music History II: 1750 to 1900 (3) (W) The history of Western art music with emphasis on analysis and the interconnection of music with religion, philosophy and economics from 1750 to 1900. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L)

390R. Special Topics in Music (1-3) (Variable)

399R. Internship in Music (1-14) (F, W, S) Credit for applied experience in music. Prior approval must be obtained and coordinated by a faculty member and on-site supervisor.

401. Careers in Music (2) (W) Information on bridging the gap between graduation and securing a living as a musician. Focus on individualized career development, business skills including marketing, and career self-management. In addition, students will create a professional portfolio including a website, resume, and headshot. (Prerequisite: Music Major)

402. Seminar in Ethnomusicology (3) (Variable) Examines ethnomusicology as academic discipline. Survey of history, theory, and methodology. Relations between musicology, anthropology, folklore and cultural studies. (Prerequisites: MUSC 102, 112/L, 160R, 2 semesters)

430. Music Technology (2) (W) A project-based course designed to acquaint students with current software applications, trends and practices relating to music technology in the fields of composition, performance, recording and production.

460R. Individual Instruction (1-4) (F, W, S) Private instruction for senior-level music majors. Consists of 12 sixty-minute lessons. The student participates in a recital and jury. Instructor’s consent required. Fee required. Master class participation required. Students register for 4 credits in the final semester and present a solo recital. (Prerequisite: MUSC 360R, 2 semesters)

464. Keyboard Literature I (3) (F-even) A survey of the standard repertoire of keyboard literature from 1150 to 1850. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L and 360R)

465. Keyboard Literature II (3) (W-even) A survey of the standard repertoire of keyboard literature from 1850 to the present. (Prerequisites: MUSC 112/L and 360R)

466. Vocal Literature I (2) (W) A survey of the standard repertoire of art song for the concert singer. (Prerequisites: Completion of core and 2 semesters of MUSC 260R)

467. Vocal Literature II (2) (S) A survey of the standard repertoire of opera, oratorio, and musical theatre. (Prerequisites: Completion of core and 2 semesters of MUSC 260R)

474. String Orchestral Literature I (1) (Variable) This course is designed to familiarize string majors with the technique and traditions of orchestral literature and performance.

475. String Orchestral Literature II (1) (Variable) This course is designed to familiarize string majors with the technique and traditions of orchestral literature and performance.

476. String Orchestral Literature III (1) (Variable) This course is designed to familiarize string majors with the technique and traditions of orchestral literature and performance.

477. String Orchestral Literature IV (1) (Variable) This course is designed to familiarize string majors with the technique and traditions of orchestral literature and performance.

Oceanography (OCEN)

201. Oceanography and Marine Science (3) (F, W, S) Introduction to oceanography, including structure and formation of ocean basins and their characteristic features, properties of sea water, distribution of temperature and dissolved substances in the ocean, ocean currents, waves, tides, interrelationships of the biotic community with the environment, and man and the sea. Several field trips will be taken. $120 fee required. (Prerequisite: any college-level natural science course of CHEM, BIOL, PHYS, PHSC, GEOL, or ASTR)
Pacific Island Studies (PAIS)

101. Oceanic Perspective: Academic and Career Development (3) (F, W, S) The course introduces Pacific cultures, principles and values in the context of learning in higher education at BYU-Hawaii. Areas of focus for the course include learning academic and student-life skills, defining identity and stewardship based on Pacific principles and values, establishing aspirational goals and exploring possible career paths in the Pacific region.

105. Introduction to Pacific Islands Studies (3) (F, W, S) The course introduces students to Oceania, its people and cultures. Through an interdisciplinary approach, the course provides background information on the origin of the people of Oceania, history, geography, colonization, politics and Christianization. The main focus of the course include values, norms and cultural practices as well as touching on languages, dances, food, and ‘the Pacific way’ of doing things. The main area of study is Eastern Oceania covering Fiji & Rotuma, Tonga, Samoa, Aotearoa, and Tahiti.

199R. Service Leadership Internship in Pacific Islands Studies (1-3) (Variable) Off-campus service learning. Activities related to the major and employment will be approved. Prior approval is necessary, a program coordinated by a faculty member and an on-site supervisor.

250. Polynesian Dance and Performance (3) (F, W, S) This course introduces students to the different dances of Polynesia specifically from Tonga, Samoa, New Zealand, Tahiti and Fiji as well as the appropriate costumes and musical instruments. Students are expected to acquire the dances, dress in costumes and perform the learned dances.

275. Pacific Wood Carving (3) (F, W, S) This course will introduce students to the traditional indigenous histories of carving in selected Pacific cultures and how they inform and enrich contemporary Pacific art. Students of this course will gain inspiration for designing a carving, and learn about historical and contemporary carving in the Pacific. They will also learn techniques to realize their design in a choice of wood, stone, bone, and man-made materials.

300. Framing the Cultures of Oceania (3) (F, W, S) The course focuses on Pacific cultures especially "the Pacific Way" in the context of identity, values and ways of looking at different issues. Specific areas include indigenous leadership and protocol focusing on the chieftain system, land tenure, and social adaptation and globalization. Special ceremonies related to the culture will be covered including marriage, funerals, kava and other celebrations.

375. Environmental Issues and Resource Management (3) (W, S) Climate change and environmental issues are impacting the people of Oceania and their way of life. With globalization and economization, Oceania's natural, marine and cultural resources need to be identified and utilized to improve the quality of life through sustainable development while maintaining and protecting the environment.

390R. Special Topics in Oceanography (1-4) (Variable)

390R. Special Topics in Physical Science (1-4) (Variable)

405R. Independent Study (1-4) (Variable) Supervised individual study, work experience, and/or research in oceanography. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

495R. Independent Study (1-4) (Variable) This course is offered to provide an opportunity for individual study and senior research and will be scheduled on an individual basis. (Prerequisite: Program consent)

Physical Science (PHSC)

100. Principles of Physical Science (3) (F, W, S) An introduction to the basic concepts of physical science and the scientific method.

105. College Physics I (3) (F, S) An introductory algebra-based general physics course. Topics include mechanics, heat, fluids, waves and sound. Concurrent registration in PHYS 105L strongly recommended. (Prerequisite: MATH 110 and 111 and Passing a Comprehensive Mathematics exam during 1st week of semester. Sample Math exam available in Canvas)

105L. College Physics Laboratory I (1) (F, S) Three-hour laboratory based on PHYS 105 topics. Strongly recommended for students taking PHYS 105. (Pre or corequisite: PHYS 105)

106. College Physics II (3) (F, W) A continuation of PHYS 105. Topics include optics, electricity and magnetism, and modern physics. (Prerequisite: PHYS 105 w/C- or better)

106L. College Physics Laboratory II (1) (F, W) Three-hour laboratory based on PHYS 106 topics. Strongly recommended for students taking PHYS 106. (Pre or corequisite: PHYS 106)

121. Introduction to Newtonian Mechanics (3) (F, W) This course is designed to meet the requirements of science majors. An excellent understanding of algebra, trigonometry, and calculus (introductory differentiation and integration) is required. Concurrent registration in PHYS 121L is strongly recommended. (Prerequisites: MATH 212 and either High School Trigonometry or MATH 111, and passing a Comprehensive Mathematics Exam during 1st week of semester. Sample Math exam available in Canvas.)

121L. Introduction to Newtonian Mechanics Laboratory (1) (F, W) Three-hour laboratory on topics covered in Physics 121. Concurrent registration in PHYS 121L is strongly recommended for all students taking PHYS 121. (Pre or corequisite: PHYS 121)
220. Introduction to Electricity and Magnetism (3) (W-even years) Course is designed to meet the requirements of science majors. Concurrent registration in PHYS 220L is strongly recommended. (Prerequisite: PHYS 121/L w/C- or better. Completion of MATH 213 recommended)

220L. Introduction to Electricity and Magnetic Laboratory (1) (W-even years) Three-hour laboratory on topics covered in Physics 220. Strongly recommended for all students taking Physics 220. (Pre or corequisite: PHYS 220)

221. Introduction to Waves, Optics, and Modern Physics (3) (W-odd years) Course is designed to meet the requirements of science majors. Concurrent registration in PHYS 221L is strongly recommended. (Prerequisite: PHYS 121/L w/C- or better. Completion of MATH 213 recommended)

221L. Introduction to Waves, Optics and Modern Physics Laboratory (1) (W-odd years) Three-hour laboratory based on the topics in Physics 221. Strongly recommended to any student taking Physics 221L. (Pre or corequisite: PHYS 221)

390R. Special Topics in Physics (1-4) (Variable)

495R. Independent Study (1-4) (Variable) This course is offered to provide an opportunity for individual study and senior research thesis and will be scheduled on an individual basis.

Political Science (POSC)

101. Introduction to Politics (3) (F, W, S) An introduction to political theories, institutions, and ideologies with instruction in logic and communication.

110. The U.S. Political System (3) (F, W, S) Systematic inquiry into the national government and politics of the U.S. in the context of American society as a whole.

170. International Relations (3) (F, W, S) An analysis of modern international politics.

190. Foundations of Critical Thinking (3) (F, W, S) Introduces the fundamentals of logic and reason, fallacies, argumentation, and other aspects of critical thinking to improve oral and written persuasion.

220. Historical Systems of Power (3) (F, S) Examines historical patterns, themes, and forces which have shaped the political structures, systems, and ideologies of our world today.

230. Fundamentals of Good Governance (3) (F, W) Explores the foundations of effective government, administrative systems, and governing methods that foster effective and legitimate use of power.

280. Professionalism in the Political Environment (1) (F, W, S) Practical skills to enable success in a political workplace environment: personal branding and presentation, resume building, interpersonal relations, memorandum writing, current event analysis, office and institution protocols, interviewing and networking skills.

300. Political Inquiry and Writing (3) (F, W) An examination of the methodology of political science.

304. Quantitative Political Research (3) (F, W) Explores various quantitative methods and research skills related to the field of political science. (Prerequisite: POSC 300, or Permission of Instructor)

318. Federalism and Intergovernmental Relations (3) (Variable) Examines federal systems of government and intergovernmental relations as they affect governance, citizen participation, and government outputs.

322. Oceanic Governments and Politics (3) (W) Explores the governments and politics of the island societies of Oceania, focusing on elections, political issues, social concerns, and historical backdrop.

330. Introduction to Public Administration (3) (W) Organization and operation of government. Relationship of administration to other branches of government; type of control over administration; control and local government.

331. Public Policy (3) (W) The decision-making processes by which public policies are reached, and steps of analysis of those policies. (Same as PMGT 300)

335. Issues of Terrorism (3) (F) Examines the phenomenon of terrorism with a focus on types, causes, effects, and responses.

338. Poverty and Civil Conflict (3) (Variable) Explores the causes, structures, and dynamics of war and peace.

340. Asian Governments and International Relations (3) (S) Illuminates the governments, politics, and international relations of East Asia, focusing on internal and external challenges.

343R. Asian Empires and Societies (3) (S) Examines the rise, expansion, and decline of Asia’s primary empires, emphasizing systems of political power, cultural connectivity, and social influence.

345. Power in the Vietnam War (3) (W) Explores the complex confluence of economic interests, military force, political agendas, ideological visions, technical and organizations systems, understandings, theories and perspectives that comprise the Vietnam War.

350. International Law (3) (S) Showcase the fundamentals of international law, the foundations of good governance, and the judicial and political applications of law in the international setting.

352. Ethics and the Legal Environment (3) (F, W, S) Examination of ethical foundations and the legal environment related to corporate, environmental, anti-trust, government regulations, and property issues. (Same as BUSM 342)

354. Legal Research and Writing (3) (S) Introduction to tools and techniques essential to international law practice, international issues and organizations, and legal scholarship, including legal analysis, research using print sources, and objective writing.

356. International Legal Drafting and Transactions (3) (W) This course teaches students how to ready documents for submission to court and how to write and format a paper for submission to Law Review.

358. Comparative Law (3) (F) Compares and contrasts common law with civil and Sharia law while also examining the structure and role of the courts, the judicial process, the legal profession, constitutional law, and administrative law in Europe, the Pacific, and Asian contexts.
362. International Political Economy (3) (W) Surveys the language, theory, and modern history of international political economy and development.

364. Conflict Bargaining and Management (3) (F) Examines the practices, theories, and culture surrounding conflict bargaining and management.

366. Politics and Economics of the Developing World (3) (F) Introduces the economic and political foundations of international development and the expanding world of international organizations (IOs), intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) and non-governmental organizations (NGOs).

Programs and Degrees
• B.A. in Communication, Media and Culture
• Communication, Media and Culture Minor

Program Outcomes
Upon completing a major Communication, Media and Culture, students will:

1. Understand history and diversity of the communication discipline.
2. Demonstrate knowledge of communication theory and application.
3. Think critically to develop innovative and well-founded perspectives.
4. Broaden knowledge of role of media in various cultures.
5. Use technology to communicate effectively in various settings and contexts.
6. Demonstrate appropriate and professional ethical behavior.

Program Descriptions
Media of communication play a crucial role in shaping the world we live in: from the press, to social media, to film and to other entertainment media. The communication studies curriculum teaches students the foundation of ethical and effective communication. The curriculum includes a wide range of topics, addressing important issues such as media criticism, message design, media processes and effects. Students are expected to develop analytical, leadership, teamwork skills, and the ability to articulate, in verbal and written forms, ideas in the contemporary media landscape.

Career Opportunities
A major in Communication, Media and Culture provides a rigorous degree that prepares students for graduate professional programs in business and public administration, public relations, journalism, as well as for graduate academic programs in fields such as communication studies, media studies, American studies, and other interdisciplinary programs.

As a terminal degree, the major prepares highly desirable and competent professional consultants, business and government communications specialists, freelance or writers for journals, magazines, or other media outlets.

Program Descriptions

The English major is designed to provide an encounter with the humanizing forces of English and American literature and the English language. As an important focus in the tradition of the liberal arts, the study of English will produce graduates more conscious of themselves, their nature, their society, their values, their traditions and their language.

Career Opportunities

English majors are prepared for any career that requires perceptive reading, orderly and clear thinking, intellectual maturity, and effective writing. Many career opportunities for English majors exist in teaching, professional writing and editing, law, business, advertising, communications, human resources, corporate training, or government service.

English majors can certify to teach secondary-school English, or they can prepare for graduate study in English and college teaching. When combined with prerequisite courses in other programs, the English major provides excellent preparation for graduate work in law, business, library science, medicine, humanities, or religion. By selecting areas of concentration, some English majors prepare for careers in technical and professional communication, editing, creative writing, and related fields. By supplementing their English major with computer classes, some find work in information technology. The skills and knowledge acquired by an English major also provide good preparation for government service, especially when combined with the study of foreign languages, economics, political science, and history.

Programs and Degrees

*note: you must have a 2.50 GPA in Business prerequisites and a CGPA of 2.30 to continue in all Business majors.

*note: no more than one D grade may be applied towards the major. All business prerequisites must be C- or better. One retake is allowed per class, for up to two major classes.

Programs & Degrees

The Visual Arts Program offers a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (art) as well as bachelor’s degrees in art, and art education. Students may also earn an academic or a skill-based minor or certificate in these fields. Students are required to meet with their faculty advisor and academic advisor to plan an academic schedule. Programs offered in the Visual Arts Program include the following and are described below.

• Bachelor of Arts in Visual Arts (Graphic Design)
• Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Arts (Graphic Design)
• Bachelor of Arts in Visual Arts (Painting)
• Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Arts (Painting)
• B.A. in Art Education
• Minor in Painting
• Minor in Sculpture
• Visual Arts Minor

Program Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Art, students will:

• Demonstrate studio proficiency in hand crafted visual art production techniques.
• Demonstrate studio proficiency in digital imaging and computer software production techniques.
• Demonstrate methods of critical thinking through critique, compositional analysis, and interpretation of the elements and principles of design.
• Demonstrate informed understanding and appreciation of the history of art, theories of art, and the role of art in education through written and oral communication.
• Demonstrate proficiency in professional practices of visual arts documentation and presentation through portfolio production and exhibition.
• Demonstrate leadership and self-directed learning through independent study, student research and internship.

Programs Descriptions

The visual arts curriculum serves five main purposes: (1) to prepare competent professionals in various fields of visual arts; (2) to qualify artists and designers to solve conceptual and technical problems inherent in visual arts; (3) to train art students to critically assess and discuss works of art; (4) to prepare art educators for teaching the visual arts at the secondary level; and (5) to generally develop individuals’ aesthetic sense by helping them experience art.

Career Opportunities

The Art major prepares students for many visual art and humanity-related careers and provides a solid foundation for art and design graduate programs. Studio art majors can specialize in one of two media tracks (graphic design, or painting). Students in the graphic design track are trained as graphic designers in digital and print media for branding, publication, and web design, including additional skills in illustration, photography, and video. Students in the painting track are trained to work as self-employed freelance artists, with the skills necessary.

All BFA candidates must complete an additional 12 credits in the BFA Option. Students in the Graphic Design track must complete an internship along with their thesis level coursework to be awarded a BFA. Students in the Painting or Sculpture programs have the option to complete an internship but are not required. If you choose the internship option, only 6 credits may be used for BFA Thesis and Exhibit Production.

Completion of coursework does not automatically guarantee admittance into the program or attainment of the BFA. Applicants for the BFA must apply by:
- submitting their formal application no later than 12 full months before their projected graduation date
- provide a professional level portfolio for review

If accepted into the program, granting of the BFA is dependent upon the completion of the following:
- completion of the additional thesis level coursework listed below
- a professional faculty review of the body of work achieved by the student.

The Discipline

Political Science is the study of power and how human beings organize their public life. Political Science majors typically leave their undergraduate education prepared to enter graduate study, law school, business careers, and a host of other opportunities. Often times, political science majors serve their nations and the world through government service. They learn valued skills, such as qualitative and quantitative analysis, written and oral communication, and critical thinking and graduate prepared to work and serve in a rapidly changing world.

Politics embraces more than the immediate concerns of politicians or pollsters. It involves fundamental choices concerning life in our communities - whether local, national, or global. Politics also allows humans to build order and peace from chaos and conflict. Indeed, prosperity and fulfillment require a healthy political life - one that reflects our basic needs and interests, our highest aspirations, and balances the harsh requirements of power.

Political science involves a full range of inquiry, addressing questions such as: “Who gets what?” “What is a just political order?” and “Why is it so often abused?” The discipline utilizes methods ranging from statistical analysis to input historical comparison. To develop skills in these methods, political science students reflect on influential and time-tested texts while also exploring cutting-edge theories. Political science students also examine issues such as campaign finance reform and engage debates and the value of international organizations in the Pacific. Students also study events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall and phenomena such as the rise of global terrorism. Political science students also examine key ethical questions and can thus explain intelligently whether or not the Athenians were justified in condemning Socrates to death.

Since we are all significantly shaped by the assumptions and practices of the institutions we inhabit, political science helps us to understand not only our world but also ourselves. If we choose to ignore politics, it doesn’t go away; we just lose the opportunity to influence our communities for the better.

Career Opportunities

The Political Science program offers an undergraduate degree in political science for students preparing for graduate degrees in related fields, professional degrees (law or business), a wide range of public service occupations (local, state, federal, or Foreign offices), or countless posts in organizations seeking to influence public policy. The degree also serves the liberal arts students interested in an undergraduate major that focuses on challenging questions facing modern society.

Students may emphasize the subfields of American government, comparative government, international politics, political philosophy, and public policy.
Programs & Degrees

- B.A. in Political Science
- Political Science Minor
- Public Management Minor
- Certificate in Emergency Management
- Governance Certificate
- Certificate in International Development
- Legal Studies Certificate
- Criminal Justice Certificate
- Pre-law Advisement

Program Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Political Science, students will:

- Write an effective research paper using professional formats;
- Write an effective persuasive/analytical essay/report;
- Demonstrate competence using logical/analytical skills;
- Demonstrate an understanding of political philosophy/theory;
- Demonstrate the critical reading skills needed to engage professional journals/monographs;
- Demonstrate content mastery in International Relations, Law, US Government, Asia/Pacific, or Public Management;
- Conduct an effective oral presentation;
- Complete a meaningful internship or capstone paper.

Pre-law Advisement

There is no one special academic program undergraduate students should take to prepare them for admission to a law school. Most law schools prefer students who have developed good writing and other communication skills and who have a solid general education background. Courses in the social sciences are a good preparation for training in the law, and many lawyers find training in accounting and English to be a very useful adjunct to their legal training.

For specific information regarding particular law schools and law school admission tests and requirements, students may consult Political Science program.

The Discipline

Entrepreneurship provides students with the skills and ability to pursue opportunity without regard to the resources they control. This program helps students to apply their talents from other majors in order to create a business model that will help them return to their home countries with an enlarged vision of what they can accomplish through leadership and hard work.

Career Opportunities

Students gaining a certificate or minor in International Entrepreneurship are prepared to launch their own business, non-profit, or NGO in both domestic and international organizations. Graduates from this program are much more interested in “making” a job than “taking” a job. Some examples are: founder, small business owner, digital marketing consultant, videographer, data analytics consultant, sales representative, and not-for-profit fundraiser.

Programs & Degrees

• Small Business & Entrepreneurship Minor
• Certificate in Entrepreneurship

Program Outcomes

Upon completing the certificate or minor in International Entrepreneurship, students will:

• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to recognize opportunity.
• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to marshal resources.
• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to manage risk.
• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to scale a venture.
• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to harvest a venture.
• Demonstrate a knowledge of how to manage information in order to ask the right questions.
• Be able to use critical thinking skills to solve real business and social problems.
• Be able to demonstrate ethical leadership in order to take a stand and defend a position.
• Be able to take and fulfill personal responsibility for individual and group performance.
• Be able to share knowledge and skills while leading others.

Programs Descriptions

Anthropology represents a comparative and holistic study of the human condition past and present. The historical (mythological, physical, and archaeological) and ethnographic (socio-cultural and linguistic) methods offer a unique cross-cultural perspective on humankind anciently and today. Our goal is to sharpen critical and analytical thinking about cultural differences and similarities through careful and in-depth studies of particular cultures, and then through a comparative approach, explore underlying cultural processes in the past as well as those within current regional and global trends. We also hope to explore culturally sensitive applications of Anthropological understanding to indignity, social inequalities, development and transcultural relations. By studying these processes in a variety of cultural and historical contexts, we will gain not only an appreciation of “others,” but discover an “otherness” in ourselves.

This Cultural Anthropology Major will provide students with a range of knowledge concerning cultural studies and sociocultural systems. Students will start with the basics focusing on contemporary topics ranging from Hawaiian Cultures to Oceanic Societies to Current applications of Cultural Anthropology and then proceed to encounter issues in Anthropology and to Applied Anthropology. While gaining this knowledge, students will also obtain a thorough review of historical, social, and cultural theories that have informed anthropological inquiry and practice.

Programs Descriptions

The mission of the Hawaiian Language and Cultural Studies program is to provide all of our students who choose to attend BYU–Hawaii the opportunity to study the Hawaiian language, the Hawaiian culture, the history, and all the positive aspects of the Hawaiian people within the context of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and to foster the principles of service, leadership, hospitality, respect, perseverance, humility, and aloha that we believe is nothing less than the pure love of our Savior, Jesus Christ. Within these parameters the program for Hawaiian Language and Cultural Studies teaches the following curriculum. Two tracks of study are available: a Hawaiian language track and a Hawaiian culture track. It is recommended that students majoring in Hawaiian studies minor in another area. No grade lower than a C- will be counted towards the major.

Programs Descriptions

The History major lies at the center of the liberal arts curriculum and supports the University goal of obtaining a broad university education based on the world’s arts, letters, and sciences. It offers students the opportunity to expand their horizons around the globe and across time from the earliest human era to the present. History students’ work in positions of challenge and responsibility in nearly every field, from business to teaching to law to government service. Many go on to earn graduate and professional degrees. They learn skills in research, writing, critical thinking, synthesis and interdisciplinary that offer the best preparation for the varying challenges of work and service in the rapidly changing world.

Finally, it takes as a central goal the development of a student’s ability to think clearly, communicate effectively, learn independently and solve problems successfully.

Career Opportunities

The major will provide a rigorous pre-professional degree to prepare students for graduate school in law, business and public administration, diplomacy, public relations, development, as well as academic programs. As a terminal degree the program will prepare highly desirable and competent professional consultants, business and government administration, teachers, writers in fields and professions where cultural interaction and differences are significant.

A student of history acquires skills and attitudes that are valuable assets in the professional world. With excellent writing, analytical and research skills, history majors are desirable in fields of education, government, publishing, information, advocacy and business. A wealth of opportunities awaits the history graduate, including careers as teachers, writers, lawyers, archivists, politicians and entrepreneurs. A student of history has every opportunity that thinking about the past and the present in a multitude of ways can open up to them. The values of curiosity and inquisitiveness make history majors people who desire to learn more and live life as a continual education.

Programs Descriptions

Human values and beliefs are often reflected through various forms of expression, such as literature, philosophy, and the arts. The study of integrated humanities allows exploration of the various modes/forms of human expression in the Western as well as non-Western cultures. Our goal is to develop critical and analytical thinking about human civilization through a close examination of its cultural histories and expressive art forms, with an increased focus on cultivating the art of seeing, listening, and reading in more purposeful, attentive, informed, and nuanced ways. By studying these cultural products in a world context, we will gain a fuller understanding of the shared human experience coupled with a genuine appreciation for the diverse creative accomplishments of the world’s people.

The study of Integrated Humanities will provide students with a way to productively approach world cultures through their arts, music, literatures, film, folklore, history, theatre, philosophies, and aesthetics. While being introduced to new ideas, students will also have the opportunity to explore and survey critical theories and apply them in analyzing and interpreting creative works from different cultures and time periods.

Programs Descriptions

The Intercultural Peacebuilding seeks to refine and mold the divine potential of BYU-Hawaii graduates to influence peace for the good at home, in the workplace, in communities and throughout the world. It not only emphasizes theories of harmony, cross cultural leadership, and conflict transformation but also highlights the spiritual components of these areas such as forgiveness and reconciliation by drawing on a broad range of theories and techniques from the academic disciplines of anthropology, cultural studies, political science, psychology, history, economics, law and business.

A major in intercultural peacebuilding will provide opportunities for employment in careers in the public, private and non-profit sectors as an understanding of the theories of conflict and sustainable community building and development. Students will also gain knowledge and basic skills necessary to navigate the intricacies of intercultural communication and negotiation in whatever their chosen profession may be.

One of the primary goals of IPB is the fulfillment of BYU-Hawaii’s prophetic mission to accept, adapt, and integrate cultural differences through the transcendent principles of love, faith, and peace combined with a rigorous academic curriculum that directly addresses cross-cultural understanding. As a microcosm of global diversity, BYU-Hawaii provides an exceptional environment for Intercultural Peacebuilding.

*Regardless of the accumulated credits for the internship, the student will:
1. Still be required to take the other field work elective and
2. Will not be able to use the internship credit towards other requirements or to substitute for other IPB courses.

No grades lower than C- will be accepted. A student must leave the major after failing to obtain at least a C- grade for the same major course after taking it twice, and no major course may be repeated more than once.

The study of music at Brigham Young University–Hawaii involves two components: practical performance (both solo and ensemble) and academic studies (theory and history). Therefore, academic coursework and practical performance are seen as interlocking and vital to the developing musician. Through rigorous training, students are equipped to perform artistically, to teach effectively, and to provide music leadership in the Church and in the community. In addition to the Western tradition in music, students also learn cultural sensitivity through contact with diverse world music cultures. The program provides service to the University by creating a rich artistic environment of concerts, recitals, and music for devotional, graduations, convocations and other campus events.

Career Opportunities

The music program mentors its students towards careers in performance, studio teaching and other music related professions. Additionally, students may view the music major as a pre-professional degree (e.g. for careers such as law and medicine).

Programs Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Music, students will:

- Understand basic musical processes and structures.
- Demonstrate the facility to notate harmonic, rhythmic and melodic structures of tonal music.
- Demonstrate basic competency in sight-singing and foundational keyboard skills.
- Demonstrate an increased sensitivity to a diversity of musical styles, ranging from Western-Art Music to World Music(s).
- Have a basic understanding of music technology in order to supplement studio teaching, research or compositionally-based creative projects.
- Perform collaboratively in ensemble settings.
- Demonstrate accomplishment in solo performance, including technical expertise in the principal area of study (vocal or instrumental) and the ability to communicate musical ideas to an audience.
- Learn to listen critically and evaluate musical performance.
- Demonstrate a basic understanding of how to teach music to others.

Programs Descriptions

Pacific Islands Studies is an interdisciplinary major. It focuses on current issues of the lands and peoples of the Pacific Islands region. It offers students the opportunity to learn skills in critical thinking, oral presentation and research writing while understanding the Pacific Islands in both a regional and global setting. Students of Pacific Islands Studies are able to continue graduate study or enter the work force in a variety of areas, where an intimate knowledge of Pacific issues can be an advantage. This is especially enhanced when the student takes a minor in another discipline.

Programs and Degrees

• B.A. in Pacific Island Studies
• Pacific Island Studies Minor
Programs Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Pacific Islands Studies, students will:

- Demonstrate greater awareness, understanding, and appreciation of Hawai‘i and the Pacific Islands in relationship to the wider and sometimes more complicated global community.
- Learn skills in research, writing, critical thinking, listening and retention to assist in problem solving.
- Work towards full competency in speaking, reading, writing, and doing research in the Hawaiian Language plus service to the community.
- Enter graduate school or find employment within one year of graduation.
- Complete a successful, integrative internship and under supervision, function within the structure of organizations and service delivery systems, and seek necessary organizational change (for students completing a major in Pacific Island Studies).

As the university’s mission continues to expand internationally and in order to attract more students into teacher education from international locations, Teacher Education has developed a “3 + 1” program in some international countries. Partnerships with education departments internationally, make it possible for graduates in teacher education from this campus to return to their country to student teach and subsequently obtain employment as a teacher. The “3 + 1” allows students to complete three years of their undergraduate program on campus and the last year in student teaching in their home country.

In addition to institution accreditation review by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), the Teacher Education Programs offered by Teacher Education are reviewed through a State Approval of Teacher Education (SATE) evaluation that is coordinated and conducted by the HTSB. In 2015, the School of Education was accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). SATE approval of the BYU-H School of Education teacher education programs enables graduates to apply for teacher licensing through reciprocity agreements held among many U.S. states and countries.

Elementary Education

Admission to All Programs

Admission to the General Degree requires a valid MAP that will satisfy university graduation criteria. Admission to the school teaching tracks require letters of recommendation, completed application packet, and a formal interview. Please see the Chair or Advisor for further details.

The Discipline

All courses offered in the elementary education teacher education program are designed to meet the performance standards established... by the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board (HTSB) and to provide a classroom oriented knowledge base in a subject content area. Field experiences are attached to most academic professional classes in the School of Education, with the capstone experience being student teaching for students working to teach in grades Kindergarten through 6th grade in public or private schools. The program provides the opportunity for prospective teachers to learn about the culture of the elementary school, develop a solid foundation in basic principles of teaching and learning that originate in educational theory and research, and become proficient in systematically applying those basic principles in practical U.S. and international settings.

Career Opportunities

Students who complete the elementary education teaching program are eligible to teach in the United States as well as other countries. With an elementary education degree and experience as a classroom teacher, individuals may also pursue other career opportunities in education such as counselors, curriculum specialists and administrators. Experience in any of those areas could then open other career opportunities at the higher education level in teacher education and administration. In addition, with a subject area content background, individuals are also prepared to enter into a content field. Non-teaching Track students may also use the degree for graduate entrance or other professions requiring an education degree.

Programs and Degrees

- B.S. in Elementary Education (Non-cert, Hawaii & International)
- Special Education Minor (This minor is currently inactive with the potential of being offered beginning fall 2021)

Program Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Teacher Education, students can demonstrate an understanding of these outcomes:

1. Learner Development - The teacher candidate designs and implements developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.
2. Learning Differences - The teacher candidate creates inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.
3. Learning Environments - The teacher candidate works with others to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.
4. Content Knowledge - The teacher candidate understands the discipline(s) he or she teaches and creates learning experiences that make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to assure mastery of the content.
5. Application of Content - The teacher candidate uses differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.
6. Assessment - The teacher candidate uses multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the teacher’s and learner’s decision making.
7. Planning for Instruction - The teacher candidate plans instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals.
8. Instructional Strategies - The teacher candidate uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.
9. Professional Learning and Ethical Practice - The teacher candidate uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professionals, and the community), and adapts practice to meet the needs of each learner.
10. Leadership and Collaboration - The teacher candidate seeks appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, and to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals.

Secondary Education

Admission to All Programs

Admission to the Secondary Education Degree requires a valid MAP that satisfies university graduation criteria. Admission to the teaching track requires letters of recommendation, completed application packet, and a formal interview. Please see the Chair/Academic Advisor for further details.

The Discipline

All courses offered in the secondary education teacher education program are designed to meet the performance standards established by the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board (HTSB) and to provide a classroom oriented knowledge base in a subject content area. Field experiences are attached to most academic professional classes in the Teacher Education, with the capstone experience being student teaching for students working to teach in grades 7 through 12 in public or private schools.

The program provides the opportunity for prospective teachers to learn about the culture of the elementary school, develop a solid foundation in basic principles of teaching and learning that originate in educational theory and research, and become proficient in systematically applying those basic principles in practical U.S. and international settings.

Career Opportunities

Students who complete the secondary education teaching program are eligible to teach in the United States as well as other countries. With a secondary education degree and experience as a classroom teacher, individuals may also pursue other career opportunities in education such as counselors, curriculum specialists and administrators. Experience in any of those areas could then open other career opportunities at the higher education level in teacher education and administration. In addition, with a subject area content background, individuals are also prepared to enter into a content field. Non-teaching Track students may also use the degree for graduate entrance or other professions requiring an education degree.

Programs and Degrees

Bachelor of Science or Arts degrees in education are available only in the following content areas for U.S. bound graduates. Other BYU-
Hawaii majors can be appreciated for international graduates depending upon the curriculum requirements of their country:

- B.A. in Art Education
- B.S. in Biology Education
- B.S. in Business Education
- B.S. in Chemistry Education
- B.A. in English Education

Post Baccalaureate Teacher Education Programs - The Basic Teacher Licensing (5th year program - Hawaii)

Intended for students with an earned baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education who desire to teach in the Hawaii public school system but do not have the initial basic teacher license. Individuals may apply for admission to the elementary or secondary (see approved teaching majors under “Secondary Education”) program as “licensing only” students. Once admitted, the individual must complete the requirements as outlined for the designated teacher-licensing program.

The prerequisites for admission are:

- Bachelor’s Degree from an accredited institution.
- Grade point average of 2.0 or higher.
- Passing scores on the content area Praxis II exam(s), as defined by the Hawai’i Teacher Standards Board (HTSB), for the area in which the teacher licensing is being sought.
- A completed Teacher Education admissions packet.
- Application for admission into BYUH on file with the Admissions Office.

Alternative Licensing Program (Hawaii)

Individuals employed with the Hawai’i Department of Education in critical shortage areas (subject and/or geographical) who are teaching without the initial basic license may earn their teaching license through the Teacher Education’s state approved Alternative Licensing Program (ALP). This program allows the teacher to remain on the job and complete the requirements leading towards the initial basic license. Once accepted, the individual is supervised for one semester as a student teacher. If the individual does not meet the performance standards as established by the Hawai’i Teacher Standards Board, then the Teacher Education has an option of prescribing no more than fifteen semester hours of coursework to be completed. This coursework would be prescribed, based on perceived deficiencies in the performance standards required for the initial basic licensing. Once any coursework prescribed is successfully completed, the individual is recommended to the Hawai’i Teacher Standards Board for the initial basic teacher license.

The prerequisites for recommendation are:

- Official transcript verifying the Baccalaureate Degree was earned from an accredited institution.
- Minimum of two semesters of full-time teaching responsibilities in the content area/field in which teacher licensing is being sought.
- A favorable letter of recommendation from a peer teacher.
- A favorable letter of recommendation from the applicant’s principal as well as the completed “Principal’s Recommendation for Temporary Teachers” form.
- A transcript evaluation to determine specific courses needed, with a minimum of 2.0 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) on the baccalaureate degree.
- Successful completion of the Pre-Professional Skills Test

Career Opportunities and Graduate Study

Students who graduate with a Baccalaureate Degree in Social Work (BSW) from BYU-Hawaii are prepared as generalist social work practitioners. The beginning generalist practitioner assesses and works with consumer populations including referrals to community resources, guides consumer populations through the planned change process, intervenes with individuals, families, groups, and the community in a range of situations, conducts on-going evaluations, and makes appropriate closure.

BSW practitioners are employed in a variety of direct practice settings such as: state departments of human services, mental health and developmental disabilities services, children’s service agencies, halfway houses, nursing homes, area wide agencies on aging, agencies serving battered women, rape crisis centers, child-care centers, etc. At the practice setting, the generalist social work practitioner takes on various roles such as: social broker, case manager, advocate, counselor, mediator, and educator.

The social work program also prepares students for graduate study in social work as well as service within their family, church, and community. The knowledge, skills, values, and ethics gained from a social work education can be well used both professionally and personally, formally, and informally.

The Social Work Profession

The human experience is filled with good fortune as well as challenges and difficulties. Sometimes we are unable to cope with or resolve difficulties such as: poverty, marital conflict, parent-child relationship problems, delinquency, abuse and neglect, substance abuse, and mental/emotional stress. Social work is the profession that helps individuals, groups, and communities enhance or restore their capacity for social functioning and work towards social and economic justice and peace.

The underpinnings of the social work profession include but are not limited to: (1) social work values such as autonomy, non-judgmental attitude, and the dignity, worth, and value of all human beings; (2) social work knowledge about human behavior, research, the life cycle, group dynamics, social policy, the ecological framework, human diversity, the environment, etc.; (3) practice skills and paradigms for working with multilevel populations such as preparing, communicating, analyzing, contracting, role taking, and stabilizing; and (4) planned change or an orderly approach to problem solving.

Accreditation

The BYU-Hawaii Social Work Program has been accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) continuously since 1978. CSWE is the national organization that provides the leadership for social work and monitors the quality for Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) and Master of Social Work (MSW) degree programs in the United States.
Social Work Student Association

Social work majors have the opportunity to be members of the Social Work Student Association (SWSA). The SWSA provides social work majors with representatives to provide input into the Social Work Program decision-making process that affects students, the faculty, and the curriculum. In addition, the SWSA helps to meet the bio-psycho-social-spiritual well-being of social work majors. The Phi Alpha Honorary Social Work Society is also available to social work major who display academic and service excellence. Students are also encouraged to join a professional organization such as the National Association of Social Workers, the International Federation of Social Workers, or a professional social work organization of their home country.

Mission Statement

The program supports the overall mission of the University and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by preparing culturally competent, effective, and ethical social work professionals committed to providing services to the poor, oppressed, and underserved. The program also provides opportunities for students to take leadership roles in supporting and promoting social justice and the social work profession internationally by facilitating peace within individuals, families, communities, and nations.

Programs

- B.S.W. in Social Work
- Introduction to Social Work Minor
- Social Work Minor

Program Goals

- To prepare students to be social work professionals and competent generalist social work practitioners with individuals, families, groups, communities, and societies.
- To prepare students to assist in the promotion of social welfare, social justice, and peace within the appropriate individual, family, political, cultural, and social context.
- To enhance personal development and change within students.
- To promote the profession of social work in the international arena.
- To prepare students for responsible leadership and citizenship, family life, and church and community service.
- To prepare students to be effective consumers of research and its application to social work practice.

Admission and Retention Standards

All students are required to apply for admission into the social work program. Students are accepted into the social work major if they: a) are at least first-semester sophomores, b) pass Social Work 160 Introduction to Social Welfare and Social Work with at least a C+, c) have a cumulative grade point average of 2.5, d) have submitted an application to major packet, and e) have been successfully interviewed for admission into the major by the Admission Committee.

Social Work Major Application Packet

In order to be recognized as a regular social work major, a student must complete a Social Work Major Application Packet which includes: an Application, a Major Academic Plan (MAP using the online tool MAPPER) completed with the assistance of the Academic Advisor, a signed copy of the Standards for Social Work Students, a letter of recommendation, a resume, and an Autobiography written by the student.

Completed applications are due on the first Friday in March for spring admission, the first Friday in June for fall admission, and the first Friday in November for winter admission.

To download a copy of the application, please go to: http://socialwork.byuh.edu/ or you may get a hard copy from the Social Work program Administrative Assistant. Applications are to be submitted to the administrative assistant.

When a student applies for acceptance into the social work program, the student must be successfully interviewed by the Admission Committee. During the interview, the Admission Committee will ensure that the application packet is complete and that the applicant has met the criteria for acceptance into the major. If the student does not meet all requirements for admission, a letter will be sent explaining the deficiency (ies) and what needs to be done before the student reapplies. Students may be granted provisional status and will be accepted into the major if all stipulations are met within the specified time frame for full acceptance into the major.

All students who meet the minimum program academic requirements are invited to apply to the major. No student will be denied admission due to age, religion, gender, sexual orientation, disability, ethnicity, culture, or national origin.

Required Curriculum

The student is to successfully complete five pre-requisite requirements before being formally admitted into the Social Work Major. These pre-requisite requirements are:

- First semester sophomore status or at least 24 credit hours
- Have completed Social Work 160 Introduction to Social Welfare and Social Work with at least a C+
- Have a cumulative grade point average of 2.5
- Have submitted an Application to Major Packet
- Has been accepted or provisionally accepted by the Admission Committee

Fifty-six credit hours are required to graduate with a major in social work. See Recommended Curriculum for a description of the courses social work majors are required to pass. Only a C- or higher grade in social work classes may be applied toward completion of the Baccalaureate of Social Work (BSW) Degree.

There is also a recommended schedule for taking the required social work classes. It is important that students make an appointment with the social work Academic Advisor as soon as possible to develop a Major Academic Plan (MAP) and to receive a copy of Social Work Degree Requirements. The MAP is a personalized document indicating when the student is to take all courses required for General Education and the social work major for graduation. The student and program are to adhere to the MAP for a timely graduation. The Social Work Degree Requirements can be used to track the courses you have taken and have yet to take to qualify for the BSW.

Field Education

The Field Education Program is an integral part of the generalist social work program reserved for seniors majoring in social work at BYU-Hawaii. Field education is comprised of a practicum and a seminar that give students the opportunity to discuss how they infuse knowledge, values, and skills at their agency. Students are expected to be in their agencies 5 days a week averaging 30 hours per week. Students should plan to not work and not take any other course during their practicum. Regardless of the option selected, students are required to obtain a minimum of 450 practicum hours, be supervised by a professional social worker, be enrolled in a seminar, and be placed in an agency-based social service setting.

Upon successful completion of the practicum and seminar requirements, students receive 12 credit hours. Students are responsible for finding an approved agency with assistance from the Field Practicum Director. For more information concerning field education, please read the Field Practicum Manual found at the following link: http://socialwork.byuh.edu/

Transfer Students

Students who successfully complete courses at other universities may have their courses evaluated by the University Registrar’s office for acceptance at BYU-Hawaii.

Social work major courses are considered for acceptance if the transferring university is accredited with the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). In the event the university is an international school, transfer courses will be considered IF the accreditation association is equivalent to CSWE. For example, if a student from Australia takes courses in Social Work, their courses will be considered for transfer if the school was accredited by the Australian Association of Social Workers (AASW). The Social Work Program Director will consult with faculty who teach comparable courses. The director will make the final decision.

The burden will be upon the entering student to provide evidence of courses equivalency, such as transcripts, course syllabi, program accreditation, etc.

Life Experiences or Previous Work Experiences

While life experiences or previous work experiences may enhance learning social work knowledge and skills, social work course credit is not granted for these experiences.

EIL Program

The English as an International Language (EIL) program provides non-native speakers of English with a variety of courses from intermediate to advanced levels. Language instruction in these courses focuses on the academic English students will need to succeed in their university courses.

Non-native English-speaking students take a series of English proficiency exams upon their arrival at BYU–Hawaii. The results of these tests determine if students will need to enroll full-time or part-time in EIL courses or if they will be exempt from EIL courses. Students taking advanced level EIL courses may enroll in other university courses as credit load allows under the guidance of the EIL academic advisor. Students receive full credit towards graduation for all EIL courses and may also apply for a minor in EIL (described below).

Programs and Degrees

- EIL Certificate (English as an International Language)

Program Outcomes

- READING: Students efficiently read and process academic texts (noting length, complexity, and time constraints) and apply the information to academic tasks.
- LISTENING: Students listen to and process academic discourse in formal (such as lectures, presentations, and videos) and interactional contexts (such as group discussions, tutor sessions, and office hours), and apply the information to academic tasks.
- SPEAKING: Students communicate orally in academically appropriate ways in both formal (such as individual and group presentations) and interactional contexts (such as group meetings, class discussions, tutor sessions, and office hours).
- WRITING: Students write in academically appropriate ways.
- VOCABULARY: Students apply effective vocabulary strategies when learning and using academic (such as AWL) and content-specific vocabulary.
- GRAMMAR: Students notice, recognize, and employ grammatical structures that are appropriate to various academic tasks.
- LEARNER AUTONOMY: Students apply effective language learning strategies to their academic study beyond the EIL Program.

The Discipline
The discipline or profession of teaching English as a second language is a fairly new one, dating back no more than 50 years. Historically, the discipline has been seen as either a part of linguistics (applied), English, or foreign language education. Taking insights from these disciplines and others, teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL) is now recognized as a distinct discipline with its own professional organizations, journals, conferences, publishers, and bodies of literature. Given the global influence of English-speaking countries and peoples in the areas of entertainment, politics, and technology, the demand for English is ever-increasing, thus creating a fast-growing industry.

The Programs and Degrees
- B.A. in TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages)
- B.A. in TESOL Education
- Introduction to TESOL Minor
- Certificate in TESOL
- Introduction to Linguistics Minor
- Linguistics Minor
Program Outcomes

The purpose of the TESOL program is to prepare students to confidently teach English to speakers of other languages within a variety of settings (e.g. ESL, EFL, school, business) and to a variety of student populations (e.g. children, adolescents, adults). In order to accomplish this, we believe students need training in three broad areas: knowledge, experience, and personal identity. The TESOL program learning outcomes clarify these areas:

Knowledge
• Knowledge: Students can articulate a knowledge of human language and how it is learned and taught.

Experience
• Students demonstrate they can apply what they have learned within a teaching situation.

Professional Identity
• Students demonstrate a sense of professionalism through improving personal language proficiency.
• Students participate in TESOL professional communities and utilize TESOL resources.
• Students display a sense of self-awareness and efficacy by demonstrating an understanding of what strengths and weaknesses they bring to the TESOL professions and how they can capitalize on their strengths and improve upon their weaknesses.

Career Opportunities

With the high demand for English instruction around the world, there are many career opportunities for those who are qualified in TESOL. Public school systems in the U.S. and other English-speaking countries find themselves with an increasing number of second language speakers, due to high immigration patterns in Western industrialized nations. Thus, there are many jobs available to those who are trained and certified (See TESOL Education major for more information on becoming “certified” or licensed to teach in the U.S. public school system).

In addition to opportunities to teach in the public school systems of English speaking countries, there are many jobs in other nations, both in the public and private sectors. Many graduates in TESOL go on to work for multinational corporations (English for Business Purposes), or set up their own private language institutes.

Those who may not be interested in teaching may find that their interests lie in materials development or computer software development. Others find that their interests lie in pursuing further education in various applied fields of linguistics, multicultural education, speech pathology, educational psychology, testing and assessment, counseling, instructional technology, or social services.

TESOL Program

David O. McKay made a prophetic statement when he referred to the graduates of this school as international peace-makers. English is the language of international communication in business, higher education, science, technology, travel, as well as in the Church, and hundreds of millions of people are in need of prepared English language teachers.

The Discipline

All majors in the Computer & Information Sciences Area share many characteristics. All students are involved in the use and development of computer-based technology solutions. All students learn to work in teams and communicate effectively about technology. However, the primary focus of each program is different.

Computer Science prepares students to solve technical problems using algorithms, mathematics and software. A significant focus is on software development, which touches virtually every human endeavor. Students in computer science learn how to approach complex problems found in science, business, math, medicine, transportation, and entertainment. Students are prepared to research new areas where computers may have a positive impact.

Information Systems prepares students to help organizations achieve competitive advantage through acquisition, deployment, and management of information systems resources and services. Students learn to develop the computer-based systems and technology infrastructure used in organizational processes. The effective and efficient use of information and communications technologies is vital to virtually all businesses and non-profit organizations.

Information Technology prepares students to design, install, manage and maintain the computing systems on which organizations depend. Students learn how to create solutions to real-world situations by integrating current technologies. IT focuses on systems administration, networking, databases, human-computer interaction and security to build effective, user-friendly systems. IT also prepares students to understand user needs and communicate technical issues.

Career Opportunities

Computer Science graduates are found performing software development tasks for companies of all sizes worldwide. Students also find industry-specific career opportunities solving technical problems in business, health care, government, education, and communications using the tools of computer science. Students are also prepared for graduate studies.

Information Systems graduates work in organizations of all types and sizes. They help leverage the investment in technology for the strategic advantage of businesses and non-profit organizations. IS professionals serve as the bridge between an organization’s technical and business operations. Employment opportunities are abundant and include areas such as systems analysis, software project management, and enterprise database design. Students are also prepared for graduate studies.

Information Technology graduates work in virtually all types of organizations. They design, install and maintain computing infrastructures including servers, networking, network security, embedded systems, and digital communications. Career opportunities exist in business, health care, government, education, and communications.

Programs Outcomes

Upon completing a degree in the Computer & Information Science Area, a student will have:

- An ability to apply knowledge of computing and mathematics appropriate to the discipline.
- An ability to analyze a problem, and identify and define the computing requirements appropriate to its solution.
- An ability to design, implement, and evaluate a computer-based system, process, component, or program to meet desired needs.
- An ability to function effectively on teams to accomplish a common goal.
- An understanding of professional, ethical, legal, security and social issues and responsibilities.
- An ability to communicate effectively with a range of audiences.
- An ability to analyze the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations, and society.
- Recognition of the need for and an ability to engage in continuing professional development.
- An ability to use current techniques, skills, and tools necessary for computing practice.

A student will also complete the program outcomes for their field of study (major).

Upon completing a major in Computer Science, a student will have:

- An ability to apply mathematical foundations, algorithmic principles, and computer science theory in the modeling and design of computer-based systems in a way that demonstrates comprehension of the tradeoffs involved in design choices.
- An ability to apply design and development principles in the construction of software systems of varying complexity.

Upon completing a major in Information Systems, a student will have an understanding of processes that support the delivery and management of information systems within a specific application environment.

Upon completing a major in Information Technology, students will have:

- An ability to use and apply current technical concepts and practices in the core information technologies.
- An ability to identify and analyze user needs and take them into account in the selection, creation, evaluation and administration of computer-based systems.
- An ability to effectively integrate IT-based solutions into the user environment.
- An ability to assist in the creation of an effective project plan.

Bachelors in Computer and Information Sciences (65-66 hours)

By permission of the Dean only.

Required courses for admission to the major (15 hours)

- CIS 101 Beginning Programming (3)
- CIS 202 Object-Oriented Programming I (3)
- CIS 205 Discrete Mathematics I (3)
- IT 280 Computer Networking (3)
- Lower division CS/IS/IT (3)

To be accepted into this major, you must pass all courses listed above with a C or better. You must also have a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher.

Core Requirements (17-18 hours)

- CIS 206 Discrete Mathematics II (3) or Math 119 Calculus (4)
- Math 121 Principles of Statistics I (3)
- IS 350 Database Management Systems (3)*
- CIS 305 Systems Engineering I (3)*
- CIS 405 Systems Engineering II (3)*
- CIS 470 Ethics in Computer and Information Sciences (3)*

*classes for admitted majors only

Content Area Electives (18 additional hours)

- Any additional CIS, CS, IS, IT courses
- Up to one additional lab-based course in Science beyond General Education Requirements
- Up to one additional course in Mathematics numbered 112 or above

Advanced CIS Electives (15 additional hours)

- Upper-division CS, IS or IT courses
- One D+, D, or D- is allowed above. All other credits must be C- or better.
- One retake is allowed per class, for up to three classes. Additional retakes require special permission.
- A program-approved assessment test must be taken during your last full semester at BYU-H, and is recommended annually.
- Students may seek one and only one major in either BCIS, CS, IS or IT.
- Minors in Faculty require at least 9 CIS credits not applied to other majors or minors.

1. One D+, D, D- is allowed above. All other credits must be C- or better.
2. One retake is allowed per class, for up to three classes. Additional retakes require special permission.
3. A program-approved assessment test must be taken during your last full semester at BYU-H, and is recommended annually.
4. Students may seek one and only one major in either BCIS, CS, IS, or IT.

Career Opportunities

The mathematics major prepares students for careers in teaching, government service, industry, and research, or graduate study in mathematics. The student has two options: mathematics major and the mathematics education major. The student has three options: BS in Mathematics, pure track, BS in Mathematics, applied track, and the Mathematics Education major.

Programs and Degrees

• B.S. in Mathematics - Pure Track
• B.S. in Mathematics - Applied Track
• B.S. in Math Education
• Mathematics Minor
• Introduction to Mathematics Minor

Program Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Mathematics, students will:

• Demonstrate proficiency in Algebra and Trigonometry, as well as Integral, Differential and Multivariable Calculus necessary for success in advanced mathematical studies.
• Demonstrate content knowledge of both abstract and applied mathematical disciplines by stating definitions, salient theorems, and proofs of major theorems and concepts that are core content in upper division courses.
• Organize and explain their knowledge of logic and mathematical content in the structure of original valid proofs.
• Communicate mathematical ideas effectively in both written and oral context.
• Apply major definitions, theorems and algorithms in problem solving.
• Use appropriate technological tools while solving mathematical problems.
• Prepare professionally for graduate school or employment in mathematics or related fields.
B.S. in Mathematics – Pure Track
18 Credits Effective: 09/2017

*For specific course information - see Course Listings in Catalog

The Pure Mathematics track prepares students for careers in teaching, government service, industry, and research, or graduate study in mathematics. Math 308, Math 490R, and additional courses in Computer Science, Physics, and Chemistry are strongly recommended.

Core Requirements 42 Credits
MATH 212  Calculus I (5)
MATH 213  Calculus II (5)

The Faculty of Religious Education administers all religion courses sponsored by the university. Courses are available in ancient and modern scriptures, Church history and doctrine, and related subjects. Undergraduate majors are not offered in religion.
Religion Requirements

The Board of Education of the Church Education System and for Seminaries and Institute has recently approved four new courses that will be the cornerstones for Religious Education at each of the Church Universities and also in Seminaries and Institutes.

Fourteen hours of religion credit are required for all full-time students to graduate.

- REL 200 The Eternal Family
- REL 225 Foundations of the Restoration
- REL 250 Jesus Christ and the Everlasting Gospel
- REL 275 The Teachings and Doctrine of the Book of Mormon (OR REL 121 + REL 122)
- + 3 Rel electives (one of which must be a scripture course)

All four cornerstone courses (or their equivalent) are required for graduation from any of the Church Universities or from Institute. (These equivalencies have been approved for all the Church Universities for the next few years.)

All students must fulfill both Residency Hours and the Required Content classes to graduate. For students that transfer to BYU-Hawaii it is assumed that they will have fulfilled some of the Religion core requirements from Institute or another CES University and will be transferring them in. If they have completed the core they should not repeat those classes.

Content Requirement

*ALL students must complete all four cornerstone classes to graduate (can be transferred in or taken at BYU-H)

- REL 200 The Eternal Family
- REL 225 Foundations of the Restoration
- REL 250 Jesus Christ and the Everlasting Gospel
- REL 275 The Teachings and Doctrine of the Book of Mormon (or REL 121 + REL 122)

*For all students who are required to complete 12-14 residency credits, one of the graduation electives must be the scripture-based elective.

Students from Other Faiths

Students who are members of other faiths are strongly encouraged to enroll in REL 100 Introduction to Mormonism, during their first semester in residence. This course is designed to be informational, introducing students to the culture, scriptures, and distinctive doctrines of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, thus preparing them for subsequent religion classes.

Religion Credit from Non-LDS Colleges and Universities

Religion credit from non-LDS universities and colleges will not satisfy the religion requirement at BYU-Hawaii. The transfer credit may, however, apply as elective credit toward the total hours required for graduation.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Do courses offered at BYU-H that deal with religion or are related to religion count for BYU-H religion credit?

No. Only courses with the REL designation receive religion credit.

Why can’t I take more than one religion class in a given semester?

It has always been the view of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints that education is not complete without proper integration of secular and religious knowledge and values. Secular understanding and skill are important attainments in life and will better serve the individual when accompanied by religious convictions, attitudes, and standards of behavior.

The Board of Trustees and Administration of BYU-H maintain that a student should have a religious experience throughout their undergraduate career. To prevent students from taking all their religion classes at once to “get them over with,” the general policy is that students may only register for one religion class per semester. Exceptions may be granted for special circumstances, when requested by the academic advisors.

How can I tell if I am “on course” for graduation?

You may refer to your progress report, which you can access anytime through MAPPER. Your report will show which core religion classes you have completed under the heading of “Religion Requirement.” It will display either a YES or a NO next to each requirement, indicating whether or not you have completed that core requirement. Below that, it will show the “Religion Hours at BYU-H” that you have completed. Here, you can see how many total residency religion hours you are required to take, how many you have completed, how many hours you are deficient, and how many you are currently registered for.

Residency Requirements

What does the term “resident hours” mean?

“Resident hours” refers to the religion hours completed at BYU-H while the student was pursuing a bachelor’s degree (“UG Career”). Every student is required to complete a specific number of religion hours during their undergraduate experience BYU-H regardless of the number of religion credits completed elsewhere, including courses taken from BYU-H Online in a DL program before being accepted as a matriculated student pursuing a bachelor’s degree. Only BYU-H religion courses taken in the UG Career fulfill the “residency” requirement. There are no exceptions.
How many “resident” religion hours are required to graduate from BYU-H?

If you have taken all your coursework at BYU-H or transferred fewer than 15 hours of credits from any other institution, you are required to take a minimum of 14 hours of religion at BYU-H (resident hours) to graduate.

If, however, you have transferred 15 or more hours of credit from another institution to BYU-H (or from BYU-H Online DL classes offered by BYU-H to students not pursuing a bachelor’s degree), the number of religion hours required to take at BYU-H (resident hours) is listed below:

*More credits may be needed if the subject matter requirement has not been completed.

Why does BYU-H have a “residency” requirement for religion courses?

Since BYU-H grants the undergraduate degree, it is felt that students should take courses at BYU-H to have the “BYU-H experience.” While one may argue that other religion courses provide the same quality and depth as BYU-H religion courses, the point is not quality but sponsorship. It is expected that BYU-H students have a BYU-H experience. Thus, residency ensures that BYU-H students will be afforded the experience of which they sought admittance.

Do BYU-Idaho or BYU religion courses count towards the “residency” religion requirement at BYU-H?

No. Only religion courses taken at BYU-H count towards the religion residency requirement for graduation.

Do Institute classes count towards the “residency” religion requirement at BYU-H?

No. Only religion courses taken at BYU-H count towards the religion residency requirement for graduation.

What if I am not a transfer student but I take an institute course while I am at home during the summer? Will this course fulfill my “residency” requirement?

No. If the course is taken for credit, meets the CES Institute standards, corresponds with an existing BYU-H religion course, and if your institute sends an official transcript to the Admissions Office at BYU-H, then the institute class will count as two hours towards your total university hours. It may also fill part of your “core” requirement. For example, a New Testament institute class may fill your core requirement to take New Testament. However, it will not count towards the “residency” requirement at BYU-H.

Institute / Transfer Credits

Do religion courses taken from an Institute, BYU-Idaho, or BYU count as a religion subject matter credit?

Yes. Corresponding Institute, stake institute, BYU-I and BYU courses may fulfill the subject matter religion credits at BYU-H. Such courses do not, however, fulfill the “residency” religion requirement. (See Core Requirements)

Do institute credits transferred to BYU-H affect my GPA?

No. All institute credits transferred to BYU-H are accepted only as pass/fail grades.

Do Institute or Stake Institute classes count towards the “residency” religion requirement at BYU-H?

No. Only religion courses taken at BYU-H count towards the religion residency requirement for graduation.

Do BYU-Idaho or BYU religion courses count towards the “residency” religion requirement at BYU-H?

No. Only religion courses taken at BYU-H count towards the religion residency requirement for graduation.

What is the difference between “Stake Institute classes” and “Institute classes”? Do they count for BYU-H credit?

Stake Institute classes were created to provide religious instruction for those not directly affiliated with a college or university. CES (Church Education System) encourages college and university students to take religion courses from the program affiliated with their college/university. Ideally, a student at the University of Texas, for example, would take courses at the university institute; a BYU-H student would take religion courses at BYU-H, etc. Qualified stake institute courses receive institute credit and thus could be transferred to BYU-H. Like any religion course from another institution, they may fulfill the “core” requirement but they do not fulfill the residency hour requirement at BYU-H.

What does it mean to take an Institute course for “transfer credit”?

A student who desires to transfer institute credit must contact the institute instructor at the beginning of the semester/term and request to take the course for credit. This requires the student to complete the academic requirements of the course (exams, assignments, etc.) for transfer credit. The only grade accepted for transfer to BYU-H is Pass/Fail.

How does an Institute course appear on my BYU-H transcript?

Your Institute director or instructor must send an official “Institute Transcript” to the Admissions Office at BYU-H. After they receive it, the course is reviewed and posted on a BYU-H transcript within two or three days.

Do religion courses offered from other universities (except religion requirements at BYU-H)?

No. For example, New Testament taught at Baylor does not have the same emphasis as New Testament at BYU-H, and will therefore not receive any religion credit nor fulfill the core requirement at BYU-H. (See Core Requirements)
Are qualifying religion courses transferred from another BYU-H?

No. Because institute courses are transferred only as Pass/Fail, they do not affect a BYU-H GPA.

However, DL classes transferred in from BYU-H Online will affect a BYU-H GPA.

The Discipline

Biochemistry is the study of the chemical processes in living organisms. All interactions and processes in biological systems are, at their foundation, chemical in nature and thus are governed by biochemistry. It is a dynamic and highly relevant field at the intersection of biology and chemistry and includes the study of the structures, functions, interactions, metabolism/ catabolism, transport, and combinations of biological molecules. Biochemistry majors develop a strong foundation in the principles of chemistry and apply those principles to the study of living systems.

Career Opportunities

Biochemistry has an ever-growing range of applications including biotechnology, bioinformatics, pharmaceuticals and medical sciences, bio-fuels and energy research, food science, toxicology, environmental and agricultural sciences, and even forensic science. The field of biochemistry, positioned at the intersection of chemistry, biology and physics, provides opportunities for collaboration and cooperation between numerous disciplines. Our graduates find employment in various clinical and industrial labs. Many of our students continue on to graduate programs in a variety of biochemistry-related fields. A high percentage of our pre-professional students are successfully placed in professional programs such as medical, dental and pharmaceutical schools. For more information visit this page from the American Chemical Society webpage.

Programs and Degrees

Programs Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Biochemistry, students will:

- Possess knowledge of the fundamental physical, chemical and biological principles and laws governing nature and life itself.
- Perform essential laboratory techniques, and employ scientific principles and laboratory skills to solve scientific problems.
- Convey scientific ideas and knowledge clearly and professionally, in both written and oral forms.
- Analyze and evaluate relevant scientific literature.

Students Interested in Healthcare Professions

The Biochemistry and Biology programs offer excellent preparation for students interested in continuing their education at professional schools (medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, optometry, etc.). Students who are interested in becoming healthcare professionals should carefully study the requirements of their desired professional programs and meet with the academic advisor and the pre-healthcare faculty advisor (Dr. Lukov) early in their undergraduate career to prepare a proper course of study.

All students majoring in the Biochemistry program, regardless of emphasis, work towards a B.S. in Biochemistry. If a student chooses to complete the requirements for the Environmental Science or Neuroscience emphasis, they will be doing so as part of, not in addition to, the Biochemistry major requirements. The emphases are not separate majors. They have been created to give students the opportunity and flexibility to explore and expand their education in areas which are of interest to them and/or helpful for their future career or education.

Grade policy
All students majoring in Biochemistry are expected, and should strive, to achieve grades higher than C- in their major courses. The D grade is allowed as passing in all courses except in specified prerequisites (BIOI 112/L, CHEM 105/L, CHEM 106/L, CHEM 351/L, CHEM 481, PHYS 105/L and PHYS 121/L), where C- is the passing grade.

The Discipline

The Biology major provides a rigorous research-based education for students, with a basic foundation in the life sciences. Special emphasis is placed on providing opportunities for students to participate in meaningful research in areas such as anatomy, genetics, physiology, molecular biology, evolution, natural history, and marine biology. This major seeks to prepare students for professional careers in teaching, government service, industry, research, and the medical professions.

Career Opportunities

With further education, career opportunities for Biomedical Science graduates include medicine, dentistry, optometry, podiatry, chiropractic, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, physician assistant, and other allied health professions. General Biology majors can utilize their degree to obtain careers in areas such as wildlife management, forestry conservation, environmental quality consulting, technical work, and park services. Students interested in aquaria, ocean conservation, marine research, and fisheries can use Marine Biology to prepare them for entrance into these fields. The study of Molecular Biology major has particular value for students preparing for jobs in genetics, consulting, research, forensics, and bioinformatics. The Biology Education Program, a cooperative program with Teacher Education, is designed to prepare teachers to teach Biology in junior high or high school.

All Biology Major tracks provide opportunities for a variety of post-baccalaureate studies.

Programs and Degrees

• B.S. in Biology
  • Marine Biology
  • Molecular and Cell Biology
  • Ecology, Evolution and Conservation Biology
• B.S. in Biology Education
• Biology Minor
• Introduction to Conservation Biology Minor
• Introduction to Marine Biology Minor
• Introduction to Nutritional Science Minor
• Pre-professional Program (Administered jointly with the Biology Faculty)

Programs Outcomes

Upon completing a major in Biology, students will:
• Demonstrate content knowledge of the discipline.
• Perform essential laboratory techniques, and employ scientific principles and laboratory skills to solve scientific problems.
• Convey scientific ideas and knowledge, in written form, clearly and professionally.
• Analyze and evaluate relevant scientific literature.

Pre-Professional Program

The Biochemistry and Biology programs offer excellent preparation for students interested in continuing their education at professional schools (medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, optometry, etc.). Students who are interested in becoming health-care professionals should carefully study the requirements of their desired professional programs and meet with the academic advisor and the pre-healthcare faculty advisor (Dr. Lukov) early in their undergraduate career to prepare a proper course of study.

Biology Major Requirements

- All students majoring in Biology need to complete a minimum of 24 credits of 300-400 level courses.
- All students majoring in the Biology program, with or without an emphasis, work towards a B.S. in Biology. Students are not required to complete a specific emphasis in the major. However, those with special interests, who wish to select an emphasis may claim it by completing the emphasis requirements as part of, not in addition to, the Biology major requirements.
- For students who wish to pursue an advanced degree (MS, PhD, MD, DO, DDS, PA, PT etc.) we highly recommend the following courses:

Organic Chemistry, Physics and Genetics in addition to other Biology courses as required by the graduate program of interest.

Grade policy

All students majoring in Biology are expected to achieve a grade of C- or higher in their major courses. However, we will allow D grades as passing, if the number of credits from D grades is at or less than the allowed maximum (12 credits), as outlined by the BYU-Hawaii policy for graduation requirements.

Marine Biology Emphasis

The following courses must be completed within, not in addition to, the Biology major requirements

BIOL 212/L  Marine Biology/Lab (4)
BIOL 302/L  Vertebrate Zoology/Lab (4)
BIOL 303/L  Vertebrate Zoology/Lab (4)

- B.S. in Exercise Science Health and Human Performance Emphasis
- B.S. in Exercise Science Sports and Wellness Management Emphasis
- Exercise & Sports Science Education
- Exercise Science Coaching Minor
- Health and Human Performance Minor
- Sports & Wellness Management Minor

Program Outcomes

Upon completing the Exercise and Sport Science program, students will:

- Demonstrate skills and values necessary to implement professional knowledge in a variety of career settings.
- Demonstrate competency in a minimum of four motor skills.
- Demonstrate mastery of evaluation and prescription of exercise programs in selected age and/or health categories.
- Complete an approved project demonstrating research, teaching, and/or administering in a selected area of interest.
- Be admitted to graduate and professional programs and prepared for exams, applications, and the interview process.
- Demonstrate group motor skill teaching (Physical Education emphasis).

Program Descriptions

The program’s overall objective is to develop men and women of sound mind, body, and spirit who will have an influence upon society in developing healthy lifestyles of mental, emotional, spiritual, and physical wellness and being. In order to succeed in our mission, the Exercise and Sport Science program is committed to the following three major goals:

- Instill in each university student habits and attitudes that will promote a healthy lifestyle and positive self-image.
- Prepare Exercise and Sport Science majors who will:
  - Have a working knowledge of the vital importance of fitness and wellness and its impact upon society.
  - Be able to teach motor skills and their application within our culturally diverse environment.
  - Develop skills and values necessary for success professionally and personally.
  - Have an understanding of how the Principles and Philosophy of Exercise and Sport Science coincide and complement the Doctrine of the Restored Gospel of Jesus Christ.
- Assist faculty and staff on campus in developing and incorporating a lifestyle of personal health and wellness.

The Discipline
Psychology is the study of the human mind, emotions, and behavior. Psychologists observe and record the way humans and animals communicate and relate to each other and to their environments. They observe behavior, make predictions, and test hypotheses scientifically. Psychology seeks to answer important questions concerning human identity, feelings, and the reasons for behavior.

Career Opportunities
Many psychology majors go on to do graduate work in psychology and other fields. Others work in business, particularly in personnel work. Others engage in varieties of social service, teaching, and administration. Psychologists engage in a variety of academic roles as teachers, researchers, and administrators and also provide counseling, clinical, and consulting services to individuals and organizations. Psychologists are employed by colleges and universities, public and private schools, clinics, and hospitals. They work in private practice and for corporations and government entities. The study of psychology has particular value for family life and for civic and cultural roles generally. The psychology major provides a well-informed perspective on human and organizational behavior in preparation for occupations in law enforcement, law, or business.

Most professional positions require a master’s or doctoral degree, although a bachelor’s degree may be sufficient to gain employment in high school teaching, mental health care, detention and probation services, auxiliary social work, personnel, or human resources. Further, the psychology major gives students a particularly strong background leading to graduate study in business, law, or medicine.

Programs and Degrees
• B.S. in Psychology Clinical/Counseling Track
• B.S. in Psychology General/Experimental Track
• Psychology Minor
• Organizational Behavior Minor

Program Outcomes
Upon completing a major in Psychology, students will:
• Write effectively using the American Psychological Association Style.
• Communicate effectively in presentation situations.
• Demonstrate an understanding and awareness of differences among peoples.
• Use technology effective. Demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of psychological theories and principles.
• Understand and apply ethical principles, particularly those stressed by the “Ethical Principles of Psychologists.”
• Understand the process of moving from undergraduate to graduate programs and/or the marketplace.

Interdisciplinary Studies

Faculty

The Interdisciplinary Studies major program is overseen by the Deans Council with the Primary Area Dean as the point person.

Student applications are approved by the Dean over the primary discipline selected. Please see an academic advisor and faculty advisor to begin the process of developing an IDS major proposal.

The Discipline

The Interdisciplinary Studies major effectively allows the student to propose a customized, interdisciplinary program leading to a Bachelor’s degree. Students who wish to pursue an IDS major should plan to declare this major before reaching 75 credit hours. The program is designed to be flexible within certain limits. This is not a collection of courses that together have neither meaning nor focus.

Career Opportunities

The choice of this type of degree needs to be carefully considered in relation to what career opportunities it will provide. Because of its interdisciplinary nature, it may not lead to job or graduate school opportunities which require a rigorous, structured course load in a single subject. Please discuss this with your faculty advisor. The student has the opportunity to show how their proposal will meet this criterion in their proposal.

Programs and Degrees

B.A. or B.S. Interdisciplinary Studies, with the emphasis areas to be listed on the transcript

Recent interdisciplinary majors that have been approved include:

- Art/Communications
- Business/Communications
- Business/Technical Writing
- Communication/Tourism

- Sports Psychology
Program Outcomes

- Demonstrated competence in core learning, abilities and competencies.
- A demonstrated positive capability with diversity, civic responsibility, working with others, and to engage in lifelong learning.
- Demonstrated breadth in the areas of cultural and aesthetic, social and political, as well as scientific and technical knowledge expected of educated persons in this society.
- Communicate proficiently both orally and in writing in the English language.
- Effective uses of critical thinking skills to solve problems.
- Demonstrate proficiency in a variety of software useful in professional environments.
- Learn independently and understand the importance of continuous learning.
- Complete an integrated in-depth focused and sustained course of study of sufficient breadth and depth to prepare them for work, citizenship, and a fulfilling life.

Admission to Program

- The IDS Major Requirement Sheet.
- A proposed major academic plan (MAP).
- A proposal that explains the student’s goals and the rationale behind the proposed curriculum.
- An explanation of the proposed capstone experience.
- Signature of the Primary Emphasis Dean verifying that the proposed curriculum will meet the goals and needs of the student.
- A minimum of 15 semester hours in residence at BYU-Hawaii.

Major Requirements

Student completing a degree in Interdisciplinary Studies will complete:

- A minimum of 120 semester hours of earned credit, including all of the General Education and Religious Education requirements.
- A minimum of 15 semester hours in residence at BYU-Hawaii.
- The completion of a minimum of 27.0 credit hours in an academic area of primary emphasis.
- The completion of at least 15.0 credit hours in seconday discipline that supports the primary discipline.
- If using the 2017 GE program, the primary and secondary emphases can count as separate breadth areas, but they cannot replace the need for two additional curricular programs in addition to what is in the IDS major. Three of the emphases and/or minors must be in different breadth areas
- A cumulative GPA of at least 2.0.
- No more than 6.0 semester hours of “D” credits within the major. No “D” credits are allowed in the area of primary emphasis.
- A minimum of 24 upper-division credit hours, excluding GE. (300 or 400-level classes)
- The completion of a “capstone experience,” typically during the student’s final semester.

Capstone Experience

The capstone experience is taken for credit typically during the student’s final semester such as an independent study course (390R), internship (399R), or as student research (496R) depending on its nature. The capstone experience must meet the following criteria:

- It must be clearly relevant to the proposed curriculum and it must integrate the area of primary academic emphasis and the supporting area(s).
- It must approximate the academic rigor of a senior-level capstone course.
- It must be approved in advance by the Dean of the area of primary focus, and the report/results evaluated by that chair. Copy of the report to go to the Dean over the primary discipline.
- It must receive all necessary approvals before it is undertaken. No capstone experience will be approved “after the fact”.
- It must be fully described in a written proposal. The description should include the details of what will be done, how the experience will be evaluated including who will evaluate the experience (dean and site supervisor where appropriate).

Approval Process

- Download forms at: catalog.byuh.edu/sites/catalog.byuh.edu/files/WHAT%20IS%20AN%20IDS%20DEGREE.pdf
- Meet with your Faculty Advisor to select appropriate courses and plan the capstone experience.
- Meet with the academic advisor from your area of primary emphasis to create your M.A.P. and finalize your application.
- Submit your completed proposal and all required attachments to the Dean over the primary discipline for final approval. (Note: The final approval may take as long as one month. Submit your proposal early.)

General Education Options

Students pursuing the IDS major who opt for the 2017 General Education program will need two minors or certificates (short programs) in addition to their primary and secondary emphases. Of those four areas of emphasis (primary, secondary, SP1, SP2) three of them need to be in different breadth areas. The primary and secondary emphases can count as separate breadth areas, but they cannot replace the need for two additional curricular programs in addition to what is in the IDS major.

Financial Assistance

Interdisciplinary Studies is a recognized major, but does not belong to one particular program. Students who excel academically are encouraged to apply to the program of their primary emphasis for scholarship assistance. Please contact your primary emphasis program to learn more about their award process and applicable deadlines.

Students who graduate with an Interdisciplinary Studies major attend the graduation banquet of the program that signs their proposal.
Distance Learning

Due to changes within the Church Educational System, BYU-Hawaii is announcing that its Distance Learning Program will be replaced by BYU-Pathway Worldwide programs over the next couple of years. The Distance Learning program will reduce classes and offerings through the 2018 and 2019 academic calendars. Course offerings will be reduced as follows:

- Fall 2018 Semester: All non-EIL academic courses will no longer be offered to new students. Continuing students can enroll with on-campus students in online courses. Students will be referred to BYU-Pathway Worldwide for academic courses.
- Winter 2019 Semester: All non-EIL academic courses will no longer be offered. All students wishing to enroll in academic courses before attending BYU-Hawaii will be referred to BYU-Pathway Worldwide and BYU-Idaho Online.
- Fall 2019 Semester: All EIL courses will no longer be offered. This is the anticipated start semester of the EnglishConnect program offered through BYU-Pathway Worldwide. All students wishing to take English language and academic courses before attending BYU-Hawaii will be referred to BYU-Pathway Worldwide and BYU-Idaho Online.

BYU–Hawaii and around the world. Remote access to the libraries’ electronic resources is available to BYU–Hawaii students and faculty.

Library services are another important resource for students and faculty. Services include reference services, computerized search/research and bibliographic services, a special reserves service, circulation of print and non-print materials, interlibrary loan as well as personalized and customized library instruction.

Testing Center

Located in McKay Building, room 115, the BYU–Hawaii Testing Center operates to enhance the educational experience by allowing students to take course examinations outside the classroom in a quiet, user friendly environment.

BYU–Hawaii Testing Center Staff are members of the National College Testing Association (NCTA) and are certified to administer national tests. This includes LSAT, Praxis, Pearson VUE, and ACT-Residual exams. The Center is also a participating member in the Consortium of College Testing Centers (CCTC) and as such, administer a variety of exams, (both traditional as well as online), as a service to students and the community. In addition, foreign language challenge tests are given in collaboration with the Foreign Language Achievement Testing Services in Provo. The Testing Center also administers English and Math placement tests for new students. For further information, please call (808) 675-3536.
